About the Course

This course includes the following topic(s): Plutarch: Grades 6-8, American Gov./ Economics: Grade 8, Ethics: Part 2, Current Events: Grades 5-8, Community Read Alouds: Grades 1-12

About Plutarch: Grades 6-8

Plutarch's Lives is a collection of biographies written 2,000 years ago, which has influenced prominent thinkers from Montaigne to Bacon to Shakespeare. Plutarch's stories are often difficult to read (and are therefore often dropped by teachers), but their value to help students evaluate the characteristics that define a good citizen cannot be overstated. The lesson plans will contain additional support to what is already included in the Anne White guides.

About Current Events: Grades 5-8

Students are exposed to current events by reading from a variety of sources and having age-appropriate conversations with teachers. Topics such as scientific discoveries, the arts, and human interest stories are generally suitable.

About American Gov./ Economics: Grade 8

Students spend a term learning the structure of our local and state governments, then turn to key primary source documents related to our government before ending the year with an introduction to economics, focusing on the history of money, the banking system, and personal finance.

About Community Read Alouds: Grades 1-12

This is meant to be a read-aloud for all ages to enjoy together in the afternoon at least 1 time a week. We encourage you to choose a book that is specific to your region. However, we will offer some suggestions in the Grades 1-3 Literature lessons and Grades 4+ Citizenship lessons. The suggested book titles will be available June 1st in the lesson plans.

About Ethics: Part 2

Students will explore characteristics shared by all Image-Bearers and learn how to guard against good servants becoming bad masters by continuing Charlotte Mason's text written directly to students.

Placement & Combining Tips

Plutarch: Grades 6-8

Students in 5th grade or new to Plutarch may want to take the Beginner's Track, which covers the life of Publicola over two terms. It is advisable to have students read Beesly's Stories From the History of Rome and complete one year of Shakespeare before beginning Plutarch.

American Gov./ Economics: Grade 8

If a student hasn't studied the Constitution, consider having them take the 7th-grade government course first.

Ethics: Part 2

Ourselves by Charlotte Mason is scheduled over five years. In a multi-age context, students can jump into the book wherever the class is reading. Otherwise, students should begin the book in Part 1.

Responsibility for previewing all links rests with the teacher. All links were checked at the time of publication; however, websites change frequently and may contain objectionable content. Please report broken links by contacting us through our website.

Citizenship: Grade 8 (U.S.)

☐ Make sure your student sets up a Citizenship Notebook. They will need a 3-ring binder, lined notebook paper, and 5 Tabbed Dividers. You can read more about how to set one up and suggestions for various sections in the document in Quick Links.

☐ As desired, plan for a read aloud time. Suggestions are provided in the Community Read Aloud Quick Link, but local favorites are highly recommended whenever possible.

☐ Make a Calendar of Events for Current Events lessons by drawing a calendar grid in a notebook (or print a blank calendar from the internet).

Plutarch: Grades 6-8

☐ Watch the video in Quick Links about teaching Plutarch.

American Gov./ Economics: Grade 8

☐ Save or print the Reading PDF. (See Quick Links)

How To Teach

Prepare

Plutarch: Teachers will find it helpful to preread the entire Life first, and then preread the day's passage before each lesson. Mark any passages that should be omitted due to content. (In Anne White's Plutarch Project books, the recommended source for this course, objectionable content has already been omitted.)

Current Events: Preview the news source for suitability.

Most other citizenship topics don't require additional prep.

Recap

Connect back to the previous lesson. (Optional for Current Events).

Introduce

For news sources, show students how to scan the headlines to get an overview first and then choose a story to read.

For Plutarch or other books: Use a picture, a map, or an engaging question to prepare students to receive the story as relevant. You may talk about one or two unfamiliar words that will be crucial to understanding. It is not necessary to cover all unfamiliar words.

Read

Read the selection assigned or the news story chosen. For rich, dense, or more challenging books such as Ourselves and Plutarch, it is a good idea to read them aloud. Have students keep an eye out for things to add to their Citizenship Notebook, Book of Centuries, and/or Commonplace book.

Narrate

Have the students narrate orally or in writing.

Discuss

Give students an opportunity to share their thoughts on the story and any connections made. For current events, look up where events occurred on a map and ask questions to help students discern the quality of the piece. (e.g., Are there sources cited? Is there an obvious bias? If so, what do other authors have to say on this subject? Are arguments supported by evidence? Is that evidence credible?) Consider reading an alternative perspective.

Citizenship Notebook

Have students record important ideas in their Citizenship Notebooks.

Term 1

WEEK 1 25m Ethics: Part 2 - Lesson 1

Materials: Ourselves: Book 1

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

Ch.VIII p.73-75 "The Desire of Society" - "get at it."

→ CITIZENSHIP NOTEBOOK

Choose a habit you would like to cultivate and tell a little about why. Draw a chart for keeping up with your new habit and check in daily.

• COMPOSITION - Journal

Tell of a time when your desire for society was met. How did that experience impact/affect you?

WEEK 1 30m American Gov./ Economics: Grade 8 - Lesson 1

Introduction to State & Local Government

Materials: Reading PDF

→ INTRO

This term, we will learn about state and local governments. While we will focus on state and local government, we will sometimes reference the federal government to compare and contrast the state and local powers with federal powers.

→ READ

∞ Link: Reading PDF
p.2-4

→ REFLECT

Narrate. Write a summary statement or draw a diagram describing the main ideas from this week's reading.

WEEK 1 30m Plutarch: Grades 6-8 - Lesson 1

Julius Caesar

Materials: The Plutarch Project Volume 3, Historical Atlas

PREP: We highly recommend reading a retelling so you can be familiar with the story. This is for your understanding and should not be read to the students.

∞ Link: Retelling of Caesar (from Our Young Folks' Plutarch)

- Read the introduction, review vocabulary, and preread the lesson.

→ INTRO

Have you ever heard of Julius Caesar? If so, what do you know about him?

→ VIEW

∞ Image Link: Julius Caesar Image
∞ Video Link: Julius Caesar Video

→ LOCATE

Map Resource: Historical Atlas p.14-15

1. Take 1-2 minutes to look over the map of the Roman Republic and the surrounding "world" in Caesar's time.
2. Find Rome in Italy.
3. Find the Aegean Sea between the province of Asia and Achaea. This is the coastline where the pirates operated.
4. Find Bithynia on the southern shore of the Black Sea, where Caesar went after his release.
5. These are the places where a teenager on the wrong side of Roman politics spent his first years away from home.

→ VIEW & PRACTICE

★ TEACHER TIP

∞ Link: Character Cards

To keep track of all of the characters in the story, it may be helpful for your student to keep a list or chart of some kind in their citizenship notebook. They could also sketch the characters and include facts about them. Or, you could use the linked character cards.

★ TEACHER NOTE

Watch this overview video to help with the Character Simulator

∞ Video Link: Character Simulator

• CHARACTERS

-Julius Caesar (JOOL-yus, SEE-zar): Roman statesman and general, held many high civic, military, and religious positions, and was a noted orator and writer.

-Sulla (SUH-luh): was made the Perpetual Dictator, but resigned after one year and was elected as a consul instead.

Term 1

Review the vocabulary section before each lesson to familiarize yourself with unfamiliar terms. It may be helpful for students to write definitions into the text, so they do not have to review terms mid-lesson.

→ READ & NARRATE

Lesson One: Parts One - Three p.9-12

- Once finished, ask, "What do you remember?" + "What else?" Keep narration to 2-3 minutes.

→ DISCUSS: CHARACTER SIMULATOR

In the introduction of Lesson One, we learn that "young Julius Caesar was on the wrong side. Most people in that position would have stayed hidden or at least tried to live quietly" (p.7). In a situation where staying silent means comfort and safety, what factors or beliefs might make a person decide that standing up is worth the risk?

→ WRITE (OPTIONAL CITIZENSHIP NOTEBOOK EXERCISE)

If you found yourself on the "wrong side" of a big decision at school or with your friends, and staying quiet was the only way to stay safe and comfortable, how would you decide which ideas are worth being "exiled" for and which ones are just you being stubborn?

-Cinna (SIN-uh): There are several Cinna in the story. This Cinna, Lucius Cornelius Cinna the Elder, is Caesar's first father-in-law and ally of Marius, Caesar's uncle.

-Marius (MARR-ee-us): involved in a Civil War against Sulla and was an ally of Cinna, the father-in-law of Caesar

-King Nicomedes (nih-kuh-MEE-deez): King of Bithynia 94-74 BC

-Marcus Juncus (MAHR-kuss, JUNG-kuss): governor of Asia in 75 BC

WEEK 2 30m American Gov./ Economics: Grade 8 - Lesson 2

Origins of Authority: Constitutions & Police Powers

Materials: Reading PDF

→ INTRO

States have two sources of authority that allow them to create and enforce laws: 1) constitutional powers and 2) police powers. These sources of authority are the basis for the laws and regulations that states pass, as well as the authority that states grant to smaller local governments, like cities and towns.

Materials: The Plutarch Project Volume 3, Historical Atlas

PREP: Read the introduction, review vocabulary, and preread the lesson.

→ RECAP

What did we learn so far about Caesar from the first reading?

→ LOCATE

Map Resource: Historical Atlas p.14-15

1. Find Hither Spain and Farther Spain on the western edge of the map. Both are already "Roman Pink."
2. Find the Alps. This is the route Caesar traveled when he passed through a tiny village and said, "For my part, I had rather be the chiefest man here, than the second person in Rome" (p.15, The Plutarch Project).

→ VIEW & PRACTICE

Review the vocabulary section before each lesson to familiarize yourself with unfamiliar terms. It may be helpful to write definitions into the text, so you do not have to review terms mid-lesson.

→ READ & NARRATE

Lesson Two: Parts One - Three p.14-17

- Once finished, ask, "What do you remember?" and "What else?" Keep narration to 2-3 minutes.

→ DISCUSS: CHARACTER SIMULATOR

You are a young officer who rode with Caesar when he passed through a tiny village in the Alps and said he would rather be the first man there than the second in Rome. What do you think about that comment?

→ WRITE (OPTIONAL CITIZENSHIP NOTEBOOK EXERCISE)

Explain how you might distinguish between a person who wants to do great things and a person who simply wants to be the greatest.

★ TEACHER NOTE

The map shows the world in 31 BC, shortly after Caesar's time. You will notice Italy is shaded pink; while it was the Roman Homeland and not a province, it is colored here to show it was under central Roman control.

While all of Gaul is pink on this map, remember that when Caesar began his command, only the southern tip belonged to Rome. His campaigns were what eventually brought the rest of that territory into the Empire.

• DEFINITIONS

Pontifex Maximus: There were numerous levels and types of priesthood in Rome and throughout the rest of Italy, and these positions carried political as well as spiritual authority.

• CHARACTERS

-Catulus (kuh-TUL-uhs): an avowed enemy to the Marian (Marius's) party

-Isauricus (eye-SAW-rih-kus): a consul and general who fought against the Cilician pirates

-Crassus (KRAS-us): Roman senator and a conspirator against Caesar

-Cato (KAY-toe): statesman who had many conflicts of opinion against Caesar

You are one of Caesar's soldiers who has watched him for days while he was ill and exhausted. Tonight he is sick again. What do you think about his choices while chronically ill (p.22)?

→ WRITE (OPTIONAL CITIZENSHIP NOTEBOOK EXERCISE)

Describe the different ways Caesar and his companions responded to the dish served by their host in Milan (p.23).

★ TEACHER NOTE

Germania was entirely outside Roman control.

- The Rhine was the line Caesar pushed against, even crossing it twice (in 55 BC and 53 BC) to build famous bridges and conduct show of force expeditions.

- Despite these incursions, Rome never successfully turned the main body of Germania into a permanent province, even in the centuries following Caesar.

• CULTURAL CONNECTION

Sweet Ointment: also translated "oil of perfume" or "myrrh." It appears that Valerius Leo hadn't just pulled out the wrong bottle of salad dressing, but rather that he was trying to show off his wealth. The reference to the host's want of breeding seems to confirm that.

• CHARACTERS

-Servilius Caepio (ser-VIL-ee-us, SEE-pee-oh): engaged to Caesar's daughter, Julia

-Piso (PEE-so): consul in 58 BC

-Clodius (KLOH-dee-us): interrupted a women's religious ritual and was the cause of Caesar's divorce from Pompeia

Term 1

You are one of Caesar's soldiers who ran to meet him when he returned to shore, and you are angry. Your general just risked his life sneaking across a war zone in a twelve-oar boat dressed as a slave, without telling anyone. What specifically bothers you about what he did, and what does your reaction say about what you believe a leader owes the people who follow him?

→ WRITE (OPTIONAL CITIZENSHIP NOTEBOOK EXERCISE)

Caesar's plan to aim at the faces of the young cavalymen worked because he thought carefully about who they actually were, not just what they were doing on the battlefield. Describe a conflict or disagreement you have had where understanding the other person's specific fears or weaknesses would have changed how you approached the situation.

1. Find Alexandria on its Mediterranean coast. This is where Caesar spent months managing a dangerous court, a burning library, a treacherous eunuch, and a queen smuggled in through a castle gate in a bundle. He nearly drowned here.
2. Move northeast into Syria, which Caesar passed through on his way to deal with the next problem before the Egyptian one was fully settled.
3. Find Pontus on the southern shore of the Black Sea. This is where Pharnaces had overrun Roman territory while Caesar was occupied in Alexandria. Caesar arrived, fought, and sent a three-word letter back to Rome. The whole thing was over before the letter arrived.

- Once finished, ask, "What do you remember?" and "What else?" Keep narration to 2-3 minutes.

→ DISCUSS: CHARACTER SIMULATOR

You are one of Pompey's soldiers who has just been taken prisoner and is now being folded into Caesar's legions. Yesterday, you were fighting against this man. Today, he is your general. What do you do with that, and what would you need to see from him before you trusted him (p.58-59)?

→ WRITE (OPTIONAL CITIZENSHIP NOTEBOOK EXERCISE): PICK 1

Caesar "daily saved the lives of some of his countrymen that bore arms against him" and considered this the greatest pleasure of his victory. Think of a conflict, whether between people, groups, or ideas, where the most meaningful thing a winner could do afterward was show restraint or generosity. What makes that kind of choice hard, and what makes it worth it (p.59)?

"Veni, Vidi, Vici" worked because it was short, precise, and matched the reality of what had actually happened. Think of a time when you had to report something, explain yourself, or sum up a complicated situation for someone else. What is lost when we say too much, and what is lost when we say too little (p.61)?

→ WRITE (OPTIONAL CITIZENSHIP NOTEBOOK EXERCISE)

Caesar put a man of the right family name at the head of his troops specifically to counter an oracle his enemies believed in. He may have been mocking it, or he may have been sincere; Plutarch says it is hard to tell. Think about a time when you did something that could have been interpreted two very different ways depending on who was watching. narration to 2-3 minutes.

→ DISCUSS: CHARACTER SIMULATOR: PICK 1

You are a senator who walked out when Caesar refused to stand up to greet you. You said nothing. You just left. What were you communicating, and do you think he understood it?

You are Caesar in the moment before you cover your face and give up. You have fought off the others. You are still standing. And then you see Brutus. Something finally stops all the fight in you. You have outrun everything your whole life. What is it that you are finally deciding to stop outrunning (p.78)?

→ WRITE (OPTIONAL CITIZENSHIP NOTEBOOK EXERCISE): PICK 1

You have served Caesar since his early campaigns. You have watched him win in Gaul, survive civil war, defeat Pompey, and return to Rome in triumph. He is now planning new campaigns as if none of it had happened. What does it feel like to follow a man who cannot stop? What do you think he is still looking for?

The crowd killed Cinna the poet because he had the same name as Cinna the conspirator. He tried to tell them who he was, and it made no difference. Think about a situation where a person was judged entirely by something they had no control over. What does that kind of mistake reveal about what happens to people's judgment when they are driven by grief or rage (p.80)?

A Young Nation: American Government from 1800 to 1900

Materials: Reading PDF Part 1

Welcome back to American Government! Last year, you learned about the formation of the American Government and the reasoning behind why the Constitution and Bill of Rights were drafted and negotiated as they were. • With any time that you have remaining, read your summary statements and skim any written narrations from the last two years of American Government. Your summary statements should cover the time periods from Rotation 1 (800-1650 AD) and Rotation 2 (1650-1800 AD).

→ REFLECT

Talk about the summary statements you have reviewed with your teacher or classmates. What did you remember? What had you forgotten? Did anything come to mind as you were reviewing that you had not thought about before?

★ TEACHER NOTE

One week is built in at the end of this term for "catch-up" reading, in case you miss a week or a reading takes you longer than your allotted time to complete. Please do not skip ahead if you have not completed the lesson from the week before – work through the weeks chronologically and use the catch-up week (Week 11) as necessary.

Optional Activity: Guide students in creating a bulleted list of keywords that they notice while reading their summary statements or during their discussion. Keywords can be words that were repeated frequently, or that stood out to the student for any particular reason (there is no "right" set of keywords). This activity is optional because it requires students to exercise a higher-level analysis and might not be a useful reflective tool for all students.

- Once finished, ask, "What do you remember?" and "What else?" Keep narration to 2-3 minutes.

→ DISCUSS: CHARACTER SIMULATOR: PICK 1

Agis is not yet twenty years old. He has grown up with wealth and comfort provided by his mother and grandmother, the richest women in Sparta. Plutarch says he "began to spurn against these womanish delights and pleasures" and chose the plain Spartan life instead. Nobody made him do this. What do you think happened inside him, and what does his choice tell you about what kind of person he was becoming (p.91)?

Agis's mother and grandmother were the richest women in Sparta and had the most to lose from his reforms. They opposed him at first. Then something changed, and they not only consented but became his most vocal supporters, willing to give up their own wealth for his cause. What do you think changed their minds? What does their behavior tell you about those women (p.96)?

→ WRITE (OPTIONAL CITIZENSHIP NOTEBOOK EXERCISE): PICK 1

Agis "openly boasted besides, that he would not desire to be king, but only for the hope he had to restore the ancient Laconian life by his authority" (p.91). What do you think he meant?

Agesilaus persuaded Agis to cancel the debts first and divide the land later, arguing that doing both at once might cause dangerous commotion. Then, Plutarch reveals his motives, "Agasilaus...having the best lands of any man in the country, and owing a great sum of money besides, would neither pay his debts, nor let go his land" (p.99). Think about the difference between counsel and manipulation. How do you learn to tell the difference when someone gives you advice?

The United States nearly doubled in size following the purchase of the Louisiana Territory from France. As new states began to petition Congress for entry to the country, the issue of slavery began to divide the nation. In 1820, Congress passed the Missouri Compromise, defining geographical boundaries that would determine whether slavery would be legal in new states. The Compromise would be followed by a series of legislative acts that together attempted to bind the new country together in the face of rapid land expansion and deep divides over slavery.

Western Expansion and the Compromise of 1850

Materials: Reading PDF Part 1

Although the Missouri Compromise remained in effect, the acquisition of the western territory from Texas to modern-day California following the Mexican-American War reignited the question of whether new states formed from this territory would be admitted as slave states or free states. In order to maintain a tentative balance of slave to free states across the nation, Congress passed the Compromise of 1850 after efforts to ban slavery entirely from the new territory failed.

While President Jackson and Congress worked to remove Tribes from the South by means of treaties and federal legislation, the Cherokee Nation sought to enforce its treaty rights before the Supreme Court. Over the course of two decisions within the span of the same number of years, the Supreme Court set precedent that would define the rights and status of Tribes into the modern day, and by extension, undermined the integrity of the federal government's treaty-making with these Tribes. Cleomenes disagrees, calling suicide a "cowardly" escape from the hard work of hope. Discuss both sides of the argument. Do you think one of these men is correct (p.145-146)?

→ WRITE

"King Ptolemy (#1), at his first coming, gave Cleomenes no special good, but indifferent entertainment. But when, upon trial, he found him a man of deep sense and great reason...conversation carried with it a noble and becoming grace...he was ashamed, and repented that he had neglected so great a man" (p.146-147). Is firsthand experience the only way to judge a person's character? Does our character only count when we communicate it well to others?

→ READ & NARRATE

Lesson Twelve: Parts One - Three p.149-153

• Once finished, ask, "What do you remember?" and "What else?" Keep narration to 2-3 minutes.

→ DISCUSS: CHARACTER SIMULATOR

You are one of the thirteen Spartans. Why would you choose to "die like a man" in a foreign street rather than surrender and try to live (p.152)? What did Cleomenes understand in this moment about the difference between giving someone liberty and that person being capable of being free? Can a person be given freedom if they are already commanded by their own love of ease and safety?

→ WRITE

Panteus was the last to die. Cleomenes had commanded him to check each fallen man and die last of all. He did exactly that: walked among his friends, tested each one, and then fell on Cleomenes and slew himself. Think about what it means to be given one last duty by someone you loved and to carry it out after they are already gone. What does faithfulness look like at the very end of everything?

★ TEACHER NOTE

This is the end of two lives; Agis's half of the story ended in Lesson Three. Now Cleomenes's ends here. Ask students to look back across both men before discussing: what did they share, where did they differ, and what does Plutarch seem to think each man's story teaches?

Map Resource: Historical Atlas p.14-15

1. Find Rome in Italy. The Tiber River flows through it, though it is not labeled on this map. This is where the victors threw Tiberius's body, denying him a burial.
2. Now find Sardinia, the island to the southwest. This is where Gaius was sent as Quaestor to keep him away from the political fires in Rome.

→ VIEW & PRACTICE

Review the vocabulary section before each lesson to familiarize yourself with unfamiliar terms. It may be helpful for students to write definitions into the text, so they do not have to review terms mid-lesson.

→ READ & NARRATE

Lesson Seven: Parts One - Two p.189-191

- Once finished, ask, "What do you remember?" and "What else?" Keep narration to 2-3 minutes.

→ DISCUSS: CHARACTER SIMULATOR

You are Gaius Gracchus. Your brother is dead, his friends were executed, and you have just had a dream where Tiberius tells you, "Brother, why dost thou prolong time...we were both predestined to one manner of life and death" (p.191). How do you feel about the dream?

→ WRITE (OPTIONAL CITIZENSHIP NOTEBOOK EXERCISE)

Plutarch says of Gaius that "some were of opinion that he was more popular, and desirous of the common people's good will and favour, than his brother had been before him" (p.191). Do you think it was a compliment?

-Orestes (oh-REST-eez): consul and then proconsul in Sardinia

You are one of the censors hearing Gaius defend himself. He tells you he "alone of all men else that had been in the wars, had carried his purse full, and brought it home empty: where others having drunk the wine which they carried thither in vessels, had afterwards brought them home full of gold and silver" (p.194). What do you think about his defense?

→ WRITE (OPTIONAL CITIZENSHIP NOTEBOOK EXERCISE)

Plutarch says that where all other orators turned toward the Senate, Gaius, "in contrary manner when he made his oration, turned him outwards towards the other side of the marketplace" (p.196-197). Plutarch calls it "a little turning." What do you think it meant?

→ DISCUSS: CHARACTER SIMULATOR - PICK 1

Plutarch wrote, "Gaius would not arm himself, but went out of his house in a long gown, as if he would have gone simply into the marketplace" (p.210). What do you think about his choices?

You are a guest at Cornelia's home in Misenum. She tells the story of her sons' deaths "without shedding a tear," as if she were telling a history of someone else. Some guests think she has lost her "reason and sense" from grief. Do you agree (p.215)?

→ WRITE (OPTIONAL CITIZENSHIP NOTEBOOK EXERCISE): PICK 1

Gaius' wife says, "Alas, what hope or trust is left us now, in laws or gods, since they have slain Tiberius" (p.211)? What kind of loss do you think she is describing?

The people eventually built statues of the Gracchi and "consecrated the places where they had been slain." Looking back at their lives, did the Gracchi brothers "win" or "lose" their battle for the Roman people (p.215)? Why?

Citizenship: Grade 8 (U.S.)

Examination

Term 1

Current Events: Grades 5-8

- Tell the story of one of the news events of this term.

Plutarch: Grades 6-8

- You have followed Caesar from his early campaigns through every battle, every crisis, every triumph, and into Rome at the end. You have watched him grab sailors, swim through fire, feed horses seaweed, pardon enemies, refuse bodyguards, and finally cover his face and stop when he saw Brutus. Looking at the whole of what you witnessed: what did this man actually want, and did he ever get it? OR
You are a Roman citizen who lived through all of it. Caesar was on the wrong side as a young man, nearly drowned escaping, nearly starved at Pharsalus, made himself dictator for life, died in the Senate chamber, and was declared a god three days later. The city burned. The men who killed him were hunted to their deaths. Now it is quiet. Was Rome better or worse for having had him? Why?

American Gov./ Economics: Grade 8

- Reading PDF: Describe your state government as it is created by your state constitution. Include 1) what the different branches are, 2) the powers that the different branches have, and 3) if your constitution had a preamble, what problems or goals the preamble tried to address. OR Describe the differences between the federal government, your state government, and your local government.

Ethics: Part 2

- Ourselves: Book I: Name some enemies of goodwill and show how they behave.

Term 2

Current Events: Grades 5-8

- Tell the story of one of the news events of this term.

Plutarch: Grades 6-8

- Tell me everything you remember about the lives of Agis and Cleomenes. OR You have watched Agesilaus, Agis's own uncle, embrace the reform publicly, help burn the debt bonds in the marketplace, laugh at the "brightest fire" he had ever seen, and then delay the land division once, and again, and again, until the moment was lost and Leonidas came back, and Agis was killed in prison. Agesilaus was not a tyrant. He was not an enemy of Sparta. He was a debtor who did not want to pay. What do you think about his behavior?

American Gov./ Economics: Grade 8

- Tell about the expansion of the United States into the southeast and the relocation of Tribal Nations. What actions did Congress, the President, and/or the Supreme Court take with regard to Removal? How did tribes respond to Removal efforts?

OR

Tell about southern secession and the actions that Congress took in response to the outbreak of the Civil War and as part of reconstruction following the Civil War. Bonus: How many branches of government became involved in the reconstruction work, and what role did those branches play?

Ethics: Part 2

- Ourselves: Book I: Name some false ideas that hold back generosity OR Show how egotism destroys sympathy.

Term 3

Current Events: Grades 5-8

- Tell the story of one of the news events of this term.

Plutarch: Grades 6-8

- Tell me everything you remember about the lives of the Gracchi. OR
You have followed the Gracchi from Cornelia's house through every assembly, every law, every riot, and into the silence after. You watched Tiberius weep before his father's statue on the last morning of his life, and keep walking. You watched Gaius pull his hand quietly from his wife's grip at the door and not look back. You watched Cornelia lose both sons and go on hosting dinner parties for learned men without shedding a tear. What do you think about their behavior? Is there a right way to face grief, loss, and fear?

American Gov./ Economics: Grade 8

- Dollars & Sense: Tell what you know about the formation of the national banking system OR Tell what you know about the services banks offer.

Ethics: Part 2

- Ourselves: Book I: Show what loyalty to our country means.
