

Plutarch/Government

Canada

About the Course

Students study a life by Plutarch for two terms and spend the other term exploring the history and structure of Canada's constitutional monarchy.

This topic is included in the following course(s): Citizenship: Grade 9 (Canada)

Placement & Combining Tips

The book Canada's Constitutional Monarchy is intended to be read over two years (Grades 8 and 9). However, since this is the first year this book will be used in the curriculum, Grades 8 and 9 will have the same readings in 2026-2027.

If a student hasn't studied Canada's government yet, consider having them take the Grade 7 government course first.

How To Approach

Prepare

Teachers may find it helpful to pre-read all or part of the selection from Plutarch studied and choose which news sites to offer students.

If you, the student, are learning at home, work to schedule a time with your teacher when you can complete the lessons from Ourselves and Plutarch together, as these lessons are much richer when shared and discussed.

Recap

Connect back to the previous lesson. (Optional for Current Events).

Introduce

For news sources: Scan the headlines first to get an overview, and then choose a story to read.

For Citizenship books (optional): Use a picture, a map, or an engaging question to get yourselves interested in the lesson. If necessary, you may talk about one or two unfamiliar words that will be crucial to understanding. It is not necessary to cover all unfamiliar words.

Read

Read the selection assigned or the news story chosen. For rich, dense, or more challenging books such as Ourselves and Plutarch, it is a good idea to read them aloud. Have students keep an eye out for things to add to their Citizenship Notebook, Book of Centuries, and/or Commonplace book.

Narrate

Narrate orally or in writing.

Discuss

Share your thoughts on the story and any connections made. For current events, look up where events occurred on a map and ask questions together to discern the quality of the piece. (e.g., Are there sources cited? Is there an obvious bias? If so, what do other authors have to say on this subject? Are arguments supported by evidence? Is that evidence credible?) Consider reading an alternative perspective.

Citizenship Notebook

Record important ideas in your Citizenship Notebooks. Make a calendar of current events.

WEEK 1  30m Plutarch/Government: Grade 9 (Canada) - Lesson 13 The Prime Ministers Introduction and Sir John A. Macdonald  Materials: The Prime Ministers → INTRO Information → READ p.ix-xi "A small anecdote illustrates" - "is to know ourselves." p.1-12 "Sir John A. Macdonald" - "principal Father of Confederation." • Discussion Question Idea → NARRATE Narrate in a way that helps you interact with the ideas in the reading. For some, that might be narrating orally or silently to yourself, in writing, by drawing a map, a diagram or a picture, writing a diary/letter from the point of view of one of the historical figures, describing what happened, or writing a bulleted list of points and questions. For others, it might be helpful to make marks in the book as you read and then narrate as you look at what you marked in the chapter. Experiment and see what works well for you, and you can vary your approach week to week. Also, strive to make connections to ideas, events, and people you have come across in previous readings you have done. → PROMPT ∞ Image Link: Title of Image
