About the Course

Reading about the lives of people and events from the time period in many different parts of the world gives students a sense of the growing interconnectedness of the world at this time. A Little Book for New Historians in the third term casts a vision for what it means to think Christianly and historically as a student of history. It raises important questions of complexity, nuance, perspective, empathy, and humility as students enter the HS years.

This topic is included in the following course(s): History: Grade 9 (U.S.), History: Grade 9 (Canada)

Placement & Combining Tips

All the books are appropriate for any HS student. If a HS student is new to the Alveary, especially consider assigning the third term book, A Little Book for New Historians, no matter their grade.

World History: Grade 9

How To Approach

Recap

- Take a second to recall what you read previously in the same book or topic.
- If the previous passage is difficult to remember, try looking back at any chapter/section headings or illustrations or reading the first paragraph to jog the memory.

Read

- Read the selection assigned OR read for the number of minutes allocated, leaving time for narration and mapwork. Use whichever guide (i.e., pages or minutes) works best for you. You want to read enough to be interesting, but not so much that you feel overwhelmed.
- If a book is challenging for you as a student, try stopping to narrate to yourself silently for a minute every now and then to make sure you are tracking. You might also want to read aloud to yourself. Or you might want to listen to an audiobook version of the text and read along with it.
- If a book is an easy read, enjoy the ride!
- Keep an eye out for quotes to put in your commonplace book or events or characters to put down in your Book of Centuries.

Narrate

- Process and integrate your reading by narrating either orally or in writing. Some lesson plans will give you a suggestion of how best to narrate.
- To keep yourself on track, you might want to set a timer, so you stop reading with enough time to narrate.

Connect

- After your narration, think about how what you read connects to other subjects, other books, and other things you've read, watched, or seen in the past or present.
- Share any ideas that are particularly interesting to you with your fellow classmates, teachers, parents, friends, or others. You might even want to do a bit more reading or research on something on your own time in the afternoon or evenings.

Teacher Note

These lessons are written directly to the student, but to assist them throughout the year, please read through this section and the lesson plans so you are familiar with the instructions and flow of the lessons. Accountability components are added to facilitate teacher/student discussion and growing independence.

Those educating at home might pick one or two history lessons to read aloud with their students to keep up the habit of oral narration and foster conversation and relationship, and then simply give students these lesson plans and the rest of the books and check in with them throughout the term for conversation, support, and accountability.

It is valuable for those in a classroom setting to also have a mix of lessons that students complete themselves silently and others read aloud and narrated together. Classroom settings lend themselves well to additional discussion and sharing at the end of lessons, after everyone has narrated either together or independently in writing.

Term 1

WEEK 1 30m World History: Grade 9 - Lesson 1

Materials: A Little Book for New Historians

→ INTRO

History is more than just a study of the "past." The purpose of our first term reading of the book A Little Book of New Historians is to help you engage with the importance of not just knowing dates and places, but also engaging with what Robert Tracy McKenzie calls "the flesh and blood on the other side of the evidence."

As you read through Dr. McKenzie's history book, be on the lookout for interesting quotes or ideas that stand out to you, and be sure to mark whatever pages you find interesting. These are places you can return to and copy down in your notebook.

→ READ, NARRATE, & WRITE

Ch.1 p.11-18

Narrate silently to yourself. If this is a new practice for you, start by quietly talking aloud to yourself about what you just read in the chapter.

- In one paragraph, share your previous expectations of history as a subject and what the reading has challenged or changed.

WEEK 2 30m World History: Grade 9 - Lesson 2

Materials: A Little Book for New Historians

→ INTRO

So why should we care about the past? Why is it important that we know these people, places, and ideas that have gone before us? I invite you to think about these two questions for a moment before diving into the reading.

→ READ, NARRATE, & WRITE

Ch.2

Narrate quietly to yourself.

- Respond to the following question in one paragraph: Why should we care about the past?

WEEK 3 30m World History: Grade 9 - Lesson 3

Materials: Video

→ INTRO

Take the time to listen to the interview with Dr. Robert Tracy McKenzie. While you are watching it, think of your own questions you may have for Dr. McKenzie.

→ LISTEN & NARRATE

Materials: A Little Book for New Historians

→ RECAP

What do you remember about your reading last time?

→ READ, NARRATE & WRITE

Ch.3

Narrate silently.

- The following quote is from this week's reading. Dr. McKenzie writes, "I'm going to say something that may surprise you to hear a history professor say, but I also hope you'll find it freeing: by themselves, historical facts are not just mind numbing. They're meaningless. Wrench a historical fact from its context and it instantly becomes insignificant." Respond to this idea in two paragraphs. What do you think he means?

Write down three questions you may have for a historian. Keep these questions in mind as you read through the rest of the book. If you do find an answer, you can make a note of it.

WEEK 8 30m World History: Grade 9 - Lesson 8

Materials: A Little Book for New Historians

→ INTRO

Have you ever read an autobiography? How about an article or another book based on that autobiography? If the answer is yes, then you have consumed both a primary source and a secondary source. The primary source is a first-hand experience, and the secondary source is a second-hand experience. There are many different kinds of primary and secondary sources out there. A primary source can be a letter, a poem, a picture, a song, or perhaps a journal. What kind of primary sources have you run into recently?

→ READ, NARRATE, & WRITE

Ch.6

Narrate silently.

- Respond to the following question in two paragraphs: Why are primary sources important? What do these sources offer historians?

WEEK 9 30m World History: Grade 9 - Lesson 9

Materials: A Little Book for New Historians

→ INTRO

Dr. McKenzie writes, "Primary sources are the medium for a conversation with the past instead of about the past." Think about this idea as you read through the chapter.

→ READ, NARRATE, & WRITE

Ch.7

Narrate silently.

- Respond to the following question in one paragraph: How should we respond to primary sources?

→ PONDER

What kind of primary sources will historians use in the future?

Term 2

WEEK 1 30m World History: Grade 9 - Lesson 13

Materials: Erebus

→ INTRO

What happens when nations find themselves with war vessels, but no wars? For 1800s Britain, the answer was to send its ships on exploration missions. The Erebus was just one of the ships that made the transition from military vessel to a vessel used for research and exploration. The captains and crew of the vessel changed over the many years it spent on the seas.

In Erebus, you will read a book about a legendary ship. However, there is another benefit to Michael Palin's book, which makes it a helpful read as well as an enjoyable one. Erebus does not just share the story of the ship itself, but of the world in which this ship sailed. As you read through Erebus, take note of the names being mentioned in each chapter.

I also invite you to adventure with the people on Erebus and on the HMS Terror. Pay attention to the letters and journals that are being mentioned and remember that these were real people who experienced a world very unlike our own. And yet, you'll also see a world that is very familiar too.

→ ANNOTATE

Erebus is a non-fiction book, which makes it a good candidate for annotation. While you are reading through the text, you may encounter an interesting point or main idea that you want to underline. You could put a question mark next to a statement you find unclear. You may place sticky notes on a page that you want to return to. Experiment with different ways to engage with the information in the book. Some students will record themselves reading or talking about the reading. Others may start a discussion with an acquaintance about the material. Try different ways and see what works and what doesn't work for you. You can discuss your findings with your teacher.

→ READ & NARRATE

Prologue-Ch.1 p.1-16

→ WRITE

Write two paragraphs about the world figures and the events that you've read about in chapter one of Erebus. Who has appeared in the chapter? Why are they important? What is the historical setting of the book?

WEEK 4 30m World History: Grade 9 - Lesson 16

Materials: Erebus

→ INTRO

Have you ever wondered what it was like to live on an exploration ship like the Erebus? This week's reading explores the lives of the many people who chose to embark on these voyages and how their lives looked day to day. As you read through the section, think about the many reasons that people chose to take up these positions and what it was like for them on a day-to-day basis. Was the legacy of exploration worth it?

Materials: Blood and Iron

→ INTRO

Two significant things happened in 1815. First was the Battle of Waterloo, where Napoleon was finally defeated. The second was the birth of a man named Otto Von Bismarck. Katja Hoyer writes, "His childhood, just like that of most Germans growing up at the time, was heavily coloured by stories of the struggle against the French." Otto Von Bismarck would become essential to the rise of the German Empire.

As you read through this account of Germany's history, make note of names and dates that seem important to you. Also, make note of any events that are happening alongside the events in Germany.

→ ANNOTATE

Blood and Iron is a non-fiction book, which makes it a good candidate for annotation.
