About the Course

This course includes the following topic(s): General Lit.: Grades 11-12, History of Lit: Grades 9-12, Plays: Grades 9-12, Poetry Reading: Grades 9-12

About Plays: Grades 9-12

Students read Shakespeare's plays with additional optional readings and extra helpings from the time period.

About Poetry Reading: Grades 9-12

In addition to reading a variety of poems from 19th century authors, students read biographies of two famous 19th century poets and dive into Virgil's Aeneid.

About General Lit.: Grades 11-12

Journey into the 19th century via novels, short stories, personal narratives, fairy tales, and more. Students engage with a variety of authors and texts from and about the time period and reflect on literary techniques and the characteristics of multiple genres along the way.

About History of Lit: Grades 9-12

Using Marshall's and Long's spines along with a variety of primary sources and additional readings, the History of Literature course introduces students to literary movements and figures in the 19th century. The course prioritizes influential texts in the English-speaking world but also seeks to give students glimpses of literary developments across the globe.

Plays: Grades 9-12

William Shakespeare (1564-1616) is perhaps the greatest writer in the English language. Reading and speaking his beautiful words will delight students as they learn his timeless stories, meet a variety of characters, enrich their minds, and instruct their consciences. Students will begin by simply enjoying the plays and later by writing short compositions, comparisons, and commonplace entries. Shakespeare covers the wide panorama of human experience through his nearly 40 plays; the comedies, tragedies, and histories that students read will spark their imaginations with stories that transcend time and culture.

Placement & Combining Tips

Literature: Grade 12

Some books shared with other High School grades. Literature, history, and geography lessons work in sync in Grades 9-12, so it is best to consider all three together when placing students.

Plays: Grades 9-12

This year, this course is the same as Shakespeare for Grades 5-8 with the only difference coming in Extra Helpings and additional options for further study.

Poetry Reading: Grades 9-12

Students new or struggling in their relationship with poetry should use Grade 8 lessons.

General Lit.: Grades 11-12

Some books shared with other high school grades. Literature, history, and geography lessons work in sync in Grades 9-12, so it is best to consider all three together when placing students.

History of Lit: Grades 9-12

Lessons are shared across high school grades with grade-specific assignments in the lesson plans as appropriate.

Plays: Grades 9-12

- ☐ You may want to read "Shakespeare and a Christian Worldview," which is Ch.9 in the book Echoes of Eden – Reflections on Christianity, Literature, and the Arts by Jerram Barrs. This is an excellent overview of why Shakespeare is important for everyone to know, including Christians.
- ☐ If your students are new to Shakespeare, read the tips for beginners (Found in Appendix link)
- ☐ You may want to read a retelling beforehand so you are familiar with the play. (Suggestions found in Extra Helpings)
- ☐ Read the discussion questions and skim the summaries of each scene each week before the reading to help guide emphasis and discussion with your students.
- ☐ Consider purchasing puppets to use while reading to keep track of all the characters.

NOTE on VERSIONS

Students should have an unabridged copy that is not in a modern language edition, such as the ones linked in the program. The language complexity gets easier to understand with practice. (Note: Shakespeare's work does often contain bawdy jokes or off-color content that will go over the heads of students if left in its original form; a modern language version will lay it all right out there in plain, modern English.) We like the Folger editions because they are inexpensive, the lines are numbered (making it easy to find your place), and they contain good notes. These are available on the Folger website as free PDFs as well, though the notes are omitted.

NOTE on CONTENT

Teachers are sometimes wary of reading Shakespeare with their students because the plays do contain material that they would deem inappropriate. The Alveary generally follows Mason's programs for younger students. That does not mean, however, that your student will never encounter anything unsavory. Our best advice is to read in such a way that these things are moved over quickly, without added attention being drawn to them. Mason assures us that Shakespeare provides students with rich language and character lessons that are unparalleled.

General Lit.: Grades 11-12

☐ Jane Eyre (Term 2: Option 1) This novel touches on difficult themes, including a child in an unhappy home situation, loss, a romantic relationship with a significant secret, mental illness, and questions of faith and duty. Teachers may wish to preview these elements before assigning.

☐ James (Term 2: Option 2) This novel is recommended for mature students, as it includes strong language, racial slurs and stereotypes, and graphic scenes of violence and abuse, mainly directed towards the enslaved characters in the novel. These scenes intensify toward the end of the novel. Pre-reading or familiarizing yourself with the content to determine suitability for your student(s) is encouraged. Frankenstein or Silas Marner from General Lit.: Grades 9-10 are also possible alternatives.

History of Lit: Grades 9-12

☐ Print off the History of Literature PDF, as students will need to annotate and mark up various sections throughout the year.

☐ Although sources were condensed into one PDF when possible, there are still quite a few outside links due to the number of primary sources referenced, so make sure your student(s) has/have access to the internet for their course.

Literature: Grade 12

How To Approach

Read

The lesson plans will guide you through what to read over the terms. Take a moment before reading to remember where you left off last time.

Narrate

The lesson plans will give you specific instructions or tell you to choose a way to narrate that helps you interact with the ideas.

Discuss

The lesson plans will guide you with questions or instructions to share your ideas or what you are reading with others.

Teacher Note

These lessons are written directly to students, but to assist them throughout the year, please read through this section and the lesson plans so you are familiar with the instructions and flow of the lessons. Accountability components are occasionally added to facilitate teacher/student discussion and growing independence.

It is also valuable for those in a classroom setting to have a mix of lessons that students complete themselves silently and others read aloud and narrate together. Literature lessons lend themselves well to a larger discussion time at the end of the lesson where student can share their ideas.

Term 1

WEEK 1 30m History of Lit: Grades 9-12 - Lesson 1

Introduction - Romanticism

Materials: History of Lit PDF

→ INTRO

What authors and books come to mind when you think about literature in 19th century? You may be familiar with terms such as the "Romantic period" or "Victorian period." Tell or jot down anything that comes to mind.

Over the year we'll learn about the lives and writings of people who wrote from about 1800-1900 AD. These individuals wrote in a wide array of genres: poetry, essays, short stories, plays, science fiction, mysteries, thrillers, children's stories, and more. When possible, the readings scheduled in History of Lit will align with what you are reading in your Poetry and General Literature courses.

We'll focus on authors who wrote in English but will also spend some time getting a taste for influential texts written in other languages as well. Every culture has significant texts and stories, so while we're limited in this course to English texts and texts translated into English, it's important to remember there is a world of books and literary traditions from cultures around the world which we don't have the time or often the language to read in this course!

English writings from the end of the 18th century into the first half of the 19th century are sometimes grouped together as part of the "Romantic Period." As with any generalization, this is a label scholars have put on the time frame as they look back, not something authors were so much thinking about consciously as they wrote, although as we will see, writers and poets from this period were often aware that their style of writing was something new.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

- What are some of the themes to look out for when you read literature from the Romantic Period? How did Romantic writers break with the traditions of Classicism? Do you recognize any ideas about poets and poetry in this reading that are still current today? How would you say our time is different or similar? What "rules" define literature written in English today?

WEEK 1 15m Poetry Reading: Grades 9-12 - Lesson 1

Transition from Classicism to Romanticism

→ INTRO

Towards the end of the eighteenth century, writers were beginning to break from the rules of Classicism and experiment with poetic subject matter and form that, in retrospect, seem more aligned with the themes of Romanticism. Today, you will read a few works by three poets who bridge these two time periods: Thomas Gray, William Cowper, and Robert Burns.

→ READ & DISCUSS

∞ Link: Elegy Written in a Country Churchyard

- What is the setting of the poem, and how does Gray use this setting to create a mood or tone for the poem? What do you think the poet is saying about death and memory?

∞ Link: The Shrubbery

- How does the speaker show that there is a disconnect between how he feels and where he is? What is his relationship to the nature he sees around him?

Term 1

∞ Link: To a Mouse

- If the language seems hard, try reading it out loud.
- This poem ends with a turn. Why does the speaker see the mouse as "blest, compar'd wi' me!"?

WEEK 1 30m General Lit.: Grades 11-12 - Lesson 1

Materials: The Count of Monte Cristo

→ INTRO

Alexandre Dumas's The Count of Monte Cristo is a well-loved story of betrayal, revenge, and redemption. It was originally written as a serial, so as you read, imagine the experience of the first readers who were continuously given cliff hangers and had to wait for the next installment of the plot!

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

Plan to read for about 20 minutes each week and leave 10 minutes for narration and discussion. The edition chosen for this course is the abridged version, but it is still too long to cover in two terms just by reading during lesson time. Feel free to read more of the book in your free time. Or just read 20 minutes each week, and if you are interested, you can finish the book after the end of the term.

- There are a lot of characters in this novel! Begin a character list today, and jot down a few details. What kind of man is Edmond Dantès at the opening of the novel?

WEEK 1 15m Poetry Reading: Grades 9-12 - Lesson 2

William Wordsworth

→ INTRO

We will learn more about William Wordsworth (1770-1850) in the History of Literature lesson next week, but today's reading should give you a feel for his style and major themes. As you read, compare Wordsworth's poem to the selections you read last time. "Tintern Abbey" is written in blank verse (unrhymed iambic pentameter, or ten syllables per line). What other poets have you read who use blank verse? How is this different than Gray's "Elegy" you read last week, which had a very rigid structure?

→ READ

∞ Link: Lines Composed a Few Miles above Tintern Abbey, On Revisiting the Banks of the Wye during a Tour. July 13, 1798

- What are some images that especially stand out to you? What is Wordsworth saying about nature?
- What do you think he means when he says in lines 64-67: "here I stand, not only with the sense / Of present pleasure, but with pleasing thoughts / That in this moment there is life and food / For future years."?

→ VIEW

Look at this painting of Tintern Abbey, painted in 1804 by English landscape painter William Havell (1782-1857).

∞ Art Link: Tintern Abbey

WEEK 1 30m General Lit.: Grades 11-12 - Lesson 2

Materials: Narrative of the Life of Frederick Douglass or Up From Slavery

→ INTRO (OPTION 1: NARRATIVE OF THE LIFE OF FREDERICK DOUGLASS)

★ TEACHER NOTE

Sensitive content: Douglass's Narrative contains several graphic descriptions of beatings and racial slurs.

Term 1

Narrative of the Life of Frederick Douglass is a classic 19th-century autobiography that details the author's story from slavery to freedom. Douglass was born enslaved in Maryland in 1818 and escaped to freedom when he was around twenty years old. He went on to have a remarkable life as a national leader of the abolitionist movement, writer, orator, and statesman.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.1-7 "I was born in Tuckahoe" - "a good overseer."

- What do we learn about Frederick Douglass's family in this opening reading?
- What initial impressions do you have of his narrative style? How might this be connected to his aims for this autobiography? Consider in particular how he describes the more difficult and violent episodes from his childhood.

→ INTRO (OPTION 2: UP FROM SLAVERY)

Today, we begin reading the autobiography of Booker T. Washington. It was first written as a periodical, but was later put into book form. Washington was born a slave, but was still a child when emancipation occurred. He later founded Tuskegee Institute in Alabama and spent his life advancing the cause of equal rights. His writings give a window into the Reconstruction period that followed the American Civil War.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

Ch.I p.1-11 "I was born" - "owners as to the future."

- How does Washington describe his childhood? How does he describe the day of emancipation?

WEEK 1 30m Plays: Grades 9-12 - Lesson 1

Materials: The Tempest

PREP: Read an overview of the play (one synopsis is located at the beginning of the Folger edition of the play). If you are not familiar with the play, you will want to read other retellings. We highly suggest Stories from Shakespeare by Marchette Chute. Resources are listed on the Extra Helpings Page. Also, be sure to read the note about mature content and language in Shakespeare in the Planning and Prep section.

→ INTRO

- What makes a tragedy a tragedy or a comedy a comedy?
 - Our play this term is sometimes called a tragicomedy because it has both comedic and tragic elements. Overall, the play has a happy ending, which places it in the comedic category. The name of the play 'Tempest' means "a violent storm," and it will give us lots of things to ponder about power, betrayal, magic, slavery, and the restoration of relationships.
 - Take time to review the elements of tragedy and comedy before beginning.
- ∞ Link: Genres of Shakespeare

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

Act 1: Scene 1-2 p.7-25 "Boatswain!" - "Approach, my Ariel. Come."

- How does each character respond to the storm? What is the tone of this scene?
- Re-read lines 84-95. Discuss the context this gives for the story.
- Put the following quote from Miranda into your own words. What does it

★ TEACHER TIP

Take turns reading the play aloud if using these lessons in a group. We recommend reading the summaries of each scene to briefly preview content and help orient students.

Term 1

tell us about what Miranda is like?

"A brave vessel,
Who had, no doubt, some noble creature in her,
Dashed all to pieces. O, the cry did knock
Against my very heart! Poor souls, they perished.
Had I been any god of power, I would
Have sunk the sea within the earth or ere
It should the good ship so have swallowed, and
The fraughting souls within her."

WEEK 2 30m History of Lit: Grades 9-12 - Lesson 2 William Wordsworth and Samuel Taylor Coleridge

Materials: English Literature for Boys & Girls

→ RECAP

What do you recall about the major themes of the Romantic Period from last week's reading?

→ INTRO

Today, we will learn more about the life and work of two poets - William Wordsworth and Samuel Taylor Coleridge, who are most closely associated with English Romantic poetry.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

1. Marshall, Ch.LXXIV "Wordsworth - the Poet of Nature."
 - How did Wordsworth's experiences as a child seem to influence his later poetry?
2. Marshall, Ch.LXXV "Wordsworth and Coleridge - the Lake Poets."
 - What are some similarities and differences between the two poets?

WEEK 2 15m Poetry Reading: Grades 9-12 - Lesson 3 William Wordsworth and Samuel Taylor Coleridge

→ INTRO

With the anonymous publication in 1798 of their Lyrical Ballads, Wordsworth and Coleridge introduced a new style of poetry to the public. The initial publication received mixed reviews, however, and with each subsequent publication, the two poets included a Preface by way of an introduction to their style, themes, and purpose. In today's lesson, you will read excerpts from the 1802 edition of this preface, as well as a representative poem by each of them. Think about how the poetry you read illustrates some of the points made in the Preface.

→ READ & DISCUSS

2. Wordsworth, "My Heart Leaps Up"
My heart leaps up when I behold
A rainbow in the sky:
So was it when my life began;
So is it now I am a man;
So be it when I shall grow old,
Or let me die!
The Child is father of the Man;
And I could wish my days to be Bound each to each by natural piety.

Term 1

- NOTE: This poem is too long to read completely today, but reading it for a few minutes will give you a feel for the style. If you enjoy it, please finish reading it during the next poetry class or during your free reading time!

WEEK 2 30m General Lit.: Grades 11-12 - Lesson 3

Materials: The Count of Monte Cristo

→ RECAP

Take a moment to remember where you left off in the story last week.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

Read for ~20 minutes and narrate.

- What do you think has happened at the party?
- Describe the character of Mercédès and continue to add to your character list.

WEEK 2 15m Poetry Reading: Grades 9-12 - Lesson 4

Samuel Taylor Coleridge

→ INTRO

Today, we are going to read a poem that is very different in style from The Rime of the Ancient Mariner. As you read, think about other poems you have read about children, or by poets remembering their own childhood.

→ READ

∞ Link: Frost at Midnight

With any time remaining, you can read more of The Rime of the Ancient Mariner.

★ TEACHER TIP

There is a Poem Guide for Frost at Midnight at the Poetry Foundation link, if your student would like extra information about the poem or help with understanding it.

WEEK 2 30m General Lit.: Grades 11-12 - Lesson 4

Materials: Narrative of the Life of Frederick Douglass or Up From Slavery

→ RECAP (OPTION 1: NARRATIVE OF THE LIFE OF FREDERICK DOUGLASS)

What do you remember from last week's reading?

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.7-13 "The home plantation" - "stone-like coolness."

- Reflect on Douglass's descriptions of the slave's songs. What purposes does singing serve? How has it been misunderstood?

→ RECAP (OPTION 2: UP FROM SLAVERY)

What do you remember from last week's reading?

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

Ch.2-3 p.11-22 "After the coming of freedom" - "or a handkerchief."

- Why were names so important to Washington and the other newly freed people?
- How does Washington describe the conditions of formerly enslaved people immediately after emancipation?
- How is education described in this chapter? Why did Washington see it as so important?

Term 1

WEEK 2 30m Plays: Grades 9-12 - Lesson 2

Materials: The Tempest

→ RECAP

How did Prospero and Miranda come to be on the island?

→ INTRO

The Tempest explores the theme of power, and we see this in Prospero's relationships. Watch a portion of Act 1, Scene 2, to learn more about Prospero's relationship to Ariel.

∞ Video Link: Act 1, Scene 2

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

Act 1 Scene 2 p.25-39 "All hail, great master!" - "So, slave, hence."

- How would you describe Prospero's relationship with Caliban and Ariel?
- Put this quote by Caliban into your own words: "This island's mine by Sycorax, my mother, Which thou tak'st from me."

WEEK 3 30m History of Lit: Grades 9-12 - Lesson 3

Rabindranath Tagore

→ INTRO

If you are taking the Poetry Reading course this year, you will spend much of Term 1 reading poems by the Bengali writer, philosopher, and artist Rabindranath Tagore. He wrote in Bengali, but translated his own works into English. He is a significant figure for Indian nationalism, and, though not himself a politician, was a vocal proponent of India's independence at the turn of the twentieth century.

→ VIEW, NARRATE & DISCUSS

This video provides an excellent overview of Tagore's life and work. It will take nearly the entire lesson time to watch, although you can watch at 1.25x speed.

Rabindranath Tagore

Materials: The Crescent Moon

→ INTRO

We will spend much of Term 1 reading poems by the Bengali writer, philosopher, and artist Rabindranath Tagore, who was born in 1861 in Calcutta, India, and grew up in a family that loved art, music, and ideas. He wrote in Bengali, but translated his own works into English. He is a significant figure for Indian nationalism, and, though not himself a politician, was a vocal proponent of India's independence at the turn of the twentieth century. In 1913, he became the first non-European writer to be awarded the Nobel Prize for Literature. He also composed the national anthems for both India and Bangladesh, making his words a lasting part of two nations.

The Crescent Moon is a collection of forty poems exploring themes such as childhood wonder, the natural world, and imagination. As you read through these poems, think about other poems you have read that present the world through the eyes of children, such as Robert Louis Stevenson's A Child's Garden of Verses.

→ READ & DISCUSS

Read one time, discuss, and then reread the poems.

p.6-7 "The Home"

- How would you describe the speaker of this poem?
- The poem opens with two examples of personification (a figure of speech which gives human characteristics to non-human things). Why do you think Tagore uses these images of a miser and a widow?

p.8 "On the Seashore"

- What images stand out most to you in this poem? How might they be symbols of a deeper meaning that lies beneath a simple description of children playing?

p.9-10 "The Source" and "Baby's Way"

- What do these two poems together seem to say about the nature of infants and children?

Ch.3-4 p.22-34 "Finally, the great day came" - "get through the school year."

- What hardships does he encounter while traveling, and how does he respond to them? Where does he find the strength to persevere?
- Describe Mrs. Ruffner and how she impacted his life. Who else had an impact on Washington?

WEEK 3 30m Plays: Grades 9-12 - Lesson 3

Materials: The Tempest

→ RECAP

Think back on what you learned about Ariel and Caliban through Prospero's conversations with and about them. What is your opinion of Prospero at this point?

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

Act 1 Scene 2 p.41-49 "Come unto these" - "Speak not for him."

- What does Ferdinand think of Miranda? How do you think this relationship will develop or change?

→ ACTIVITY

With the remaining time, let's dig into Caliban's speech from earlier in this scene to work to stretch our imaginations and seek to understand his world from his perspective as well as Prospero's.

∞ Link: Caliban Visual

★ TEACHER NOTE

The activity at the end of the lesson requires you to be present. Also, there are more layers to the activity than will likely fit in the remaining time after the reading is done. The point is to practice seeing the play from a different perspective, so feel free to stop at the end of the lesson time and move on or continue the activity if desired and time allows.

WEEK 4 30m History of Lit: Grades 9-12 - Lesson 4

Sir Walter Scott

Materials: English Literature for Boys & Girls

→ INTRO

E.M. Forster described Sir Walter Scott as a writer "over whom we shall violently divide," and certainly he has had his share of ardent readers and detractors. But one reason his works are still appreciated, as the literary critic Walter Allen said, is that "without being in the strict sense a historian, he revolutionized the writing of history." Today we will learn more about this author whom Virginia Woolf described as "perhaps the last novelist to practice the great, the Shakespearean art, of making people reveal themselves in speech," and of whom Jane Austen said, "Walter Scott has no business to write novels, especially good ones. It is not fair. He has Fame and Profit enough as a Poet!"

WEEK 4 30m Plays: Grades 9-12 - Lesson 4

Materials: The Tempest

→ RECAP

What is the setting (background story and situation) of The Tempest?

→ INTRO

The setting of The Tempest is unique. The play takes place on a remote island (meaning no one lives there) with the exception of Caliban and Ariel. This island is in the Mediterranean Sea. However, there are two important Italian Kingdoms mentioned – Naples and Milan. Prospero and Miranda, as well as the characters who crashed on the island, are from these kingdoms. Let's review the map and the character list. Consider sketching a map in your notebook.

Percy Bysshe Shelley

Materials: History of Lit PDF

→ RECAP

What do you recall about Sir Walter Scott from last week?

→ INTRO

Today, we are turning our attention to the first of two second-generation Romantic poets: Percy Bysshe Shelley, the husband of Mary Shelley (the author of Frankenstein). If you are also taking the Poetry course, you will read some of his poetry this week. However, today you will also read an excerpt from his Defence of Poetry, a philosophical essay on the nature and function of poets and poetry.

Do you recall any details about Shelley from the overview of the Romantic Period you read in Week 1?

WEEK 6 15m Poetry Reading: Grades 9-12 - Lesson 12

John Keats

→ INTRO

Today, we will meet the second of the second-generation Romantic poets: John Keats. As we did with Shelley, look for some of the themes you've been learning about from the Romantic Period. There is only one poem to read today, because your understanding and appreciation of it will increase with multiple readings. Read it through more than once on your own, and if you would like some interpretive help, there is a link to a guide to the poem.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

This poem, Ode on a Grecian Urn, is a famous example of ekphrasis, which means the poetic description of a work of art. As you read, think about how the poetry engages with other arts, such as sculpture and music. What does it have to say about the limits of any one art form, or, put more bluntly, what can poetry do that sculpture can't, and vice versa?
∞ Link: Ode on a Grecian Urn

- The final enigmatic two lines have been an interpretive puzzle since Keats wrote this poem. What do you think he means by "Beauty is truth, truth beauty,—that is all / Ye know on earth, and all ye need to know." And why are they in quotation marks? Because the manuscript is unclear, sometimes the closing quotation mark is placed after "truth beauty." How might that change the meaning?

∞ Link: Poem Guide: Ode on a Grecian Urn

→ VIEW

It is helpful to have an image of what Keats is describing when reading the poem.

WEEK 10 30m General Lit.: Grades 11-12 - Lesson 20

Materials: Narrative of the Life of Frederick Douglass or The Souls of Black Folk

→ RECAP (OPTION 1: NARRATIVE OF THE LIFE OF FREDERICK DOUGLASS)

What do you recall from last week's reading?

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.58-63 "Master Hugh, finding he could" - "for the reasons before mentioned."

- Why doesn't Douglass provide more details about how he escaped?
- What does it mean for Douglass to "hire his time," and how does this practice reinforce the injustices of slavery?

→ RECAP (OPTION 2: THE SOULS OF BLACK FOLK)

What do you recall from your reading last time?

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.18-25 Chapter 3: Of Booker T. Washington and Others

- How does Du Bois describe Washington's life and work?
- What are some of his critiques of the "Atlanta Compromise" and Washington's priorities?
- Compare the two men's views on education: what kinds of education do they each advocate?

★ TEACHER NOTE

For more background on Booker T. Washington and W. E. B. Du Bois's differing views, the following overview from Yale's Teachers Institute is helpful if your students have additional questions.

WEEK 11 30m History of Lit: Grades 9-12 - Lesson 11

Thomas Carlyle

Materials: English Literature for Boys & Girls

→ RECAP

What do you recall about the life and work of Felicia Hemans from last week?

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

Ch.LXXXII "Carlyle - The Sage of Chelsea"

- Marshall writes that Carlyle "was a great historian, but in the history he gives us not dead facts, but living, breathing men and women. His pages are as full of color and of life as the pages of Shakespeare." What history books have you read that could be described that way? Why is it such a praiseworthy feature of history writing?
- What do you notice about Carlyle's style in the passages quoted in today's reading?

- COMPOSITION - Descriptive
Write a character sketch of Thomas Carlyle based on Marshall's chapter.

WEEK 11 15m Poetry Reading: Grades 9-12 - Lesson 21

→ RECAP

What was your favorite poem by Tagore that you read last time? What did you like most about it?

→ READ & DISCUSS

Fireflies is a collection of small poems, thoughts, and sayings that Tagore published in 1928. It contains the famous line "The butterfly counts not months but moments, and has time enough." Spend 10 minutes reading through this book (you are not expected to read the whole thing, just skim through the pages), and try composing a few of your own in the same style (you'll have more time to do this in a composition class).

∞ PDF Link: Fireflies

- COMPOSITION - Poetry
Try to compose a few short poems in the style of Fireflies.

WEEK 11 30m General Lit.: Grades 11-12 - Lesson 21

Materials: The Count of Monte Cristo

→ RECAP

Take a moment to remember where you left off in the story last week.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

Read for ~20 minutes and narrate.

- Why do you think Caderousse was Dantès's first stop? What can Dantès do in disguise that he wouldn't be able to do if he revealed his true self to his former friends and acquaintances?
- Continue to add to your character list.

What do you recall from last week's reading?

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.31-36 Chapter 5: Of the Wings of Atalanta

- Why does Du Bois draw on the myth of Atalanta and the golden apples in this chapter?
- At the end of this chapter, he writes: "We are training not isolated men but a living group of men,—nay, a group within a group. And the final product of our training must be neither a psychologist nor a brickmason, but a man" (36). Can you explain what he means in your own words? What does this argument tell us about how he views the purpose of education?

• COMPOSITION

What passages in either Narrative of the Life of Frederick Douglass or Up From Slavery illustrated the importance of education and literacy? Jot down your initial thoughts, then look back at the book and read or skim sections to discover relevant passages or ideas you might have forgotten. Look for both explicit and implicit ways the author makes a point. In other words, look for ways the author conveys ideas through both "showing" and "telling."

• EXTRA HELPING

The poet Dudley Randall wrote a poem about the debate between Washington and Du Bois.

WEEK 1 30m History of Lit: Grades 9-12 - Lesson 13

Ralph Waldo Emerson

Materials: History of Lit PDF

→ INTRO

For the next few weeks, we will meet a selection of American writers and poets who were active in the mid-to-late nineteenth century, around the years 1840-1876. As an introduction, Long has a helpful overview of the characteristics of the literature written during this period.

∞ Link: History of Lit PDF p.14-15 "We have noted the significant fact" - "consider an age of poetry."

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

1. ∞ Article Link: Biography of Ralph Waldo Emerson

- Do you recognize some of the names of writers who influenced Emerson and who admired him in turn?

2. Spend some time exploring poems written by Emerson, or read excerpts from his famous essay "Self-Reliance" (you probably won't have time to read the whole thing during this lesson time, but you could come back to it later).

∞ Link: Poems by Emerson

∞ Link: History of Lit PDF p.16-22

- What does non-conformity mean to Emerson? How does he describe it?
- What does Emerson mean by "Trust thyself: every heart vibrates to that iron string"?
- How would you describe Emerson's language and imagery in "Self-Reliance"? What does it remind you of?

WEEK 1 15m Poetry Reading: Grades 9-12 - Lesson 26

Lightning Dreamer

Materials: Lightning Dreamer

→ RECAP

What injustice does Tula experience in the last reading?

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.73-90

- Has your impression of Tula's mother changed at all throughout the story?
- Do Manuel's actions change your perception of him? How has he supported Tula throughout the story?

• COMPOSITION -

Compare/Contrast

Compare the concerns of Tula, Manuel, Caridad, Mama, and the Nuns in p.73-83.

Are they justified or not, given the time and setting?

★ TEACHER NOTE

The tertulias brought people together in quiet defiance. They were often political rebellion disguised as parties; a way of sharing counterculture ideas in places where fascist regimes had made it dangerous, even illegal, to gather.

WEEK 1 30m General Lit.: Grades 11-12 - Lesson 26

Materials: Jane Eyre or James

→ INTRO (OPTION 1: JANE EYRE)

Orient yourself a bit more to Jane Eyre.

→ NOTE

This book is too long to finish in the term, just by reading during lesson time. Feel free to read more of the book in your free time, or if you are interested, finish it after the end of the term.

→ READ

p.3 "Introduction to the Author" and p.10 "Background of the Work"
Ch.1 p.32-39

→ NARRATE & DISCUSS

Write, sketch, or tell your narration briefly and then save 5-10 minutes to either answer the question(s) below or pick a few reflection questions of your own at the end of each chapter to discuss (orally or in writing).

- The first sentence of this novel is the famous: "There was no possibility of taking a walk that day." What is evoked by this sentence? What does it assume, deny, or allude to?
- View question #2 or #3 on p.263 and reflect orally or in writing,

→ INTRO (OPTION 2: JAMES)

Percival Everett described his novel James as a conversation with Mark Twain's The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn, where events from Twain's novel are reimagined from the perspective of Jim, the runaway slave. It won the Pulitzer Prize in 2025, and the committee described it as "an accomplished reconsideration of Huckleberry Finn that gives agency to Jim to illustrate the absurdity of racial supremacy and provide a new take on the search for family and freedom."

→ NOTE

This book is too long to finish in the term, just by reading during lesson time. Feel free to read more of the book in your free time, or if you are interested, finish it after the end of the term.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

1. Ch.1 p.9-20

- What do we learn about the character of James in this opening chapter?

★ TEACHER NOTE

See Planning & Prep for content considerations.

Term 2

How are his two manners of speaking connected to his identity?

- What is the first interaction like between James and Huck?

2. ∞ Link: Huckleberry Finn Chapter 2 opening scene

- What do you notice reading these two scenes back to back? How does Percival Everett reimagine the scene from Huckleberry Finn? Which details does he keep, and what does he change? What is the overall effect?

WEEK 1 30m Plays: Grades 9-12 - Lesson 13

Materials: Henry IV Part 2

→ INTRO

Henry IV Part 2 is a tale about Prince Hal falling into his father's footsteps as king. Hal's life will no longer be the same when he feels the weight of the crown. Henry IV Part 2 is actually the third play in a tetralogy. The Henriad is all about Henry becoming the warrior king. Let's take time to review the first 6 slides on the Henriad plays to better understand the play.

Henry David Thoreau

Materials: History of Lit PDF

→ RECAP

What stood out most to you in reading about Emerson last week?

→ INTRO

Another Transcendentalist writer who was strongly influenced by Emerson was Henry David Thoreau. As you read today, see if you recognize similar themes and concepts from what you read last week.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

1. ∞ Article Link: Biography of Henry David Thoreau

2. "Solitude" from Walden

You will be working on making an outline of Thoreau's essay today and in Composition. As you read, list the main ideas/phrases or summarize sections.

∞ Link: History of Lit PDF p.23-30

- How does Thoreau differentiate between being alone and loneliness? Why, according to him, can people be lonely even when they are with others?
- What does this reading tell us about how Thoreau relates to nature?
- Which aspects of Thoreau's views on solitude are most relevant today? Do you think that modern society still values solitude? What has perhaps made it harder to be alone in the way Thoreau describes?

Lightning Dreamer

Materials: Lightning Dreamer

→ RECAP

What risks were Tula and Manuel taking in the last reading?

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.90-109

- How does Tula learn to hide her messages?
- What are some of the acts of defiance and courage in the book so far, and what are their consequences?
- Why does Mama imagine their lives will be peaceful and prosperous once Tula is married? Do you think she's right?

WEEK 2 30m General Lit.: Grades 11-12 - Lesson 27

Materials: The Count of Monte Cristo

→ RECAP

Take a moment to remember where you left off in the story last week.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

Read for ~20 minutes and narrate.

- What are some of the themes that you recognize in the novel so far? Does it remind you of any other books you have read?

- Why does Tula leave the plantation even though she's now left alone there?

WEEK 2 30m General Lit.: Grades 11-12 - Lesson 28

Materials: Jane Eyre or James

→ RECAP (OPTION 1: JANE EYRE)

How was Jane's "nature" (her personality) portrayed in chapter one, and what role does it have in the plot so far?

→ INTRO

Keep the idea of the quest in mind while reading the novel. What is Jane's quest? What is she looking for? Is what she wants the same as what she needs?

→ READ

Ch.2-3 p.40-63

• COMPOSITION

How does the scene in the red room reflect Gothic literature? (Elements of Gothic literature include mystery, death, the supernatural, gloom and doom, and horror.) Notice details such as the secret drawer in the wardrobe, the jewel-casket, and parchment, along with words such as spell, secret, blood, and chill. Does the scene become too unrealistic to be believable, or does Brontë succeed in making it realistic?

Term 2

→ NARRATE & DISCUSS

Write, sketch, or tell your narration briefly and then save 5-10 minutes to either answer the question(s) below or pick a few reflection questions of your own at the end of each chapter to discuss (orally or in writing).

- What is the significance of the first words of chapter 2 in terms of Jane's development of her sense of self?

→ RECAP (OPTION 2: JAMES)

What are your first impressions of the character of Jim?

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

Ch.2-3 p.21-32

- What do you learn about language in this section? How does it contribute to the irony of the novel?

→ VIEW

Understanding Everett's aims and vision for James as you begin the novel will serve as a helpful guide as you read through it.

Term 2

Have you come across the term "elegy" in your study of poetry so far? An elegy is a melancholy, reflective lyric poem written to commemorate the death of a person or any other type of loss. Typically, these poems contain lament, praise, and then often turn to consolation. "When Lilacs Last in the Dooryard Bloom'd" is an elegy written by Whitman after the death of Abraham Lincoln. After Lincoln's assassination, his body travelled the 1600 miles from Washington, DC to Illinois.

The Victorian Period

Materials: History of Lit PDF

→ INTRO

The close of the Romantic Period is commonly marked by the death of Sir Walter Scott in 1832, and the remainder of the nineteenth century in British Literature is referred to as the Victorian Period, named for Queen Victoria, who reigned from 1837-1901. Literature written during this period often focused on social issues, the changes wrought by the Industrial Revolution, the effects of discoveries in science, and a concern for morality. This was also the period that saw the rise in popularity of the novel.

The Aeneid - Introduction

Materials: The Aeneid

→ INTRO

What do you know about an "epic" – what are the connotations of the word more broadly, and what do you know about epics in literature? Name any you have read and what you remember about epic conventions.

Virgil's Aeneid is an epic that owes much to Homer's two books, The Iliad and The Odyssey, which you may have already read in part or as a retelling. Chronologically, the story of The Aeneid picks up where The Iliad left off - with the fall of Troy - but Virgil lived 700-800 years after Homer, in Rome rather than Greece, and in a very different world. During Virgil's lifetime, the Roman Republic was coming to an - at times violent - end, and amid this uncertainty, Virgil looked backwards and chose the beginning of Rome as his epic subject: following the Trojan Aeneas from the destruction of Troy to the founding of a new city.

- COMPOSITION - Compare/Contrast Compare The Aeneid's opening Invocation to the Muse (lines 1-13) to the openings of The Iliad and The Odyssey.

C.S. Lewis, in his Preface to Paradise Lost, saw epics like the Iliad, The Odyssey, and Beowulf as "Primary Epics": they are works written down after a long tradition of oral storytelling, and they tell the story of heroic deeds in order that such deeds may be remembered. They are myth-making stories, far more concerned with the life of one hero - Achilles, Odysseus, Beowulf - than with the wider historical context. However, Lewis argues that something new happens with Virgil, and the Aeneid is the earliest example of a "Secondary Epic": "one of the most important revolutions in the history of poetry." In The Aeneid, Lewis writes, Virgil "decides to take one single national legend and treat it in such a way that we feel the vaster theme to be somehow implicit in it. He has to tell a comparatively short story and give us the illusion of having lived through a great space of time. He has to deal with a limited number of personages and make us feel as if national, or almost cosmic, issues are involved. He must locate his action in a legendary past and yet make us feel the present, and the intervening centuries, already foreshadowed."

Matthew Arnold

→ INTRO

In an 1890 edition of The Parents' Review, Charlotte Mason wrote: "The happy phrase of Mr. Matthew Arnold—which we have appropriated as the motto of the Parents' Review—is, perhaps, the most complete and adequate definition of education we possess. It is a great thing to have said, 'Education is an atmosphere, a discipline, a life.'" Now, no one, including Mason herself, has been able to track down exactly where Arnold said this, but his influence on Mason's educational philosophy can be found throughout her writings. Today we will learn more about this school inspector, educational theorist, poet, cultural critic, and father of the genre we now call literary criticism.

Alfred Lord Tennyson

Materials: English Literature for Boys & Girls

→ INTRO

William Long writes of Tennyson: "Though the Victorian age is notable for the quality and variety of its prose works, its dominant figure for years was the poet Tennyson. He alone, of all that brilliant group of Victorian writers, seemed to speak not for himself but for his age and nation; and the nation, grown weary of Byronic rebellion, and finding its joy or sorrow expressed with almost faultless taste by one whose life was noble, gave to Tennyson a whole-souled allegiance such as few poets have ever won." And he goes on, "There is a wide variety in Tennyson's work: legend, romance, battle song, nature, classic and medieval heroes, problems of society, questions of science, the answer of faith, — almost everything that could interest an alert Victorian mind found some expression in his poetry." Today, you will learn more about his life and work, and will read his well-known poem Ulysses, if you are taking the Poetry Reading course.

Alfred Lord Tennyson

→ INTRO

If you are taking the History of Literature course, you will have met the English poet Alfred Lord Tennyson this week, a master of blank verse (among other forms), whose poems cover a range of diverse topics, including Arthurian legends, nature, mourning historical events, and the human condition. Today you will read Ulysses, a blank verse (unrhymed lines of iambic pentameter) monologue spoken by the epic hero (also called Odysseus) at the end of his life as he plans for one more journey. If you read the Odyssey last year, you will recognize familiar characters and references.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

- How would you describe the speaker? How does he relate to his son (Telemachus) and his wife (Penelope)?
- What do you think the lines "Yet all experience is an arch where thro' / Gleams that untravell'd world whose margin fades / For ever and forever when I move" mean? Why does that make the speaker feel restless?
- How would you interpret the final line?

Mark Twain

Materials: History of Lit PDF

→ INTRO

You may have already come across Mark Twain and his influence in other literature courses this year. The twentieth-century novelist Ernest Hemingway claimed that "All modern American literature comes from one book by Mark Twain called Huckleberry Finn." What do you already know about Mark Twain, and what have you read?

Today, we will learn more about Twain through his life, his influence worldwide, and through reading a short story.

"The Celebrated Jumping Frog of Calaveras County" by Mark Twain

Materials: Short Stories and Folk Tales PDF

→ INTRO

We've included audio versions of these stories as an alternative to reading the written stories. Short stories can be especially fun to hear aloud with a talented narrator, though it will take longer than reading the story.

Mark Twain (1835–1910) is the pen name of Samuel Clemens, one of America's most celebrated writers, who was known for his sharp wit. His most famous works include The Adventures of Tom Sawyer and Adventures of Huckleberry Finn. Published in 1865, "The Celebrated Jumping Frog" was the story that made Twain a household name. The Aeneid, cont.

□ Materials: The Aeneid

→ RECAP

What do you recall from the last reading?

→ INTRO

Book 3 begins with Aeneas and his companions escaping from the destruction of Troy and beginning their arduous journey westward to Italy. They encounter several challenges and false starts along the way. Eventually, Aeneas hears that the Trojan Helenus, who has married Hector's widow Andromache, has settled in Buthrotum, and that is where our reading for today resumes.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

Book 3, lines 350-592 "Here an incredible story" - "challenge all our children."

- Helenus, son of Priam and a seer, and Andromache are both characters from the Iliad. Why is it significant that Aeneas meets them at this point, and what prophecy does Helenus offer Aeneas?
- How is Buthrotum described? Is it familiar to Aeneas? Why does he choose to move on rather than stay and settle in a "miniature Troy"?
- In this section, does Aeneas seem more like a warrior, a leader, or a pilgrim guided by fate?

WEEK 1 □ 30m General Lit.: Grades 11-12 - Lesson 50

Introduction - Things Fall Apart

□ Materials: Things Fall Apart

→ INTRO

Things Fall Apart by Chinua Achebe tells the story of the Igbo tribe in nineteenth-century Nigeria through the life of Okonkwo, a prominent and proud warrior at the center of his community. The story is divided into three parts: Part 1 depicts Okonkwo's life, family, and the culture of his tribe; in Part 2, Okonkwo has been exiled, and in the intervening seven years, missionaries and colonial administrators have come to the village of Umuofia; and in Part 3, Okonkwo returns to a changed village.

Achebe is careful not to present a romanticized or sanitized representation of the Igbo way of life. This novel is recommended for mature students, as it contains scenes of violence, including domestic violence, killings, and ritual practices that are unsettling both to readers and characters within the story.

Term 3

→ VIEW

The following two videos will provide a helpful, interpretive framework for approaching the novel. Achebe wrote about the importance of having a "balance of stories," and this is a helpful concept to keep in mind as you read the novel.

Jump Back, Paul

Materials: Jump Back, Paul

→ INTRO

Paul Lawrence Dunbar was one of the first Black Americans to earn a living as a writer, and he inspired many other literary giants who would come after him. In fact, "I know why the caged bird sings" (one of the most iconic lines in African American literature and the title of Maya Angelou's autobiography) comes from one of Dunbar's poems. He was the only Black student in his high school and became friends with Orville Wright and his brother Wilbur (who you may remember as the inventors of the airplane). The Wright brothers owned a printing press and published Dunbar's first writings. While Dunbar only lived to age 33, he has been described as "your favorite poet's favorite poet" due to the impact his large body of work had on future writers. Older students may want to read more about Dunbar in extra helpings.

"The Gold Bug" by Edgar Allan Poe

Materials: Short Stories and Folk Tales PDF

→ INTRO

Edgar Allan Poe (1809–1849) is one of America's most distinctive and influential writers. Poe is known for dark, atmospheric tales of mystery and the macabre. Surprisingly, he also pioneered the detective story! Poe had a fascination with puzzles, codes, and the power of careful reasoning. Published in 1843, "The Gold Bug" is a mystery with a secret message written in code, and cracking it requires sharp eyes and sharp thinking. As you read, pay close attention when the cipher appears and to how the code is broken. If you'd like, see if you can work through it yourself!

→ RECAP

What do you recall from what you read from the Aeneid last time?

→ INTRO

We are skipping Book 7 because of time constraints, but in the remaining readings from the Aeneid, you will notice a change of subject matter and style. If the first six books mirror the events of the Odyssey, the final six books mirror the events of the Iliad, with its martial theme.

In Book 7, Aeneas and the Trojans finally arrive in the Italian lands they have been promised by fate. They meet King Latinus, who believes fate has chosen Aeneas to marry his daughter Lavinia, but Juno's fury sets in motion a chain of events that destroys this early peace and sets the stage for war.

E. Pauline Johnson

→ INTRO

Emily Pauline Johnson was born to a Mohawk chief and an English mother, and grew up on the Six Nations Reserve in Ontario. She was educated at home, where she was immersed in both English literary traditions and Mohawk oral storytelling and developed a love for poetry. At a time when Indigenous peoples regularly faced discrimination, she was raised to value her dual heritage. She turned to writing and performing after her father's death to help support her family, traveling across Canada for 17 years. The first half of each of her shows was performed in Indigenous dress and the second half in an English gown, embodying the two cultures that made her who she was. She published her work under both "E. Pauline Johnson" and her Mohawk name, "Tekahionwake."

Literature: Grade 12

Examination

Term 1

History of Lit: Grades 9-12

- Discuss some of the defining authors and characteristics of the literature written in the first half of the 1800s that we've studied so far. Organize your thoughts into at least two paragraphs.

Plays: Grades 9-12

- The Tempest: Choose one question and give as much detail as possible:
 - What lesson does Prospero learn by the end of the play, and how does it change his actions?
 - Is Caliban justified in his anger toward Prospero? What might motivate Caliban to plot against Prospero?
 - How does Prospero use magic to control the events on the island? Do you think he is fair in his use of magic? Why or why not?

Poetry Reading: Grades 9-12

- Describe the themes and style of the Romantic poets. Either make reference to and compare several of the poets you read this term, or do a deeper reflection on one individual poet.
- Reflect on your reading of Rabindranath Tagore this term. What are some of the major themes in The Crescent Moon? How would you describe his poetry style? Can you compare his work to other poetry you read this term?

General Lit.: Grades 11-12

- Count of Monte Cristo: Describe Edmond Dantès's relationship with Faria; in what ways are they father and son, as Faria claims (72)? How does Faria equip Dantès for his life after prison? OR Write a character sketch of Dantès at the very beginning of the novel, before he is arrested.
- Narrative of the Life of Frederick Douglass: Explain why reading and literacy were such an important first step in Douglass's path from slavery to freedom. OR Describe some of the ways Douglass's Narrative is such a powerful argument against slavery.

Up from Slavery & Souls of Black Folk: Describe Washington's and Du Bois's differing views on the purpose of education. OR Tell all you know about Washington's early life and how it impacted his future leadership at the Tuskegee school.

Term 2

History of Lit: Grades 9-12

- Discuss some of the defining authors and characteristics of the literature written in the mid-1800s that we've studied in Term 2. Organize your thoughts into at least two paragraphs.

Plays: Grades 9-12

- Henry IV, Part 2: Choose one question and give as much detail as possible:
 - What struggles does King Henry IV face in this play, and how do they affect his rule?
 - Do you think Prince Hal was ready to be King? Why or why not?
 - How does Prince Hal's relationship with Falstaff change by the end of the play? Why does he make this decision?

Poetry Reading: Grades 9-12

- George Herbert Palmer wrote that "we get used to things and how dull things then become! . . . The genuine poet never grows used to anything." Support or refute this statement with reference to some of the poetry you have read this term.
- Tell or write what you know about Gertrudis Gómez de Avellaneda and describe one of her poems OR Describe your favorite scene so far from the Aeneid.

General Lit.: Grades 11-12

- The Count of Monte Cristo: The final sentence of the novel is: "The count just told us that all human wisdom was contained in these two words: Wait and hope." No matter where you left off in the novel, reflect on how what you have read so far supports this conclusion. OR Write a character sketch of Dantès/The Count of Monte Cristo at the point in the novel where you stopped reading. How has he changed from the beginning of the story?
- Jane Eyre: What are some ways in which Brontë builds mystery and suspense in the first volume? OR What is the basis of the mutual attraction between Jane and Mr. Rochester? Does their attraction seem realistic or romantic? Or both?
- James: Reflect on Percival Everett's use of irony in the novel. Why is this the mode he chooses when telling James's story? OR Discuss the importance of literacy, literature, and writing in the novel. Can you connect it to other books you have read this year?

Term 3

History of Lit: Grades 9-12

- Describe some of the genres you've studied this term and tell about one particular piece or author you read about with more detail.

Plays: Grades 9-12

- The Winter's Tale: Choose one question and give as much detail as possible:
 - Why does King Leontes wrongly accuse his wife, Hermione, and what are the consequences of his actions?
 - Is King Leontes a good man? Why or why not?
 - How does the story shift from tragedy to comedy? What events make this possible?

Poetry Reading: Grades 9-12

- Describe what you remember about Paul Laurence Dunbar's life and how it influenced the style and subject matter of his poems.
- Describe the role of the gods and fate in some of the episodes of The Aeneid OR Compare Aeneas to some other epic heroes you have read.

General Lit.: Grades 11-12

- Short Stories and Folk Tales: Choose one story from this term that ends with a "twist" and explain how its ending works. What does it reveal? Why is it effective? What do you think the author most wanted you to take away?
OR
Poe's Legrand and Doyle's Sherlock Holmes both solve mysteries through observation and logic, but they are very different kinds of characters. Compare and contrast the two. Which one did you find more compelling and why?
- Readers have often compared the narrative arc of Things Fall Apart to a Greek or Shakespearean tragedy. Using what you know about the genre and conventions of tragedy, would you agree with this? Make reference to specific episodes and characters from the novel. OR Choose one main character from the novel and consider how they change from the beginning of the novel to after the missionaries and colonial government arrive.
