Art History

2 times/week 45 min *

GRADE(S): 9–12

OPTIONALChildren's Book of Art

by DK ISBN/ASIN: 978-0744082760

→ RATIONALE: This is also a nice overview of global art history with some different pieces shown and discussed. It also has close-up sections explaining how to do things in art such as mixing colors or making a fresco, etc. This will be referenced throughout the course for different techniques and extra examples of genres. However, this will be a second resource and all topics will be taught in a way that students can see images online if they do not have the book on hand. This book was chosen due to its minuscule amount of nudity compared to other art books geared to teens.

Old Testament Today

by John H. Walton & Andrew E. Hill ISBN/ASIN: 978-0310498209

→ RATIONALE: It is so important for students to understand the context in which the Bible was written and what it meant to the original audience. However, it is also important to understand how the OT writings are relevant to us today. The authors do a wonderful job communicating all these ideas. Lesson plans will guide you in navigating this rich text.

NOTE: Students will use this book for several years as they read through the OT.

Mapping the World with Art

by Ellen Johnston McHenry ISBN/ASIN: 978-0982537701

→ RATIONALE: This book is a blend of history, geography, and art. The text is about the history of cartography, from the earliest maps that were drawn on clay by the people of Mesopotamia to the exploration of the "new world." This book also includes map drawing lessons that take students step by step through the process of drawing maps of all the countries mentioned in the text.

NOTE: We highly recommend purchasing the videos that guide students through the map drawings. The option linked includes a digital version of the book along with the video course, but you can also purchase the videos in DVD or USB format if you prefer a physical copy of the book. The Word Made Fresh

by Abram Van Engen ISBN/ASIN: 978-0802883605

→ RATIONALE: A new book which just came out this year, Van Engen lays out a beautiful relational approach to poetry which resonates deeply with Mason (one chapter is titled "Think of Poetry Like Friendship"). As he models a love for poetry and gives insights into how to enjoy, understand, and read poetry (or start on the journey!), students will continue growing their own delight.

NOTE: The first section of the book (the more practical part) is scheduled in the lesson plans, but we recommend the whole book – which concludes with a theological reflection on the value of poetry – as a resource for parents and teachers.

A Poem for Every Day of the Year

by Allie Esiri ISBN/ASIN: 978-1509860548

→ RATIONALE: While students enjoy more historical poetry in these grades, this delightful anthology adds variety and spice to their diets to make sure they don't forget to simply enjoy the sights and sounds of words and the curious ways poets can communicate silly and serious truths. Poems from across the centuries are featured and come with a short introductory note to whet students' appetites.
