Composition

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Composition: Grade 12

GRADE(S): 12

About the Course

Students continue to build experience with multiple forms of writing and practice healthy writing habits. This course especially focuses on the ethical dimension of words today, the role of technology, and the craft of research and academic writing, so students learn to show the significance of their ideas within a scholarly conversation.

This topic is included in the following course(s): Language Study: Grade 12

Composition: Grade 12
In addition to their composition and grammar lessons, students should continue to keep track of their regular written narrations and write 5-10 each week. Not all narrations need to be lengthy, but students should be comfortable typing multiple paragraphs if given the time.

Placement & Combining Tips

Prerequisite: Students with little background in the essay form should begin with Essay Voyage from the Grade 9 lessons.

Students new to the concept of revision and editing should take the Grade 10 lessons through Style: The Basics of Clarity and Grace and may want to substitute the other revision/editing lessons in Grade 10 to build their skills.

Scheduling

GRADE	SCHEDULE INFO.	BOOKS
12	Composition: Grade 12 4 times/week 40 min	Advanced Academic Writing II Teacher Manual Caring for Words in a Culture of Lies (2nd ed.) The Craft of Research

Sample Weekly View

Day 1	Day 2	Day 3	Day 4	Day 5
Language Study: Grade 12
Composition: Grade 12	Composition: Grade 12	Composition: Grade 12	Commonplace: Grades 9-12	Composition: Grade 12

Planning & Prep

Permission to print for non-commercial use. See Alveary group use policy to use lessons in a group context.

LINKS: Click text or scan the QR code in the top corner of the lesson plan pages to view online resources associated with the lessons.

Responsibility for previewing all links rests with the teacher. All links were checked at the time of publication; however, websites change frequently and may contain objectionable content. Please report broken links by contacting us through our website.

Composition: Grade 12
☐ One purpose of composition lessons is to encourage you, the student, to dig deeper, self-reflect on your own thoughts and writing, and learn how to ask good questions of yourself and your readings. It isn't about proving to your teacher that you read a book or did an assignment.

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

☐ Set the timer and use the whole time allotted for a lesson. If you finish an assignment with extra time, explore another perspective, ask further questions, or take a bit more time to see if any other thoughts come to mind. Alternately, if you find yourself stuck, you may want to take a short break and come back later, or break up the time into two shorter times. Growth, not frustration, is the goal.

Term Prep & Teacher Tips

Composition: Grade 12
☐ Plan to have your student(s) type the majority of their narrations and compositions. See keyboarding course for resources on typing if needed.

☐ Encourage students to spend all the time left at the end of a lesson on their written narrations and the whole lesson time on their compositions, and give as much detail as possible. For their narrations, it may help if you encourage them to think of writing their narrations for a friend or someone who has never read the book, rather than for you, who might already know the story. If they feel like they've run out of things to write, have them try varying the type of narration they're writing (interview, sketch, letter, poem, etc.).

Books & Resources

For book rationales and purchase options, click the Book List link or scan the QR code below.
∞ View Book List Details

Composition: Grade 12

Advanced Academic Writing II Teacher Manual

Caring for Words in a Culture of Lies (2nd ed.)

The Craft of Research

Supplies

For supply list details and basic supplies helpful to have on hand, click the links or scan the QR code below.
∞ View Basic Supplies
(No Subject Supplies Assigned)

Quick Links

Click THIS text or scan the QR code for links.

Related Course Quick Links

- ∞ Extra Helpings
- ∞ Foundations (See Sections 3 & 8: Narration & English)

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Composition: Grade 12

How To Approach

Read

You will read books across the curriculum. Look for interesting quotes to copy into your commonplace book!

Practice

You will practice many forms of composition over the year. Your books will often serve as the foundation for your assignments, along with books specifically focused on composition.

Teacher Note

- As you review your students' composition assignments, be sure to read the instructions in the lesson and give feedback and support accordingly.
- Some students naturally integrate and incorporate ideas from grammar and composition lessons into their narrations and composition assignments, but most assignments ask students to focus on one skill or idea.
- For editing or revision lessons, hold the student accountable to work through the process and instructions given for editing, but refrain from suggesting too many ideas about how they could expand the essay or add another idea.
- For assignments that ask a student to focus on a particular concept, ignore spelling or grammar edits, and support your student by noticing what they've done well and drawing out ideas on how to dig deeper.

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Composition: Grade 12

Click THIS text or scan the QR code for links.

Term 1

WEEK 1

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 1

Materials: Caring for Words

➜ NOTE
You will be reading this book over all three terms. Do an inspectional reading before you begin reading today. Look at the front and back, cover material, chapter titles, etc.

➜ READ & NARRATE
"An Introductory Word to Readers" & p.1-top of p.7

• Narrate in a variety of ways throughout the term.

★ STUDENT/TEACHER NOTE
In addition to these more formal composition lessons, be sure to keep up the habit of written and oral narrations throughout the week. Aim for 8-10 written narrations per week, and use different ways of narrating to keep it interesting!

WEEK 1

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 2

Materials: Advanced Academic Writing II

➜ INTRO
What is the value of writing? Of poetry, stories, essays, and biographies? Jot down your thoughts.

➜ REVIEW
You've learned about structure before, but it's worth reviewing as you begin another year.
Advanced Academic Writing II
p.1,4-5

➜ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS
As you practice and read many different forms of writing over the year, continue to consider the questions at the beginning of this lesson. Consider this short story by J.R.R. Tolkien in light of these questions.
∞ Story Link: Leaf by Niggle

• Why did Niggle have such a hard time finishing his painting?
• What were some of Niggle's biggest regrets in the hospital-prison?
• Tolkien wrote this story before publishing his masterpiece, The Lord of the Rings. Do you think he might have given the story a different ending if he had written it afterwards? Why or why not?

★ STUDENT/TEACHER NOTE
You may write or type your narrations and compositions initially. But for these composition lessons, be sure to type the final draft you turn in to your teacher.

WEEK 1

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 3
Questions

➜ INTRO
Charlotte Mason said that we only know what we ask ourselves questions about and then can communicate to ourselves and others. She called all the different ways that we can narrate "forms of vitality." Here are her actual words:

One thing at any rate we know with certainty, that no teaching, no information becomes knowledge to any of us until the individual mind has acted upon it, translated it, transformed, absorbed it, to reappear, like our bodily food, in forms of vitality. Therefore, teaching, talk, and tale, however lucid or fascinating, affect nothing until self-activity is set up; that is, self-education is the only possible education; the rest is mere veneer laid on the surface of a child's nature (Vol. 6, p.240).

This is how we know and why we narrate. We help ourselves along in this process by developing the habit of asking good questions. A famous scientist named Louis Agassiz was a master at helping students see and observe more by learning to ask themselves questions about whatever they were studying. Read the account of one of his students when first

★ STUDENT/TEACHER NOTE
If you have read this article before, skip to the WRITE assignment or complete the whole lesson to refresh your memory. It's a good reminder!

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Term 1

being examined for the opportunity.

→ READ
p.96-100 "The examination"- "knowledge of fossils."
∞ Article Link: Autobiography of Nathaniel Shaler

→ WRITE
Write as many observations and questions about one of your readings as you have time for.

WEEK 1

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 4
Tech/Visual

→ CREATE
Sometimes a "picture is worth a thousand words." Use this lesson to create an infographic by hand or in Canva, PowerPoint, or another design software. Look at some of the coffee infographics in the attached article to get a sense for the possibilities. Whether created digitally or by hand, visual illustrations are a powerful narration tool as well to help you understand what you read, so feel free to incorporate visuals into your daily narrations!

First, brainstorm what you want to illustrate. Here are some ideas:
• Show the process to conduct a science lab
• Key events in your life or the life of a historical character you're reading about.
• Outline a sermon you've heard or key points from a chapter in one of your books.
• Your daily or weekly schedule
• Your family tree.
• Something else entirely!
• How to make your favorite recipe

∞ Article Link: Coffee Infographic

WEEK 2

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 5

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ & NARRATE
p.7-middle of p.13
Narrate in a variety of ways.

WEEK 2

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 6

→ INTRO
Have you ever thought about the way that narration could equip you to work in business, marketing, web design, or another profession?

→ READ/VIEW, NARRATE, & DISCUSS
Story is fundamental to the nature of reality. So it is surprising that stories are part of our lives from childhood through adulthood? Explore 1-2 of these resources which explain the ways stories move us and show how stories are an effective piece of many professions.

∞ Article Link: Storytelling that moves people
∞ Video Link: The magic of storytelling
∞ Article Link: Storytelling and marketing

→ ACTIVITY
• Analyze several websites. Do they tell a story on their intro pages? What is it?

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Term 1

• Count how many times you tell a story today (a story as simple as who you saw at the grocery store still counts!).

WEEK 2 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 7
Poetry

→ WRITE
Compose a poem that tells a story (either one you made up or a retelling of something you've read). Use the epic convention of starting "in media res" or in the middle of the action. For instance, if you are telling the story of your day, start with the moment you looked out the window and saw a hawk eat a worm, not the moment you woke up.

Give your poem an intentional structure and label what it is (refer back to Making of a Poem from Grade 9 Poetry study for a list of forms if desired).

WEEK 2 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 8
Inspection

→ WRITE
Gather 3 of your favorite books from the term so far, and reread the first few pages of each. Where does each author begin? How do they draw you into the story? What details do you notice in just the first few pages that give you a clue to what time period you're reading about, who the main character(s) is/are, what the purpose of the book is, what the genre is, and the author's style? Write down your findings.

Think about a few of your other favorite books in general. What about them grabs your attention? Add to your findings.

WEEK 3 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 9

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ & NARRATE
p.13-21
Narrate in a variety of ways.

WEEK 3 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 10
→ INTRO
Writing and speaking are closely tied together. Often, something that starts in writing becomes part of a conversation or an oral presentation. Conversely, an idea shared over a meal or in a lecture could grow into a book. Just as we can grow as writers, we can grow as speakers. Today, listen to an oral storyteller and observe the ways she uses her voice, gestures, tone, and words to effectively tell a story.

→ VIEW, NARRATE, & DISCUSS
∞ Video Link: The Camel Driver
Time Marker 5:45-end

• Were you sucked into the story? How did Jan Blake draw you in?
• What are the ingredients of an effective story? What new options does an oral format provide? What unique options does a written format provide an author?

WEEK 3 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 11
Revision

→ INTRO
Good writers revise. Sometimes we imagine a writer sitting at a desk,

• STUDENT TIP
Especially if revision is new to you, consider purchasing Style: The Basics of Clarity and Grace (used in Grade 10) to keep as a reference.

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Term 1

scribbling away furiously - complete sentences, and vivid lines of poetry or prose magically appearing on their paper, instantly ready for publication. Unfortunately, as author Anne Lamott describes, "almost all good writing begins with terrible first efforts. You need to start somewhere. Start by getting something - anything - down on paper. A friend of mine says that the first draft is the down draft -- you just get it down. The second draft is the up draft - you fix it up. You try to say what you have to say more accurately. And the third draft is the dental draft, where you check every tooth, to see if it's loose or cramped or decayed, or even, ... healthy" (Bird by Bird 24).

➜ DISCUSS
Read this short blog on revision. What ideas are new to you? You might not agree with everything the author says, but take note of his main points.
∞ Article Link: On Revision

➜ REVISE
Pick a previous narration that is at least two paragraphs long to revise and rewrite. Your goal is not just to make your writing free of punctuation or spelling errors, but to create a more polished version of your narration that you could share with someone to tell them about the particular topic you wrote about or the chapter you read.

Big-Picture Revision
1. If you have not already typed your narration, do that now so you have a digital version to edit.
2. Are there other ideas you've had more recently that you'd like to add to your narration? Do that now.
3. Look at your paragraphs. Are they intended and focused around one idea each? Describe that main idea in one sentence and consider making that the first sentence of your paragraph.
4. Try moving your paragraphs around in a different order. What order do you think might make the most sense to someone reading your words?

Sentence Level Revision
1. Read your narration aloud and fix any grammar or spelling errors you hear or see.
2. Make main characters the subjects of sentences and important action verbs where possible.
3. How well do your sentences flow? Put old information before new information in your sentences.
4. Delete unnecessary words and change negatives to affirmatives.
5. Make sure your sentences are complete, not fragments.
6. Use Grammarly or another spell checker to find any other punctuation or spelling issues and fix those.

WEEK 3

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 12
Point of View

➜ WRITE
Write a narration as if you are inside the story and telling a first-hand account of what you're seeing! For instance, perhaps you're walking alongside Rama, observing all the happenings in Paradise Lost, traveling in South America to measure the earth, or visiting another character in history. You can write it as a diary entry and tell your thoughts as you walk around inside the story. Or you could write it as a travel memoir and focus on describing what is going on to your audience. In either case, tell things from your first-person perspective.

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Composition: Grade 12

Click THIS text or scan the QR code for links.

Term 1

WEEK 4 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 13

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ, NARRATE, & WRITE
p.22-bottom of p.27
Write a short essay on a single word that you find "intriguing, complex, haunting, curious, interestingly ambiguous, troubling, or delightful."

WEEK 4 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 14
Storytelling

→ TELL
Pick a story to tell orally. It can be a story from a book, an experience, or something you make up. Practice telling your story aloud, focusing on your opening and concluding sentences. Aim for it to be about 3-5 minutes long. You can write it out beforehand, sketch notes or illustrations to help you remember the flow of your story, or make flashcards or anything else. You can add actions or props to your telling, but refrain from using additional technology like PowerPoint for this assignment.

→ PLAN
Tell your story to an audience of at least three. You've done this for years with written narrations. This activity just gives you a chance to polish and revise a story.

WEEK 4 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 15
Poetry

→ INTRO
Have you ever heard of "found poetry"? Learn more with the article below.
∞ Article Link: Found Poetry

→ WRITE
Poets have used historical texts like William Bradford's History of Plimoth Plantation, newspapers, novels, and more to create found poems. The act of rearranging words, pulling words from different places together, and thinking about key images in a text is essentially a way to think more deeply about what you have read. For this assignment, just pick one passage from one of your favorite books as your source text. Use The Count of Monte Cristo if there isn't another book that comes to mind.

- Decide your selected passage (keep it short - no more than 1-2 pages).
- Highlight words or phrases you particularly like and/or which seem particularly important to the passage.
- Type or write those words on a separate piece of paper and use them to write a poem.
- You may choose whether to limit yourself to ONLY words found in your text or whether you want to add some of your own words as well.

WEEK 4 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 16
Essay- Current Event

→ WRITE
Current Event: Pick a topic and research. Summarize the perspective of each side in your own words, including brief quotes from each perspective to support your summary. Hyperlink any articles you reference, as in a news article. Aim to give the best points from each perspective, and imagine talking to a person who believed in each. Would they agree that you understand their perspective and have summarized it well?

Focus today on picking your topic and researching different perspectives.

- REFERENCE
Current Events

★ STUDENT/TEACHER TIP
The purpose of this essay is to work on researching the conversation about a particular topic, articulating both sides well in your own words, and giving your thoughts. Try to choose a topic that interests you and will be relatively simple to research.

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Term 1

Here is a sample outline of how your essay might end up. If time allows, draft the first two paragraphs today. You will have three lesson periods to work on this essay.

- One short paragraph introducing the topic you're going to talk about, the key questions people on both sides are trying to answer, and why you think the topic is important.

- One paragraph explaining the two main points of view on your topic and the key reasons for each. End this paragraph with your thesis, telling which perspective you're arguing for and your reasons for believing it is right.

- Two to three paragraphs explaining the two to three arguments that lead you to conclude which perspective is better.

- Concluding paragraph telling your readers why your topic is important to understand and consider. What do you think the cost is for people who have a different perspective or ignore the topic altogether?

For instance, a topic like whether a particular town should add a train line is a better topic for this assignment than something large and complicated to research, such as whether to vote republican, democrat, or third party.

WEEK 5

40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 17

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ & NARRATE
p.27-bottom of p.34
Narrate in a variety of ways.

WEEK 5

40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 18
Essay

→ WRITE
As you read various stories over the term, think about your own. To make characters feel real, authors have to imagine even small details about them.

• Jot down core memories from your life that stand out to you and describe them. What did you feel, see, hear, or touch in those moments?
• Think of spaces in your life that feel shadowy or confusing - write questions and wonderings about them.
• Think of other experiences and events. How have you changed over the years? Describe yourself at 5, 10, and 15.
• Think of people (alive, or loved ones who have died) who mean the most to you.
• Write your thoughts about God. How have you grown to understand more about him over the years?

Think about how you might weave all these different pieces together to tell your own story.

WEEK 5

40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 19
Essay-Current Events Project Part 2

→ WRITE
Add to your current events project from Lesson 16. Today, develop your opinion on who has the stronger argument and explain why.

- 2-3 paragraphs explaining the two to three arguments that lead you to conclude which perspective is better.
- Concluding paragraph telling your readers why your topic is important to understand and consider. What do you think the cost is for people who have a different perspective or ignore the topic altogether?

• REFERENCE
Current Events

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Composition: Grade 12

Click THIS text or scan the QR code for links.

Term 1

WEEK 5 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 20

Materials: The Craft of Research

→ READ & INSPECT
After reading the prologue, do an inspectional reading of Craft of Research: look at the front and back, skim bits, look over the chapter titles, etc. This book is a helpful reference for any research papers you'll need to write in the coming years. You'll be familiar with many of the ideas in the book, so we'll focus on the sections about sources most, but feel free to read sections not assigned as desired.

→ READ, NARRATE, DISCUSS
#2 "Connecting with Your Reader" "Research counts" - "the solution."

WEEK 6 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 21

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ & NARRATE
p.34-40
Narrate in a variety of ways.

WEEK 6 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 22
Tone/voice/style

→ WRITE
Have you noticed that books have a voice? Just as you can recognize a famous singer's voice when you hear a song, authors write in particular ways that establish their tone and voice as a writer, which we as readers unconsciously and consciously identify. We easily recognize this when a writer is angry or upset - this tone is communicated by the words they choose, the number of exclamation marks (or sometimes all CAPS) used, and the way their sentences are structured - often short and punchy!

For the rest of this lesson, pretend you are Shakespeare and try writing a narration (or re-write one you've already done) in his style.
OR
Write about something you've read, experienced, or imagined in the style of another author (living or one who has died).

Ideas to think about as you imitate: how formal is your author's style? Do they use colloquialisms or more academic words? How long are their sentences? Do they tend to use passive or active voice? Do they speak as directly or in a more roundabout way? Do they use lots of comparisons (metaphors, similes) or tend to approach things more factually?

Read your work to someone and see if they can guess the author you're trying to imitate!

WEEK 6 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 23
Editing-Revise Current Events Project

→ REVISE
Big-Picture Revision
1. Are there other ideas you've had more recently that you'd like to add to your current events essay? Do that now.
2. Are you representing both perspectives fairly and giving the best arguments for each side? Would someone who believes in the other perspective agree that you have summarized and understood them well?
3. Revise your thesis now that you have written the rest of your essay. Is it clear and concise?

• STUDENT TIP
Although not a research paper per se, this current events project is a great place to practice some of the ideas you've read in Craft of Research about how to engage and build a conversation with your reader.

Refer back to Grade 11 Composition: Lessons 30 and 42 before this one if you are not

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Term 1

4. Does your introduction include the main question and topic you are trying to address in your essay?
5. Look at your paragraphs. Are they indented and focused around one idea each? Describe that main idea in one sentence and consider making that the first sentence of your paragraph.
6. Do your paragraphs flow well? Experiment with moving your key arguments in a different order. Which makes the most sense? It is common to arrange your arguments in the order of weakest to strongest (or vice versa).
7. Does each of your paragraphs support your thesis?

Sentence-Level Revision
1. Did you link to the articles you drew from to learn about different perspectives?
2. Read your paper aloud and fix any grammar errors you hear and see.
3. Use Grammarly or another spell checker to find any other punctuation or spelling issues and fix those.
4. Give your essay a title (think of it like an article about a news event!)
5. Look for wordiness. Are there any unnecessary words? Do you have any sentences that are very long that you could make into two shorter sentences? Long sentences have their place, but usually, shorter sentences are clearer.
6. Look at your sentences and make sure characters are subjects, and important action verbs as much as possible.
7. Check for nominalizations! Throw out any unhelpful ones!
8. Make sure your sentences are complete, not fragments.
9. Make sure your essay is consistently in 3rd person while reporting others' perspectives. If desired, you may switch to 1st person when talking about your opinions in the final paragraph(s).

Format Revision
Refer back to Advanced Academic Writing II p.8-15 & p.72-73 familiar with MLA formatting or citation styles.

WEEK 6

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 24
Poetry

→ READ (10 MIN)
Reread John Keats's poem "Ode on a Grecian Urn." Remember that this poem is an example of ekphrasis: the poetic description of a work of art.
∞ Link: Ode on a Grecian Urn
∞ Link: Ekphrasis

→ WRITE
Think of a piece of art you have really loved in Picture Study. With an image of the art in front of you, start writing your own ekphrastic poem about it. Include any notes about why you chose to write it the way you did. Work to keep your chosen meter/rhyme scheme consistent.

• REFERENCE
Poetry Reading: Grades 9-12 (Lesson 12)

WEEK 7

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 25

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ & NARRATE
p.41-middle of p.46
Narrate in a variety of ways.

WEEK 7

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 26
Types of questions to ask

→ INTRO
Why write questions? Questions engage our brains to think outside our current perspective and wonder about new ideas, new connections, and

★ TEACHER TIP
If using these lessons in a group, have students share the questions they identified behind a particular book or article. Discuss the way that students may articulate the book's central question new perspectives that might not naturally occur to us. For this reason, almost every writing project you embark on will likely start with questions. Another benefit of questions is that many books, essays, and other forms of writing (especially non-fiction) essentially exist to answer a question. As you read the news, articles, or other books, ask yourself, "What question does this piece answer?" For instance, a news article often answers the question: "What happened and what should I think about ___ event?" → WRITE Write 10 questions about a topic or book you're reading for Bible, History, Citizenship, Ourselves, Geography, Architecture, etc. → WRITE Pick 5 non-fiction books or articles you have read this term (fiction can work too, but it is a little more tricky) and write down the questions you think are behind the book or article. Explain briefly why you think the book or article is an answer to this question. There may be multiple questions an author is considering, so just pick one you think is significant.	differently. The purpose is not to get a "right" answer, but to notice the commonalities and themes that multiple students pick up on, as well as the variety our perspectives bring to how we read and understand a book.

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Term 1

WEEK 7	⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 27 Compare & Contrast → WRITE Based on your reading for the term so far, compare and contrast two different worlds you're reading about (for instance, you could contrast what you're reading about in ancient history with the 1800s or the events in England with those in America, etc). Look back at your books and give some specific examples.	• REFERENCE History, Geo, etc.
WEEK 7	⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 28 Details → WRITE Continue to work on your writing assignment in Geography, where you are combining the 5 versions of the events of a day from the Lewis and Clark expedition into one account, indicating what happened to each mentioned member of the expedition. Use 3rd person POV and pay attention to the details you include. Work to help your reader envision the scene by including important sensory details (bonus if you can include details that reference all five senses - sight, sound, taste, touch, and smell)! Write for the whole time. If you are not taking the Geography course, write a descriptive paragraph inspired by an episode from one of your books this week, taking care to include specific, intentional detail.	• REFERENCE Geography: Grade 12 (Lesson 14) Book: Five Months on the Missouri River • STUDENT TIP Remember, small details can lead to big insights. Notice the details an author includes and ponder their significance. For instance, Matthew includes Rahab and Ruth in his genealogy leading up to Jesus's birth (Matthew 1). He usually moves from one to the next, but in a few places, Matthew gives more detail. Why?
WEEK 8	⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 29 Materials: Caring for Words → READ & NARRATE p.46-55 → WRITE Write a 1-page double-spaced essay on one of the main topics from Chapter 2; include examples from your term readings.

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Composition: Grade 12

Click THIS text or scan the QR code for links.

Term 1

WEEK 8

40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 30

Materials: The Craft of Research

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS
Ch.4 "From Questions to a Problem"

→ REFLECT
With any extra time reflect on questions you have considered in your essays or narrations. What larger "problems" are they connected to?

WEEK 8

40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 31
Reporting

→ WRITE
Today's writing assignment is to create a news report. Build on the discussion from the Shakespeare lesson last week, where you pretended you were an investigative reporter covering Caliban's plot to overthrow Prospero in Act 3, Scene 2. Look back at the scene and see what evidence you can find to explain the conspiracy to the public. Use these questions to guide you:

1. What is Caliban's plan?
2. Why does Caliban want Stephano to rule the island?
3. How does Ariel disrupt the plan and cause confusion?
4. Is Stephano a strong leader? Does he do anything to suggest he isn't?

If you are doing these lessons alone, write up your findings as a news article. If you can pull in some family members or classmates, another option is to work together to plan out and present either a live broadcast (have a host interview several news reporters on the island) or even an interview show (have a host interview the characters of Caliban, Stephano, Trinculo, and Ariel in a heated discussion).

• REFERENCE
Shakespeare (Lesson 7)
Book: The Tempest

WEEK 8

40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 32
Revision

→ REVISE
Go back to your descriptive scene from Lesson 28 and revise.

Big-Picture Revision
1. If you didn't type your description before, do that now so you have a digital version to edit.
2. Are there other details you've learned more recently that you'd like to add to your description? Do that now.
3. Look at your paragraphs. Are they indented and focused around one idea each (perhaps you have a paragraph focused just on sight, another on sound, etc., or perhaps you organize your paragraphs spatially and describe the immediate surroundings, the nature, the weather, etc.)? Describe the main focus of the paragraph in one sentence and consider making that the first sentence (topic sentence) of your paragraph.
4. Consider the flow of your description. Try organizing your paragraphs a few different ways and decide what you like best.

Sentence-Level Revision
1. Read your paper aloud and fix any grammar errors you hear and see.
2. Use Grammarly or another spell checker to find any other punctuation or spelling issues and fix those.
3. Give your description a title and put it at the top
4. Delete unnecessary words.
5. Look at each of your sentences (pull them out individually if that helps). Are they complete thoughts and not fragments? Do they have clear

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Composition: Grade 12

Click THIS text or scan the QR code for links.

Term 1

characters and actions?
6. Remove any unhelpful nominalizations.
7. For this assignment, make sure your description is consistently in 3rd person.

WEEK 9

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 33

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ & NARRATE
p.56-64
Narrate in a variety of ways.

WEEK 9

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 34

Materials: Craft of Research

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS
Ch.5 "From Problems to Sources"

• Consider narrating by making a PowerPoint of a few key ideas you learned.
• Describe the difference between a primary source, a secondary source, and a tertiary source. We'll consider some of the ideas introduced in the chapter in more depth in the coming weeks.
• What aspects of this chapter are already becoming somewhat outdated due to recent technological developments?

WEEK 9

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 35
Poetry

→ WRITE
Write a narrative poem telling a story from one of your history or geography books.

Bonus Idea: Try including an epic simile!

• REFERENCE
History or Geography

WEEK 9

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 36
Plot

→ INTRO
How do authors keep you interested in a story or movie? Name as many ways as you can think of.

→ REFLECT
Reread the opening paragraphs of Ch. 9 in The Count of Monte Cristo. What are the stages Dantès passes through at the beginning of the chapter? How does the "faint noise" disrupt these stages and give him hope? What questions or expectations does this raise in you, the reader?

Now look at the concluding paragraphs of Ch. 9. How does Dumas build the suspense of the novel with the conclusion of the chapter as well?

→ READ & WRITE
Read the article on suspense and look for ways authors hold your interest and move their story forward as you continue reading The Scarlet Letter and your other books!
∞ Article Link: Building Suspense

• REFERENCE
General Literature
Book: The Count of Monte Cristo

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Composition: Grade 12

Click THIS text or scan the QR code for links.

Term 1

WEEK 10 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 37

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ & NARRATE
p.65-middle of p.71
Narrate in a variety of ways.

WEEK 10 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 38

Materials: Craft of Research

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS
Ch.7 "Making Good Arguments"

WEEK 10 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 39
Dialogue

→ WRITE
Make up two characters (or pick two characters from the same or different books) and write a conversation including dialogue between the two of them. Here are some options:
- Have Rabindranath Tagore talk to Gertrudis Gómez de Avellaneda.
- Write dialogue between Dantès and Mercédès.

→ A NOTE ON DIALOGUE
What makes dialogue move forward? Professor Lowry Pei gives this insight: "When people communicate perfectly, understand each other fully, and agree on what must be done, conversation naturally ends. It is the imperfect understanding, the unfinished communication, the disagreement, the mismatch, the unfulfilled wish that keeps a dialogue going....While you're writing what the characters do say, be aware of what they don't say, but are thinking and feeling."

→ REVISE
Save a few minutes at the end of your lesson to quickly revise your work. Make sure to indent dialogue appropriately, read your writing aloud, and see if your dialogue sounds natural. Change it if it doesn't! And pay attention to dialogue in your books as you read!

- COMPOSITION - Dialogue
When writing dialogue, "keep your words and sentences short. Break up the speeches with the other person's questions, gestures, or thoughts. Start a new paragraph whenever the next person speaks, does something, or thinks. Short bursts of speech seem natural to the reader. Just as long speech paragraphs seem unnatural, so do long speech sentences. and so do long words" (from Writing Magic by Gail Levine).

- REFERENCE
Examples given from Poetry Reading and General Literature.

WEEK 10 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 40
Revision-poetry

→ REVISE
Pick a poem you've written this term to revise. Revising poetry requires a different process than editing other types of writing. There are so few words in a poem (compared to a whole book or essay), that it makes each word even more important.

1. Type your poem if you haven't already.
2. Revisit the rules of your poem's form (sonnet, sestina, ballad, etc.)
3. Read it aloud.
4. Does your poem follow the rules of its form? (Rhyme, meter, line count, etc.). If you are breaking any of the rules, decide if you are breaking them for a reason to make a point or if you need to find a different word or phrase to fit the rhyme scheme or meter. (Note: if you choose to break a rule, add a note about why this is important for your poem).
5. Think about the flow of the ideas and images in your poem. Is there a better way to organize them?
6. Imagery and metaphor are important in nearly all poems. What images and comparisons does your poem use, and are there any others that might capture the image or idea even better?

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Term 1

7. Read your poem aloud again and look for any grammar or spelling errors to fix. Use Grammarly or another spell checker to assist you.
8. Jot down a few of the things you want your reader to walk away thinking or feeling after hearing your poem. Go read your poem aloud to someone (or two!) and ask them what their initial impressions are. If they are completely different than what you intended, consider what you might want to alter so that your purpose comes through more clearly.

WEEK 11 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 41

Materials: Caring for Words

➜ READ & NARRATE
p.71- break on p.79
Narrate in a variety of ways.

WEEK 11 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 42

Materials: Advanced Academic Writing II

MLA Paper Formatting Refresh

➜ READ OR REVIEW
Advanced Academic Writing II p.8-15 & p.72-73

➜ PRACTICE
Pick a narration or previous writing project and work on formatting it according to the MLA guidelines outlined in Advanced Academic Writing II. (Choose a narration based on a book, rather than a current events reflection, as books are much easier to cite). Additionally, papers are usually required to be in Times New Roman font size 12, so turn your paper to that font and size as well.

➜ NOTE
Microsoft Word is the best program for formatting papers, but other programs are also possible. If you do not know how to adjust the spacing in your program, look up how to do it online. For instance, you might Google "how to adjust spacing in Microsoft Word." Also, you may notice in the Works Cited example on p.9 that the second line of citation is indented. These are called hanging indents, and they are exclusively used in biographies and works cited entries. You can read how to format your citations this way here.
∞ Link: Hanging Indent

WEEK 11 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 43
Finding support for your statements

➜ WRITE
What passages in either Narrative of the Life of Frederick Douglass or Up From Slavery illustrated the importance of education and literacy? Jot down your initial thoughts, then look back at the book and read or skim sections to discover relevant passages or ideas you might have forgotten. Look for both explicit and implicit ways the author makes a point. In other words, look for ways the author conveys ideas through both "showing" and "telling."

• REFERENCE
General Lit 11-12
Book: Narrative of the Life of Frederick Douglass or Up From Slavery, Reflection Questions

WEEK 11 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 44
Technology

➜ CREATE/ WRITE
Technology and writing are so intertwined nowadays. Experiment with the two by picking one of the options below:

• Design a poster inspired by something you read.

• EXTRA HELPING
Resource for students interested in web design.
∞ Resource Link: Wix for Tomorrow

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Composition: Grade 12

Click THIS text or scan the QR code for links.

Term 1

	• Write a narration in the style of a blog post. • Create a website about something you read about recently (see extra helpings page for a Wix resource). • Make a PowerPoint/ Google Slides to accompany a narration you wrote and give a presentation using your PowerPoint/Google Slides to friends or family. ➜ REVIEW (OPTIONAL) ∞ Article Link: Rules for PowerPoints
WEEK 12	⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 45 Exam Week ➜ EXAMS Answer question(s) related to course. Questions will come from: Caring for Words
WEEK 12	⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 46 Exam Week ➜ EXAMS Answer question(s) related to course. Questions will come from: Composition Lessons
WEEK 12	⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 47 Exam Week ➜ EXAMS Answer question(s) related to course. Questions will come from: Composition Lessons
WEEK 12	⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 48 Exam Week ➜ EXAMS Answer question(s) related to course. Questions will come from: Composition Lessons

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Composition: Grade 12

Click THIS text or scan the QR code for links.

Term 2

WEEK 1

40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 49

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ & NARRATE
p.79-86
Narrate in a variety of ways.

WEEK 1

40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 50
Reflection

→ WRITE
Write down questions you have about writing. Where do you think you have improved? Where do you think you need to grow? What about writing is the most fun, most confusing, easiest, or hardest? Discuss with your teacher.

WEEK 1

40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 51
Essay

→ WRITE
Write about a current event (it could be a very local one like the weather in your town) as though you are a reporter for a newspaper. Show your sources by linking to other articles you've read as you refer to them in your piece.

Think back to your question-asking assignment. What is the central question you want to answer in your article? Include this question somewhere in your piece (consider even using it as a title).

• REFERENCE
Current Events

WEEK 1

40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 52

Materials: Advanced Academic Writing II

Editing

→ REVISE
Take your current event report from Lesson 51 and revise it. Work in this order:

1. global revisions (structure, transitions, content to add or change)
2. sentence-level revisions
3. formatting revisions

For this project, follow these formatting guidelines (adapted from Advanced Academic Writing II p.8-9. See the sample paper on p.9 for a visual):

- Set your font to Times New Roman size 12.
- Set a one-inch margin on all four sides.
- Set all text to double-spaced.
- Indent all paragraphs.
- Left-justify the text (usually the default).
- Put your name, your teacher's name, the course name (Composition: Grade 11), and the date on separate lines at the beginning of your paper.
- Center the title of your paper (come up with one if you haven't yet).
- Instead of in-text citations, link to the article you are referencing directly in your paper.

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Composition: Grade 12

Click THIS text or scan the QR code for links.

Term 2

WEEK 2 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 53

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ & NARRATE
p.87- top of p.93
Narrate new ideas orally, in writing, or in verse.

WEEK 2 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 54

Materials: The Craft of Research

→ INTRO
Have you ever joined a conversation with your friends, made a comment which no one really responded to, and then realized you had missed an entire conversation which had occurred just before you got there? You have to know your audience and the history of the conversation to make a meaningful contribution to it. In the same way, writers need to know their audience and the conversation (in writing) about their topic.

Different types of books have different audiences. Academic essays or books are primarily written to other academics. So when you become interested in a particular topic, question, or problem. One of your jobs as an academic writer is to know the people (alive and dead) and conversation that exist about your topic so you can better understand not only your topic of study but also how you might be able to add something to the conversation. Today's chapter gives some ideas on how that might look.

→ READ, NARRATE & DISCUSS
Ch.6 "Engaging Sources"

WEEK 2 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 55
Outline

→ WRITE
Continue outlining Thoreau's essay from History of Literature.

- REFERENCE
History of Lit (Lesson 14)

WEEK 2 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 56
Questions

→ WRITE
Come up with 10 questions about one of your books. Then see if you can connect each of those questions to a larger problem.

WEEK 3 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 57

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ & NARRATE
p.93-100
Narrate in a variety of ways.

WEEK 3 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 58

Materials: Craft of Research

→ INTRO
Secondary sources. Conversation. Academic writing. These ideas might sound a bit nebulous because some of the journals that contain much of this scholarly conversation are not easily available to the public (JSTOR is available for free). Imagine you're writing about Beowulf. Your conversation partners are all the other scholars who have also written about Beowulf, and some of the most important secondary sources you'll want to investigate are the papers or books they've written to each other over the centuries about Beowulf. That is the wild thing about written work - a conversation can continue even though the person who started it isn't alive anymore!

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Term 2

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS
Ch.14 "Incorporating Sources"

• Remember that you've been learning MLA citations.

WEEK 3

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 59
Revision

→ REVISE
Pick a previous narration that is at least two paragraphs long to revise and rewrite. Work to find at least one quote you want to include in your narration and use the ideas you learned from Ch.14 of Craft of Research to integrate it into your writing (and cite it).

Then continue revising at the global level, the sentence level, and the formatting level.

Share your revised narration with someone.

WEEK 3

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 60
Literature Connection & Composition

W.E.B Du Bois (who you might have read more about in Literature lessons) wrote a parody of My Country 'Tis of Thee. Read his poem and the original lyrics and then write a paragraph explaining how W.E.B. Du Bois's poem critiques the original.
∞ Link: My Country 'Tis of Thee by W.E.B. Du Bois

OR
Compare W.E.B. Du Bois's poem to Frederick Douglass's "What to the Slave is the Fourth of July?" speech.
∞ Link: What to the Slave Is the 4th of July?

• REFERENCE
Folk Songs (Lesson 15)
General Literature

WEEK 4

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 61

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ & NARRATE
p.101-middle of p.107
Narrate in a variety of ways.

WEEK 4

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 62
Compare & Contrast

→ WRITE
Edmond Dantès at the beginning of The Count of Monte Cristo is very different from the man who eventually escapes from prison. Explain how he is different, and include specific quotations from the novel to show the contrast.

Write in 3rd person.

→ REVIEW
• After you finish, write a thesis that sums up your analysis and put it at the beginning of your assignment.

• REFERENCE
General Lit (Lesson 31)
Book: The Count of Monte Cristo

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Composition: Grade 12

Click THIS text or scan the QR code for links.

Term 2

• Read your writing aloud and fix any spelling or grammar errors you find.

Tip: If you're struggling to keep your writing in the 3rd person. Take out any times that you accidentally added an "I think" in your sentences to keep your writing from slipping into a 1st person point of view. The sentence will usually become a 3rd person POV sentence automatically if you simply delete the phrase "I think" from the beginning.

WEEK 4

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 63
Style

→ WRITE
Write or re-write a narration as a poem, play, or 1st person narrative.

WEEK 4

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 64
Technology-PowerPoint/Google Slides

→ VIEW, NARRATE, & DISCUSS
∞ Video Link: Data Visualization

→ CREATE
Keep the ideas from the lecture you heard in mind, and begin creating powerpoint using one of the options below. You'll have another lesson to revise and finish your work.

• Three favorite things you've learned so far this year (and why they're you're favorite)
• Why [Book] is your favorite
• How a science lab you did worked/the process of the lab and the results
• Introduce 3 significant historical characters or events all happening at the same time in the world
• A different way to visualize some data based on the lecture you heard!

Have fun experimenting!

WEEK 5

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 65

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ, NARRATE, & WRITE
p.107-110

• Write a 1-2 page double-spaced reflection on one of the main topics from the chapter; include examples from your term readings.

WEEK 5

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 66
Catch-Up Day

→ CATCH UP
Use this time to catch up on writing assignments that you haven't had a chance to finish in this course.

WEEK 5

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 67
Travel Writing

→ WRITE
Think back on some travels (short or long, near or far) that you took and write your own travel account. Think about the descriptions you include. Can you make your account vivid and memorable for your readers?

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Composition: Grade 12

Click THIS text or scan the QR code for links.

Term 2

WEEK 5 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 68

Research

→ RESEARCH

Identify some quality secondary sources discussing Emily Dickinson or The Tempest. Hint: look up the Norton or Oxford editions of the book, or do a few Google searches or search within JSTOR, to identify key scholars. From there, look for any essays or books they might have published. If you find a book that looks promising, look at the Amazon preview and do a quick inspectional reading. Once you find one person in the conversation, often their Works Cited page, footnotes, or Bibliography will identify some others in the scholarly conversation around your book. Finding a (paper) conversation and understanding who you're writing to in an academic paper is a mystery. You get to follow the clues!

Note: There are often many blogs or books about your topic. But if they are written for a general public audience, those are not the scholarly secondary sources you're looking for. They may be great books, but you're looking for the conversation that can deepen.

WEEK 6 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 69

▯ Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ & NARRATE

p.111-middle of p.117

WEEK 6 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 70

▯ Materials: Advanced Academic Writing II

Essay-genre analysis

→ READ

Dating back to Aristotle, many authors and playwrights visualize the shape of a story or play in five parts. Read about or review this 5-part structure, then think (and look) back over what you read last term in The Tempest. Did the play follow this general arc? Where would you identify the introduction, rising action, and climax? Explain. You'll have two lessons to research and draft this paper.

∞ Article Link: Five-Act Structure
∞ Article Link: Five-Act Opt. 2

→ WRITE

For today, write your initial thoughts on the question above and where you see the various aspects of a five-act structure in The Tempest. Then go to the actual play and re-read relevant scenes. Look for lines that demonstrate this arc (or push back against the idea) and collect them in a document (make sure to gather the references for them as well - see Academic Writing II p.72-73 for examples of how to cite Shakespeare).

• REFERENCE
Plays/Shakespeare
Book: The Tempest

WEEK 6 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 71

Essay

→ WRITE

Remember when you learned that many pieces of writing are focused around a question? Notice how your entire piece today is focused around the question "Is the play following the general 5-part structure arc of a play?" That is your large question. Then notice the smaller questions that will help you answer that larger one: Where do you identify the introduction, rising action, and climax? You'll have another lesson time to work on this essay. There are many ways you could proceed, but here is

• REFERENCE
Plays/Shakespeare
Book: The Tempest

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Term 2

one possibility (a classic five-paragraph essay):

• Introduction: Introduce the main question and write your answer in one sentence (your thesis).
• Paragraph: Where/do you see the standard features of an "introduction" in The Tempest?
• Paragraph: Where/do you see the standard features of "rising action"?
• Paragraph: Where/do you see the standard features of a "climax"?
• Conclusion: Summarize your main points and give any additional thoughts about how the assignment helped you understand the play better, any additional questions you have, etc.

Your final essay should be about 2 pages long (double-spaced in 12-point Times New Roman font), which means you'll want to write 2-3 body paragraphs proving your thesis, along with an introduction and a conclusion.

Spend the time today drafting your thesis and gathering the evidence you gathered the last lesson into paragraphs and an argument.

Remember that you'll have another lesson to revise and finish your essay.

WEEK 6

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 72
Poetry/Scene

→ WRITE
Try writing a poem about one of your readings (or rewrite a narration) in Short Meter (four-line stanzas with a 6-6-8-6 syllable pattern). This is a common meter for hymns, and a favorite one of Emily Dickinson (See "A Bird came down the Walk").
OR
Write a scene for a play or tell it graphic novel/comic style.

• REFERENCE
History of Literature (Lesson 17)
Emily Dickinson

WEEK 7

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 73

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ & NARRATE
p.117-middle of p.123
Narrate new ideas orally, in writing, or in verse.

WEEK 7

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 74
Poetry - Comparison

→ REVIEW
What do you remember about found poetry?

→ WRITE
Create a found poem out of at least two different sources today. You could use two closely related sources, or you could pick two sources that contrast in some way.

• Choose your two different specific passages (keep them short)
• Brainstorm why you think each source is interesting.
• Jot down similarities and differences between them.
• Jot down any new thoughts or questions you have because of the comparison.
• Highlight words or phrases in each of the selections that you like and that seem important to the passages.
• Put those words and phrases into a separate document or sheet of paper.
• Start building your poem. Here you will have to decide the form and direction of your poem. You could write a stanza of your poem using one source and then a second using the other source, and then conclude it with a third stanza reflecting poetically on their similarities or differences and the new questions you have by putting them together. The main question to ask yourself is: "Why is it interesting to consider these two different sources together in the same poem?" Maybe they highlight the variety of things composed during the same time period. Or the way that people's experiences have similarities across time and space. Maybe they just raise questions for you.

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Term 2

• Keep writing your poem until the end of the lesson. You can use a revision lesson later in the term (or spend your own time) to refine your poem further if interested.

WEEK 7

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 75
Revision

➜ REVISE
Now that your Shakespeare paper (Lesson 70-71) has rested, revise it with fresh eyes.

Work through the following levels of revision. Look back at previous revision lessons if you need to review specific steps for each of the first two levels of revision.

1. global revisions (structure, transitions, content to add or change)
- For this paper, work to articulate a larger research problem in your introduction and conclusion and connect that to your thesis to build significance. Often, you'll discover reasons to be more interested yourself, by trying to convince an imaginary reader!

2. sentence-level revisions
- push yourself to a deeper level of thinking with this little trick. Pick one paragraph and after every sentence write the word because. Force yourself to finish the sentence and articulate the why. Writers often find it easy to make a claim without giving the deeper reasoning. If you want to push further, take your second sentence and write because after that one!

3. formatting revisions
-for this project, follow these formatting guidelines (adapted from Advanced Academic Writing II p.8-9. See sample paper on p.9 for a visual).

• Set your font to Times New Roman size 12.
• Set a one-inch margin on all four sides.
• Set all text to double-spaced.
• Indent all paragraphs.
• Left-justify the text (usually the default).
• Put your name, your teacher's name, the course name (Composition: Grade 11), and the date on separate lines at the beginning of your paper.
• Center the title of your paper (come up with one if you haven't yet).
• See Academic Writing II p.72-73 for examples of how to cite Shakespeare)

WEEK 7

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 76
Compare/Contrast

➜ WRITE
Write a well-organized paragraph or two comparing The Aeneid's opening Invocation to the Muse (lines 1-13) to the openings of The Iliad and The Odyssey.

• REFERENCE
Poetry Reading 11-12 (Lesson 37)

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Composition: Grade 12

Click THIS text or scan the QR code for links.

Term 2

∞ PDF Link: Iliad Opening Lines
∞PDF Link: Odyssey Opening Lines
• How is Virgil both imitating Homer and also doing something very new?

WEEK 8 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 77

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ & NARRATE
p.123-middle of p.129

• Narrate in a variety of ways.

WEEK 8 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 78
Questions

→ WRITE
Pick a non-fiction book and a fiction book from this term, and write at least 10 questions about each. Think about the way different books lend themselves to different questions. Identify a few research problems that are connected to your questions.

→ RESEARCH
Pick one question and research the topic. Who else is in the scholarly conversation?

Note: When you are writing about a book, key secondary sources are texts by scholars who have also written about the book for an academic audience. When you are writing about an event or a particular topic in history or science, for example, you are looking for the conversation about that topic.

WEEK 8 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 79
Poetic Meditation

→ RESEARCH & WRITE
Over the next two lessons, you'll create your own poetic paraphrase and meditation on a psalm.

Today:
• Pick a psalm that you either love or don't know much about and want to know better.
• Read it in at least 3 different translations (and if you're learning another language, try reading the psalm in that language as well).
• Underline phrases or words that strike you, images you notice, connections to other psalms or passages, etc.
• Decide a poetic form (such as a sonnet) and/or rhyme/meter you'd like to use (you can change this later if desired).
• Practice writing a few lines in the meter you're hoping to use.
• Start writing your paraphrase and meditation of your psalm.

NOTE: Aim to choose a psalm that is somewhere between 10-30 verses. Or you could try two shorter psalms. You could also just pick a few stanzas of a longer psalm like Psalm 119. (An idea: You could paraphrase a few stanzas of Psalm 119 and keep its acrostic pattern!)

WEEK 8 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 80
Poetic Meditation

→ WRITE & REVISE
• Continue your poetic paraphrase and meditation on your chosen psalm. When you are finished, look back over your poem.

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Term 2

• Read it aloud and circle or underline any words or phrases that don't flow or sound quite right. Revise.
• Share your poem with someone else and ask for feedback.
• If you have time left in the lesson (or on your own time), consider any illustrations you might want to add.

WEEK 9

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 81

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ & NARRATE
p.129-top of p.136

WEEK 9

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 82
Scene Writing/Dialogue

→ INTRO
It's hard to get dialogue in a book to sound natural. Read these thoughts on writing dialogue.
∞ Article Link: Thoughts on Dialogue (stop at "other than stage direction.")

→ WRITE
Write a scene for a play from The Count of Monte Cristo, Jane Eyre, or James, a Bible passage, or another reading. Don't forget the instructions for the stage setup and any props! Feel free to look back at a Shakespeare play to remind yourself how to format/write a scene.

• REFERENCE
General Literature 11-12
Bible

WEEK 9

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 83
Outline/Dialogue

→ WRITE
Continue adding to your thoughts from the last lesson.
OR
Write a dialogue or scene between two characters from different books.

WEEK 9

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 84
Editing

→ REVISE
Revise your found poem from two sources (Lesson 74), your poetic meditation on a psalm or another poem from this term.

1. Revisit the rules of the form you're using (if applicable).
2. Read your poem aloud. Are there any grammar or spelling errors to fix?
3. Does your poem follow the rules of its form? (Rhyme, meter, etc.). If you are breaking any of the rules, decide if you are breaking them for a reason to make a point, or if you need to work on finding a different word to fit the rhyme scheme or meter.
4. Re-read the story or selection the work your poem is based on. Is there anything you didn't get into the poem the first time that you want to add? Delete?
5. Think about the flow of the ideas and images in your poem. Is there a better way to organize them? Does your poem follow a logical flow?
6. Imagery and metaphor are important in nearly all poems. What images and comparisons does your poem use, and are there any others that might capture an image or idea even more vividly? Think of at least two other images or comparisons you could use and try them out. Decide which is best and keep that.
7. Jot down a few things you want your reader to walk away thinking or feeling after hearing your poem. Go read your poem aloud to someone (or two!) and ask them what their initial impressions are. If they are completely different than what you intended, consider what you might want to alter so that your purpose comes through more clearly.

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Term 2

WEEK 10 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 85

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ & NARRATE
p.136-143

• Write a 1-2 page double-spaced reflection on one of the main topics from the chapter; include examples from your term readings.

WEEK 10 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 86
Poetic Language

→ WRITE
Write a series of similes describing several of Grieg's pieces or movements within pieces that you've heard this year.

Remember this example from earlier in the term describing the Holberg Suite's opening movement "like a caffeinated squirrel sprinting through a fjord" (Hermione Lai, Interlude.hk).

OR

Compose a series of similes about any of your readings this term.

• REFERENCE
Composer Study (Lesson 22)

WEEK 10 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 87
Compare & Contrast

→ WRITE
Pick two or three different aspects to compare and contrast in a few of these different worlds: Roman World, British North America, Indigenous North America, 19th-century Europe, or Civil War-era America. You will have three lessons total to work on your comparison and contrast.

Today, spend time brainstorming some contrasts you want to focus on. Write down any ideas that immediately come to mind, then look back at your books, take notes, write down quotes, look for any additional books or secondary sources on these topics at your library or online, and enjoy researching!

Remember that "research" literally means "re search" as in "search again." Don't just settle for the initial impressions that come to your mind - go look for more contrasts and comparisons, and look for specific quotes to back up and use as evidence for the ideas you have at first (or quotes which challenge your ideas!).

Ideas for possible contrasts:
- economics, political structure, view of writing, family customs, religion, etc.

• REFERENCE
Ancient History: Grades 10-12 + all history topics.

WEEK 10 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 88

Materials: Advanced Academic Writing II

Compare & Contrast

→ WRITE
Continue your compare and contrast project from the last lesson. Focus on pulling your ideas together and writing today. Your paper should be 2-3 pages long (double-spaced in Times New Roman font 12), so you'll

• REFERENCE
Ancient History: Grades 10-12 + all history topics.
Book: The World David Knew

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Term 2

probably want to have at least 3 body paragraphs.

Everyone has to find their own process for writing, but often it is best to draft your thesis, write your main body paragraphs showing your comparisons and contrasts, and then finish by writing your introduction and conclusion.

If you get stuck writing, take a break for a few minutes and look up the information you'll need for your Works Cited page. Refer to p.9 in Advanced Academic Writing II for examples of a Works Cited entry. Remember: you'll need works cited entries for all books you either quote or paraphrase.

WEEK 11 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 89

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ & NARRATE
p.144-bottom of p.153

• Narrate in a variety of ways.

WEEK 11 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 90
Storytelling

→ WRITE
Take a break from essay writing and tell a story. You can tell a story from something your read, your life, or something you make up. Focus on showing and telling and immersing your reader in the narrative.

Share your work with someone (after you do an initial revision)!

WEEK 11 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 91
Catch Up Day

→ CATCH UP
Use this time to Catch Up on assignments in this or another course.

• REFERENCE
General Literature: Grades 11-12
Book: Hunahpu & Xbalanque

WEEK 11 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 92
Revision

→ REVISE
As you revise your comparison and contrast paper on different worlds in our historical time period, envision someone reading your paper who is somewhat familiar with your topic but hasn't read your books. Try to see your paper through their eyes, and think of what they might need to know to understand what you've written. For some, this revision process is your favorite part, and you love making your paper look sleek and smooth. for others, it seems tedious. Either way, remember that this is a way to be kind to your reader and to stretch yourself.

Big-Picture/Global Revision
1. Are there other ideas you've had more recently that you'd like to add to your current events essay? Do that now.
2. Revise your thesis now that you have written the rest of your essay. Is it clear and concise?
3. Does your introduction include the main question and topic you are trying to address in your essay? Does it tie to a larger research problem?
4. Look at your paragraphs. Are they indented and focused around one idea each? Describe that main idea in one sentence and consider making that the first sentence of your paragraph.
5. Do your paragraphs flow well? Experiment with moving your key

★ STUDENT NOTE
Remember the 6 rules of Concision from Style: Basics of Clarity and Grace:
1. Delete words that mean little or nothing.
2. Delete words that repeat the meaning of other words.
3. Delete words implied by other words.
4. Replace a phrase with a word.
5. Change negatives to affirmatives.
6. Delete useless adjectives and adverbs.

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Term 2

comparisons/contrasts in a different order. Which makes the most sense?
6. Does each of your paragraphs tie back to your thesis?

Sentence - Level Revision
1. Read your paper aloud and fix any grammar errors you hear and see.
2. Use Grammarly or another spell checker to find any other punctuation or spelling issues and fix those.
3. Give your essay a title.
4. Make main characters the subjects of sentences and important action verbs where possible.
5. How well do your sentences flow? Put old information before new information in your sentences.
6. Delete unnecessary words and change negatives to affirmatives.
7. Make sure your sentences are complete, not fragments.
8. Make sure your essay is consistently in 3rd person.

Formatting & Citation Revisions
1. For this project, follow the formatting guidelines in Advanced Academic Writing II p.8-9.
2. Set your font to Times New Roman, size 12.
3. Be sure to add your Works Cited page as a separate page after your essay, and format it with hanging indents. Remember, you can look up anything online if you've forgotten how to double-space your paper, etc.

→ REFERENCE
Advanced Academic Writing II p.16-39 includes some helpful information on common grammar and usage mistakes.

WEEK 12 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 93
Exam Week

→ EXAMS
Answer question(s) related to course.

Questions will come from:
Caring for Words

WEEK 12 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 94
Exam Week

→ EXAMS
Answer question(s) related to course.

Questions will come from:
Composition Lessons

WEEK 12 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 95
Exam Week

→ EXAMS
Answer question(s) related to course.

Questions will come from:
Composition Lessons

WEEK 12 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 96
Exam Week

→ EXAMS
Answer question(s) related to course.

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Composition: Grade 12

Click THIS text or scan the QR code for links.

Term 2

Questions will come from:
Composition Lessons

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Composition: Grade 12

Click THIS text or scan the QR code for links.

Term 3

WEEK 1 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 97

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ & NARRATE
p.153-middle of p.158

• Narrate in a variety of ways.

WEEK 1 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 98

Materials: Advanced Academic Writing II, Craft of Research

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS
Advanced Academic Writing II
p.88-89
p.116-117

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS
Craft of Research
Ch.8 "Making Claims"

WEEK 1 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 99
Compare & Contrast

→ WRITE
Pick one or two specific passages or verses from your Bible reading in the gospels. Look up the same passage in at least three different translations of the Bible. Then write an essay comparing and contrasting the different translations. Explain the different imagery and how the emphases come out differently. Biblegateway.com is a good online resource to use to compare translations if you do not have three different physical translations in your house.

• REFERENCE
New Testament
Book: NIV Cultural Backgrounds Study Bible, any other translations you like!

WEEK 1 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 100
Tone/Imitation

→ WRITE
Have you noticed any mannerisms in the authors you've read this year (in school or on your own time)? Try writing (or re-writing) a narration the way one of your favorite authors would. When you're done, read your narration aloud to someone else and see if they can guess the author you're imitating!
OR
Write your own spiritual biography.

WEEK 2 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 101

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ & NARRATE
p.158-top of p.165
Narrate in a variety of ways.

WEEK 2 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 102

Materials: Craft of Research

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS
Ch.9 "Assembling Reasons and Evidence"

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Composition: Grade 12

Click THIS text or scan the QR code for links.

Term 3

WEEK 2 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 103
Scene Writing

→ WRITE
Write a section from Things Fall Apart, The Celebrated Jumping Frog of Calaveras County, The Gift of the Magi, The Aeneid (or another book of your choice) as a short play. You'll have two lesson periods to focus on this. Today, focus on sketching out the big picture. How many scenes will you include? (Remember, scenes can be short.) What will you focus on in each scene? What extra characters will you invent? Look at one of Shakespeare's plays or another play you've read to remind yourself how to format your writing.

Once you have a general idea of how you want your play to go (of course you'll tweak things as you go), start writing!

Here is one example of how someone else turned part of Pride & Prejudice into a play.
∞ PDF Link: Scenes by Pertwee

• REFERENCE
General Lit (Term 3)
All books and short stories

Poetry Reading (Term 3)
Book: The Aeneid

WEEK 2 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 104
Editing

→ WRITE & REVISE
Continue writing your scenes. Save at least 10 minutes at the end to review and edit.

1. Check punctuation, grammar, and spelling with your own eyes and a spell checker.
2. Read your dialogue aloud and revise. Does it sound natural? Remember that we tend to speak in shorter sentences and fragments.
3. Add instructions for props as desired.
4. Make sure you indicate the setting for each scene (i.e. the front yard of a house, a boat, etc.)
5. Write a summary of each scene (if you have multiple) describing what happens in it.
6. Make a plan to have some friends perform your play!

• REFERENCE
Poetry Study: Grades 9-12 (Lesson 51)

WEEK 3 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 105

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ, NARRATE, & WRITE
p.165-middle of p.172

• Write a 1-2 page double-spaced reflection on one of the main topics in the chapter; include examples from your term readings.

WEEK 3 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 106

Materials: Craft of Research

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS
Ch.12 "Planning & Drafting"

WEEK 3 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 107
Diagram/Infographic

→ CREATE
Sketch or create a diagram online showing the process of something from

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Composition: Grade 12

Click THIS text or scan the QR code for links.

Term 3

beginning to end. You could illustrate a science lab, how to bake cookies, or anything else. Think about how to communicate your flow of ideas visually.

WEEK 3 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 108
Technology/visual

→ CREATE
Make a poster, infographic, a mind map, or any other sort of visual from your reading that you'd like to see another way. Use one of the ideas below or come up with your own. Draw or model it in 3-D by hand if desired first and if there is time left, try creating it with Canva.

- Events in Jesus' life from your reading in the gospels
- Character map from The Count of Monte Cristo, Things Fall Apart, Shakespeare, or another reading!
- Something from Science
- Connections between different books you've read this year
- Structure of an Epistle from the Bible
- Something from History or Geography

• STUDENT TIP
Infographics can also be helpful to plot out the different perspectives you find while researching a book, event, or person.

WEEK 4 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 109

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ & NARRATE
p.172-bottom of p.178

- Narrate in a variety of ways.

WEEK 4 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 110

Materials: Craft of Research

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS
Ch.13 "Organizing Your Argument"

WEEK 4 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 111
Brainstorm

Imagine you are going to write a research paper on the Pig War. Where do you start? With a brainstorm of possible topics, questions, and ideas. You can use the research questions and ideas in the link below to get you started. Next week you will begin a Research Paper project. You could choose to write on the Pig War or another topic of your choosing, but brainstorming is a great first step!
∞ Article Link: Pig War Research Project

• REFERENCE
Folk Songs (Lesson 28)

WEEK 4 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 112
Newspaper Article

Create a newspaper article about one of the entertainers or sports you've read about in American History: Volume 2.

OR
Create a newspaper article about another event you have read about recently in another History course.

• REFERENCE
U.S. History 9-12 (Lesson 55)
Book: US History: Volume 2

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Composition: Grade 12

Click THIS text or scan the QR code for links.

Term 3

WEEK 5	⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 113 Materials: Caring for Words → READ, NARRATE, & WRITE p.178-187 • Write a 1-2 page double-spaced reflection on one of the main topics in the chapter; include examples from your term readings.
WEEK 5	⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 114 Materials: Advanced Academic Writing II, Craft of Research → WRITE Over the next few weeks you'll work on a research paper. Look back over several of your writing assignments, questions you've generated, or narrations for the term, and pick one you'd like to expand into an essay or generate a new idea. Your essay will be about 3-4 pages long (7-9 paragraphs). To choose a topic, ask yourself "What question am I interested in exploring more?" and "What question can I answer in a few pages?" After you think you have an idea of what you'd like to write about, look back at your books to jot down specific ideas you might want to include, relevant quotes, etc. Make sure you end up with a specific question you're interested in. This is your guiding star. NOTE: Refer to your references on writing if you get stuck.
WEEK 5	⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 115 Style → WRITE Write about something you've read, experienced, or imagined in the style of another author (living or dead). Read your work to someone and see if they can guess the author you're trying to imitate!
WEEK 5	⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 116 Outline → WRITE Outline a couple of the chapters you have read so far in one of your Church History or Citizenship readings. (Remember, an outline is just a list of the key points from each chapter. It is often done in a bullet-point format).	• REFERENCE Church History OR Citizenship
WEEK 6	⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 117 Materials: Caring for Words → READ & NARRATE p.188-bottom of p.194 Narrate in a variety of ways.

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Composition: Grade 12

Click THIS text or scan the QR code for links.

Term 3

WEEK 6 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 118

Materials: Advanced Academic Writing II, Craft of Research

→ RESEARCH
Continue working on your essay you began in Lesson 114. Today, focus on researching. What questions are others asking in the conversation about your topic? Are they similar or different from yours? How does your question relate to other questions scholars are discussing? You'll have to identify key sources and scholars and read at least the introduction and conclusion of books or articles to get a sense for this.

Remember: you can often find quality sources in footnotes or bibliographies! Follow the clues.

WEEK 6 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 119

Materials: Advanced Academic Writing II

Editing

→ REVISE
Pick a previous narration that is at least two paragraphs long to revise and rewrite. Follow your typical process and work through big-picture revisions and sentence-level revisions.

Then format your narration in MLA format (refer to Advanced Academic Writing II if needed).

Share your revised narration with someone.

WEEK 6 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 120
Powerpoint/ Google Slides OR Poetry

→ CREATE
Make a PowerPoint to accompany a previous narration or writing assignment.
OR
Write or re-write a narration as a poem.

→ SHARE
Share your work with someone!

• STUDENT TIP
Don't forget!
∞ Article Link: Rules for Powerpoints

WEEK 7 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 121

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ & NARRATE
p.194-bottom of p.202

WEEK 7 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 122

Materials: Advanced Academic Writing II

→ DRAFT
Time to draft! Pull your own observations together with your research and start to draft your paper.

NOTE: Everyone gets ideas onto paper differently. The drafting process looks different for everyone. Some start by outlining their whole paper. Others just start writing and then create a roadmap later. Others sketch by hand. Find what works for you. The goal is to start collecting all the information you've read into an ordered argument, and that's not a simple task!

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Term 3

WEEK 7

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 123
Analysis

→ WRITE
Pick a commonplace book quote and describe why you like it.

Then write at least 10 questions about the quote and how it relates to the book it's from, other books you've read, the historical setting, wider themes in the book, or more.

WEEK 7

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 124
Catch-Up Day

→ CATCH UP
Use this time to catch up on writing assignments that you haven't had a chance to finish in this course.

WEEK 8

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 125

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ, NARRATE, & WRITE
p.202-209

• Write a 1-2 page double-spaced reflection on one of the main topics in the chapter; include examples from your term readings.

WEEK 8

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 126

Materials: Advanced Academic Writing II, Craft of Research

→ WRITE/REVISE
Continue working on your paper. Aim to refine your thesis, your topic sentences, and write your introduction and conclusion today.

WEEK 8

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 127
Essay - Characterization

→ WRITE
Do you think Aeneas is in charge of his own actions, or is he being controlled by fate and the gods. Give reasons from your reading and cite line numbers.

• REFERENCE
Poetry Reading: Grades 9-12 (Lesson 64)

WEEK 8

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 128
Revise

→ REVISE
Start revising your research paper. Begin with global revisions, then move on to sentence-level revision. Use your references as needed.

WEEK 9

⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 129

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ & NARRATE
p.210-middle of p.218

• Narrate in a variety of ways.

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Composition: Grade 12

Click THIS text or scan the QR code for links.

Term 3

WEEK 9 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 130

Materials: Craft of Research

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS
Ch.17 "Revising Style"

WEEK 9 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 131
Essay: Format

→ FORMAT
Spend this lesson formatting your research essay from the last several weeks. Check your spacing, font, margins, citations, title, Works Cited, etc.

WEEK 9 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 132
Poetry

→ WRITE
Write or re-write a narration in verse, dialogue, or a 1st person narrative.

WEEK 10 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 133

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ, NARRATE, & WRITE
p.218-222

• Write a 1-2 page double-spaced reflection on one of the main topics in the chapter; include examples from your term readings.

WEEK 10 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 134

Materials: The Craft of Research

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS
Part V "The Ethics of Research"

WEEK 10 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 135
Reflection

→ WRITE
Write down questions you have about writing. Where do you think you have improved? Where do you think you need to grow? What about writing is the most fun, most confusing, easiest, and hardest?

Discuss with your teacher.

WEEK 10 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 136
Letter

→ WRITE
Write a letter from Paul Dunbar to his mother describing his life in England. Or, choose a character from another book this term and write a letter in their voice.

• REFERENCE
Poetry Reading 9-12 (Lesson 67)

WEEK 11 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 137

Materials: Caring for Words

→ READ & NARRATE
p.223-234

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Composition: Grade 12

Click THIS text or scan the QR code for links.

Term 3

- Contemplate the silence and rest.

WEEK 11 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 138
Catch Up Day

→ CATCH-UP
Catch up on lessons in this or another course or explore Extra Helpings.

WEEK 11 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 139
Essay - Character

→ WRITE
What do you think makes a true hero according to Virgil? Do you agree with him?
OR
Write a character sketch of Aeneas or Okonkwo from Things Fall Apart. What is he like? What are his chief characteristics?

- REFERENCE

Poetry Reading: Grades 9-12 (Term 3)
General Literature: Grades 11-12 (Term 3)

WEEK 11 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 140

Materials: Advanced Academic Writing II

Revision

→ REVISE
Revise and edit your character sketch from the last lesson. Work through Big-Picture, Sentence-Level, and Formatting/Citation Revisions.

WEEK 12 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 141
Exam Week

→ EXAMS
Answer question(s) related to course.

Questions will come from:
Caring for Words

WEEK 12 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 142
Exam Week

→ EXAMS
Answer question(s) related to course.

Questions will come from:
Advanced Academic Writing II

WEEK 12 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 143
Exam Week

→ EXAMS
Answer question(s) related to course.

Questions will come from:
Composition Lessons

WEEK 12 ⬚ 40m Composition: Grade 12 - Lesson 144
Exam Week

→ EXAMS
Answer question(s) related to course.

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Composition: Grade 12

Click THIS text or scan the QR code for links.

Term 3

Questions will come from:
Craft of Research

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.

Composition: Grade 12

Examination

Term 1

· Caring for Words: Write on one of McEntyre's Stewardship Strategies in Caring for Words.

· Describe a few ways you've seen the relevance of storytelling in unexpected places (websites, for instance). Give specific examples.

Term 2

· Caring for Words: McEntyre discusses the idea of asking ourselves questions when we read. Tell of some types of questions & ways they may be helpful. What do stories require of us?

· The Craft of Research: How do you identify good secondary sources? Share anything else that's stuck out to you in Craft of Research.

Term 3

· Caring for Words: McEntyre discusses 'Stewardship Strategy'. What is the importance of 'Attending to Translation'? Give any other word stewardship ideas that struck you.

· Caring for Words: Write a reflection on how "long sentences take us on journeys worth making," OR What is meant by "trained imaginations are what we need most at a time like this"?

©2026 Charlotte Mason Institute® All rights reserved.