

Geography

U.S.

About the Course

Students read about the story of cartography from ancient Mesopotamia up through the discovery of Antarctica in the late 1800s and draw maps along the way. The course finishes with a term of historical geography where students follow the steps of travelers from the 19th century.

Placement & Combining Tips

The first two terms are the same every year and shared between both US and Canadian courses. Term 3 changes for each historical time period.

How To Teach

	Overview The steps below are generally true for most geography lessons. Sometimes several lessons might build together or focus on a particular area (like Map Work).
	Introduce Through questions, observations, an activity, or recalling the last lesson, introduce the topic for the day.
	Map Questions Answer questions on the map or on making your own maps.
	Read Read the day's passage out loud or have the student read independently.
	Narrate Have students retell the passage either orally or in writing. They may want to use maps or pictures to tell back.
	Map Work The lesson may contain more map work as students make their own maps or add to ongoing maps.

Term 1

WEEK 1 30m Geography: Grade 7 (U.S.) - Lesson 1

Materials: Mapping the World with Art, notebook

NOTE: Ideally, you should have a notebook that is at least 8 × 10 inches, so you have room to draw your own maps and also glue in maps that are printed off.

→ INTRO

This year, we are learning about mapmaking and global exploration. You will be learning to draw your own maps as well. You may want to first practice outlining the map on a whiteboard or another piece of paper before putting it in your notebook. As time permits on drawing days, you are encouraged to use watercolors or colored pencils to fill in your outlines (see the link for examples done by students). Your Geography notebook will be used on both days of the week. Make sure you label each entry with the date or lesson number. There will be days when you will be prompted to follow the instructions for an activity in the Activity Section of your Mapping the World with Art book.

→ READ

Reading 1: The Very Earliest Maps

→ NARRATE & NOTEBOOK

1. Narrate orally what you remember about the reading.
2. Then, in your notebook, include some kind of narration. You can look back at the text as needed. You can write a short paragraph, write bullet points, or draw a concept map or pictures with captions. You can be as creative as you like. We provided examples of other students' work. Typically, each two-page spread in your notebook will have a narration on one side and your map drawings on the other. There may be weeks in which you will have two drawings per two-page spread (especially in Term 3).

WEEK 6 30m Geography: Grade 7 (U.S.) - Lesson 35

Materials: Local Geography, notebook

Local Map

PREP: This lesson requires that you take a look at a local map of your area. There are some city or town websites that might have online versions of maps for you to view. However, if it is not easily found, Google Maps is an alternative source to use.

→ MAP QUESTIONS

Map Resource: Local Map (suggest you use Google Maps)

1. Locate your street. (A parent will probably need to help.) Do you live within the city limits? Mark your street on the map.
2. Do you have a downtown or city center? If so, in what direction would you travel from your home to get there? Locate your local seat of government—city hall, town hall, or municipal building. Do you live north, south, east, or west of it?
3. How are the streets laid out in your city? Is any portion of your city laid out in a grid? (Older areas may utilize the grid. Newer sections may utilize cul-de-sacs. Other patterns like loop roads and diagonals may be used.) If so, what direction do the streets run? (north-south, east-west, etc.)
4. What are the streets named in this area? Do you see any “streets,” “avenues,” or “lanes”? What other street types (e.g., way, court, parkway) can you find? Is there a pattern for when these names are used (such as cul-de-sacs being “courts”)?
5. Locate your local police department, fire station, and hospital. How would you travel there from your home? Do you have more than one police station, fire station, or hospital? If so, mark where they are all located. Are they close to each other or far apart? What do you notice about how they are spaced?
6. Look for familiar places (grocery stores you go to, places of worship, friends' homes, etc.). How would you travel there from your home? Choose one of the familiar places you found and find at least 2 different routes to travel there from your home. Which one do you think is faster? Mark the familiar places on your map.
7. Locate any parks or outdoor areas in your city. Mark them on your map. What direction would you travel to get there? Are there any within walking distance from your home?

Scale Outdoor Map

Materials: notebook, paper or poster board (large enough for your outdoor space to be represented as 1 inch=10 feet), paper, scissors, ruler, tape measure, pencil, and tape or glue

PREP: Choose an outdoor space to draw a scale map of. The space could be a portion of a playground, garden, etc. It needs to have objects in it (play structure, benches, pond, etc.) that can be measured and added to the map. Don't make the space so big that it cannot be measured fairly easily with a tape measure.

Term 2

→ MAP WORK (SCALE MAP OF OUTDOOR SPACE)

1. Today, we will begin work on a scale map of an outdoor space.
2. Using a tape measure, measure the length and width of your outdoor space. Write it down in your geography notebook.
3. Next, measure the main features in the space and make a list of them with their measurements. (things like benches, tables, pavilions, play equipment, etc.)
4. Keep your list in the geography notebook, and next week, we will convert it to a smaller scale.

WEEK 8 30m Geography: Grade 7 (U.S.) - Lesson 40

Scale Outdoor Map Continue

PREP: Choose an outdoor space to draw a scale map of. The space could be a portion of a playground, garden, etc. It needs to have objects in it (play structure, benches, pond, etc.) that can be measured and added to the map. Don't make the space so big that it cannot be measured fairly easily with a tape measure.

1. Get your measurements from your geography notebook and determine if the scale of 1 inch=10 feet will work for your map. (If it will not fit on your paper or poster board, you will need to adjust the scale.)
2. Draw the outline of your determined space onto the paper/poster, making sure to note the scale on a map key.
3. Using your dimensions from last week, make notes in your journal about what size they will be drawn using the scale you determined.
4. Draw the features onto blank paper, which will be cut out next week. (This will make it easier to place them in the correct positions later.)

John Audubon: Beloved Boy

Materials: This Strange Wilderness, United States Atlas, World Atlas (optional), notebook, blank 1850s U.S. map, scissors, tape or glue

PREP: In your notebook, you should set aside the last 5 pages for this term's day 1 assignments. Label the section "Audubon's Wilderness Travels." You will also need a blank 1850s United States map to mark the places mentioned in your readings.

→ INTRODUCTION

1. In this term, we will follow the life of the naturalist John James Audubon as he explores the wilderness of America during the late 1800s, a time when the new frontier still had much to learn about the land's wildlife.
2. You may want to review vocabulary as needed.

WEEK 9 📅 30m Geography: Grade 7 (U.S.) - Lesson 66

Final Project: Create a World Map

📄 Materials: Mapping the World with Art, materials will vary depending on which option you choose. Check p.36 in your book for the various possibilities.

PREP: Parents, this should be a final project that requires at least 4 lessons to complete (including this lesson). Make sure to read through the instructions before beginning. Once you and your student have decided which option they will work on, begin to gather the materials needed. Have a designated space where they can safely put their final project away until it is time to work on it again. Maps are not perfect; have the student plan out their project in quadrants to ease the process. Ideally, they should be working from memory as best they can. The book recommends that you help them include a few reference points before they begin, such as longitude and/or latitude lines like the Equator, Prime Meridian, or Tropics of Cancer and Capricorn, to name a few. (Light lines for these points; they are mere references for their map drawings.)

→ MAPPING ACTIVITY

Activity Section: p.135 Final Project: Creating a World Map

Create a World Map following the instructions in your book, starting on p.135. Take four weeks to complete, working on one quadrant each week. Have fun!
