

Canadian History

About the Course

Read about Canadian history from 1800-1900 through books that immerse students in the time period and allow them to see the world through the eyes of those who lived it. Through engaging narratives, biographies, history spines, primary source documents, oral histories, historical fiction, and books that show different perspectives, students come to see history as more than dates and events and develop relationships with people from the past. Viewing images, looking at maps, and working on one's Book of Centuries are also part of developing this relationship.

This topic is included in the following course(s): History: Grades 7-8 (Canada)

How To Teach

Prepare

- Read through the lesson and gather any necessary links.
- If you have not read the book, you may want to read the selected pages in advance.
- Decide which lessons/books to read together and which to have students read independently.

Recap

- Connect back to the previous lesson. Have students give a summary of what they remember. (Full narration is not necessary.)
- If the previous passage is difficult to remember, teachers may ask a leading question: "What can you tell me about..." Or students may try looking back at any chapter/section headings or illustrations or reading the first paragraph to jog the memory.

Introduce

- Use a picture, map, or engaging question to pique the student's interest in the day's lesson (often included in lesson plans).
- If necessary, talk about a few unfamiliar words that will be crucial to understanding.

Read

- Read the day's passage out loud or have the student read independently. Sometimes reading for the specified time is a better guide.
- If a book is challenging, try stopping to narrate every now and then rather than waiting until the end. It can also help to read aloud. Or you might want to use an audiobook version of the text and have students read along with it.
- Have students keep an eye out for events or characters to add to their Citizenship Notebook, Book of Centuries, or Copywork Book.

Narrate

- Have students retell the passage orally or write a narration.
- Alternatively, students might analyze a character, trace cause to consequence, outline a passage, or use one of the other methods indicated by Charlotte Mason in School Education Chapter 16, especially p.180.
- Students who enjoy writing can experiment with different types of written narrations, but this is not required.

Discuss

- Give the student an opportunity to share thoughts on the lesson and any connections made (orally or in writing).

- You could ask them what they thought about the passage or ask an open-ended question to stimulate discussion. Discussion questions are often included in the lesson plans.

Connect

- Optional: Add something to the Book of Centuries, Century Chart, Citizenship Notebook, or Commonplace book. If students would like to include pictures, these may be drawn or printed.

Term 1

WEEK 1 30m Canadian History: Grades 7-8 - Lesson 1

Introduction - The War of 1812

Materials: Jeremy's War 1812

→ INTRO

Throughout much of the eighteenth century and into the second decade of the nineteenth century, the British Navy was engaged in near-continuous naval conflicts until peace was declared in 1815, after the Battle of Waterloo. One of Britain's last major battles before then was the War of 1812, in which Canada, then still a collection of British colonies, became the battleground for a conflict between the United States and Britain over many long-standing grievances, including shipping rights and American expansionist plans.

The first historical novel we will read in this course is Jeremy's War 1812, a gripping account of the war told from the perspective of a fifteen-year-old orphaned boy who joins a regiment of British soldiers and eventually becomes the personal servant of Sir Isaac Brock. Historical details blend smoothly with a fictional story to create a detailed recreation of this definitive period in Canada's pre-Confederation history.

→ VIEW

The following video gives some background on the stakes for Canada in the War of 1812 and its importance for Canada's history.

∞ Video Link: The War of 1812 | The Canadian Perspective

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.7-18 "They were expecting me" - "and walked inside."

- Who are the characters you meet as the novel opens? How are they related to each other? What are they like? You may choose to keep a character list with some notes.

WEEK 1 30m Canadian History: Grades 7-8 - Lesson 2

The War of 1812, cont.

Materials: Jeremy's War 1812

→ RECAP

What did you learn about the characters of Jeremy and his uncle from the last reading?

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.19-32 "We were in a storeroom" - "continued down the road."

- What do you think of the choices Jeremy makes in this chapter? What would you have done in his place? What are you learning about his character and what it was like to be a teenager in the nineteenth century?

★ TEACHER NOTE

Sensitive content, p.32: Parents and teachers may wish to explain that the word "rape" can also mean to snatch or take something by force; from the Latin rapio, which also gives us the English word "raptor."

WEEK 2 30m Canadian History: Grades 7-8 - Lesson 3

The War of 1812, cont.

Materials: Jeremy's War 1812

→ RECAP

Take a moment to recall Jeremy's situation at the end of the last reading.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.33-46 "It was hard to sleep" - "have General Brock."

- Explain the causes of the War of 1812 as they are presented in today's reading. What makes Captain Stanton hopeful for success?

Term 1

→ VIEW

Take a few minutes to look at this map of York, now Toronto, made in 1813. In today's reading, Jeremy travels south on Yonge St. (most likely the sole road on this map that stretches north through the forest). Notice in the "Remark" on the map, that bridges over the Don River to the east of York were "decaying fast" and "in so great danger of falling that it was thought requisite at this time (Nov. 1813) to support." While the bridge that collapsed under Jeremy was north rather than east of York, this map shows that at this time, bridges could be hazardous for travellers.

WEEK 2 30m Canadian History: Grades 7-8 - Lesson 4

The War of 1812, cont.

 Materials: Jeremy's War 1812

→ RECAP

What do you recall of Jeremy's introduction to the 41st regiment from the last reading? You may want to refer back to the 1813 map of York as you read about the regiment's march towards the city.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.46-58 "Brock. I'd heard the name" - "I wondered what he knew."

- What do you think of Jeremy's decision? What do you think life will be like for him in the army?

WEEK 3 30m Canadian History: Grades 7-8 - Lesson 5

The War of 1812, cont.

 Materials: Jeremy's War 1812

→ RECAP

How did Jeremy describe the town of York and the garrison in the last reading?

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.59-71 "Mostly I remember" - "me to follow."

- What more do we learn about Jeremy's character from today's reading? How do you think he will fare as a batman? Why was he chosen?

→ VIEW

Learn more through reenactments about the rations served to soldiers in the War of 1812 and the Brown Bess musket Jeremy learns to use in today's reading:

WEEK 3 30m Canadian History: Grades 7-8 - Lesson 6

The War of 1812, cont.

 Materials: Jeremy's War 1812

→ RECAP

What do you recall from the last reading?

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.71-83 "We were in a hallway" - "I kept my mouth shut."

- What are your first impressions of General Brock? Continue to add to your character list.

Over the course of the term, you will spend some time looking at the War of 1812 from four separate perspectives: the British, the American, the Canadian, and the Native American. Today, spend some time exploring the resources explaining the War of 1812 from the British perspective. Make some notes of what interests you.
