Ancient History: Grades 5-6

How To Teach

Prepare

- Read through the lesson and gather any materials or find any necessary links.
- If you have not already read the book, you may want to read the selected pages in advance.

Recap

- Connect to previous lessons by asking students to recall where they left off.
- If students have difficulty recalling, teachers might try showing them a picture from the reading, sharing something the teacher remembers, or prompting them with the first sentence of the last reading. This will often refresh their memory enough to allow them to recall.
- If students still cannot recall anything from the last reading, teachers might consider continuing anyway (with a shorter reading this time) or repeating the previous lesson, depending on the reading and the nature of the book.

Introduce

- Use a picture, map, or engaging question to pique the student's interest in the day's lesson.
- If necessary, you may talk about one or two unfamiliar words that will be crucial to understanding.

Read

- Read the day's passage out loud. When reading to pre-readers, point to the words as you read, even if it seems like they aren't paying attention.
- Move at the student's pace for the lesson time rather than a particular number of pages. It is vitally important that teachers not try to 'force feed' a student more than they can consume in one sitting.
- Students who have a difficult time sitting still or listening may benefit from a fidget of their choice, such as a piece of putty or clay or an afghan; flexible positioning, such as a wobble seat or inverted sitting; or sensory modulation, such as a weighted vest or blanket or adjustment of light, temperature, or sound.

Narrate

- Have students retell the passage orally.
- Alternatively, learners may use words, pictures, Legos, dolls, etc., to process and convey ideas in the manner most natural to them.
- Teachers may take turns to model.
- Narration is a complex skill requiring the coordination of several parts of the brain. If a student struggles to narrate in general, with a specific subject or book, or on one day but not others, then this is an opportunity to learn. Observe when they struggle with this or any other activity today. Notice facial expressions and body language; listen to what they say about why it is hard or how they feel about it. Take note of these observations for later, tell them that you see how hard they are working, and then offer whatever support they need to end on a positive note. If necessary, take a break for the day.

Discuss

- Give the student an opportunity to share thoughts on the lesson and any connections made.
- To stimulate discussion, you could ask them what they thought about the passage or ask an open-ended question.

Term 1

WEEK 1 25m Ancient History: Grades 5-6 - Lesson 1

Materials: Bronze Bow, The Student Bible Atlas

→ INTRO

The Bronze Bow, winner of the 1962 Newbery Medal, is set in Galilee during the time of Jesus's ministry (approximately 28–33 AD). Galilee had been occupied by Rome for almost 100 years when the story takes place, and the people longed for freedom from Roman oppression. As we read the story, we'll explore both the Galilee region and the culture of Rome during this time period.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

Ch.1

- Why do you think Daniel trusts Joel and Malthace so quickly?
- What would you miss most if you had to leave your home?

→ MAPWORK

Map Resource: The Student Bible Atlas

- Find the area of Galilee on p.23 or use the Map of Galilee link provided. Notice that Galilee was an area near the Sea of Galilee, not the name of a city. (The name Galilee-Hebrew word galil, which translates to "district," "circle," or "region".)
- Now locate the Sea of Galilee and the town of Capernaum. The twins were moving to this town.
- Much of the story takes place in the village of Ketzah, but this is a fictitious town. In the book, it is said to be on the northern shore of the Sea of Galilee, three miles from Capernaum. Can you estimate where this would have been located on your map?

WEEK 2 25m Ancient History: Grades 5-6 - Lesson 2

Materials: Bronze Bow

→ RECAP

What do you remember about Daniel and his conversation with the twin brother and sister (Joel and Malthace)?

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

Ch.2

- How does Samson's condition show the harshness of the ancient world?
- What early signs do we see about Rosh's character and leadership?

→ BACKGROUND

This chapter includes a man who is a slave. Under Roman law, enslaved people had no rights and were regarded as the property of their masters. They could be bought, sold, and mistreated at will. They were unable to own property, enter into a contract, or legally marry.

chapter. The Sabbath would have been observed from Friday night to Saturday night. Sabbath comes from the Hebrew word Shabbat, which literally translates to "to rest" or "to cease".

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

Ch.3

- Why do you think Simon says that he and Rosh "work for the same end, but we don't exactly see eye to eye."
- Why is Daniel reluctant to visit his grandmother and sister? How does he feel once he is there?

→ BACKGROUND

Daniel had run away from Amalek, a cruel blacksmith, where he was a bonded servant. A bonded servant worked for a master, usually to learn a trade or to pay off debt, for a set number of years. Although biblical law mandated protections for indentured Hebrew servants, Amalek treated Daniel cruelly. Unable to endure the abuse, Daniel broke his bond and fled into the mountains, making him a runaway and a fugitive from justice.

Daniel's grandmother mentions a "pauper's share" of grain in this chapter. This ancient practice was called gleaning. Landowners were to leave the edges of their fields unharvested so that the poor and widows could gather the grain to feed themselves. This wasn't easy - it took a lot of work to gather the grain, separate it, grind it, and turn it into coarse flour to make bread! Do you remember any Bible stories that mention gleaning?
