About the Course

One of Mason's main pillars is that the student is born a "person." Ourselves is the book in which she defines that term, and it is the only volume she wrote directly to students. The book is divided into two parts. We use Ourselves Part 1 in Grades 7-9 and Part 2 in Grades 10-11, as Mason did in her own schools. In these books, students will explore characteristics shared by all Image-Bearers and learn how to guard against good servants becoming bad masters with Charlotte Mason's text written directly to students.

This topic is included in the following course(s): Citizenship: Grade 7 (U.S.), Citizenship: Grade 7 (Canada)

Placement & Combining Tips

Ourselves by Charlotte Mason is scheduled over five years. In a multi-age context, students can jump into the book wherever the class is reading. Otherwise, students should begin the book in Part 1.

Citizenship: Grade 7 (U.S.)

☐ Make sure your student sets up a Citizenship Notebook. They will need a 3-ring binder, lined notebook paper, and 5 Tabbed Dividers. You can read more about how to set one up and suggestions for various sections in the document in Quick Links.

☐ As desired, plan for a read aloud time. Suggestions are provided in the Community Read Aloud Quick Link, but local favorites are highly recommended whenever possible.

☐ Make a Calendar of Events for Current Events lessons by drawing a calendar grid in a notebook (or print a blank calendar from the internet).

How To Teach

Prepare

Plutarch: Teachers will find it helpful to preread the entire Life first, and then preread the day's passage before each lesson. Mark any passages that should be omitted due to content. (In Anne White's Plutarch Project books, the recommended source for this course, objectionable content has already been omitted.)

Current Events: Preview the news source for suitability.

Most other citizenship topics don't require additional prep.

Recap

Connect back to the previous lesson. (Optional for Current Events).

Introduce

For news sources, show students how to scan the headlines to get an overview first and then choose a story to read.

For Plutarch or other books: Use a picture, a map, or an engaging question to prepare students to receive the story as relevant. You may talk about one or two unfamiliar words that will be crucial to understanding. It is not necessary to cover all unfamiliar words.

Read

Read the selection assigned or the news story chosen. For rich, dense, or more challenging books such as Ourselves and Plutarch, it is a good idea to read them aloud. Have students keep an eye out for things to add to their Citizenship Notebook, Book of Centuries, and/or Commonplace book.

Narrate

Have the students narrate orally or in writing.

Discuss

Give students an opportunity to share their thoughts on the story and any connections made. For current events, look up where events occurred on a map and ask questions to help students discern the quality of the piece. (e.g., Are there sources cited? Is there an obvious bias? If so, what do other authors have to say on this subject? Are arguments supported by evidence? Is that evidence credible?) Consider reading an alternative perspective.

Citizenship Notebook

Have students record important ideas in their Citizenship Notebooks.

WEEK 1 25m Ethics: Part 1 - Lesson 1

Country of Mansoul

Materials: Ourselves

→ INTRO

Charlotte Mason, the author of this text, felt that the available material on formal formation during her time was severely lacking; what was available she considered unsuitably preachy and uninteresting. She felt compelled to write an approachable but challenging alternative, which is the text for this course: Ourselves.

Mason believed that before we could fully consider our duties to God, country, and others, we must first know and begin to understand ourselves, including the possibilities and risks inherent in all of us. Self-knowledge, in her view, was the inevitable prerequisite to self-direction, which is why she aptly named the first and second "Books" of Ourselves after each.

In order to present these ideas in an interesting way, she used the allegory of a country and its government. In her own words: "The realised self of each of us is a distressfully poor thing, and yet upon its insight and its action depends the redemption of that greater self, whose limitations no man has discovered. It is, to use a figure, as the relation between a country and its government. The country is ever greater than the governing body; and yet, for its development, the former must depend upon the latter."

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

Ch.I p.1-2 "Do ye not" - "be a hero."

→ CITIZENSHIP NOTEBOOK

Begin drawing a map of Mansoul using information from today's reading.

• DEFINITIONS

londes: an old English word for lands

WEEK 2 25m Ethics: Part 1 - Lesson 2

Country of Mansoul

Materials: Ourselves

→ RECAP

In the last lesson, we were introduced to the country of Mansoul. How would you describe it in your own words?

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

Ch.I p.3-4 "There are libraries" - "rich and beautiful."

→ CITIZENSHIP NOTEBOOK

Continue work on map of Mansoul.

• DEFINITIONS

cricket: a bat and ball game that originated and is popular in England

• COMPOSITION

How is Mansoul like a rich and beautiful land?

WEEK 3 25m Ethics: Part 1 - Lesson 3

Perils of Mansoul

Materials: Ourselves

→ INTRO

What do you remember about the culture of Mansoul from our last reading? How is it similar to where you live? How is it different?

Today, we will begin a new chapter called The Perils of Mansoul. A peril is a serious or immediate danger. Let's see what dangers are lurking for Mansoul.

• DEFINITIONS

incendiary: a device or strategy intended to start a fire

Föhn: a strong, warm air that comes down off the Alps and is known to both melt snow and spread wildfires

• COMPOSITION

What are ways a flame could come from a foreign land?
