Ancient History: Grades 7-9

The Sand-Reckoner is a well-written and well-researched account of a portion of the life of Archimedes. Math, engineering, duty, justice, stewardship, and courage are some of the themes. The setting is Syracuse in 264 B.C. and as such has a few references to immoral behavior representative of the period as well as some light romantic content that you may want to preview to decide what is best for your particular student(s), especially those on the younger end of the age range. Some may choose to read the story aloud to edit on the fly if needed and to encourage discussion. Some may choose to edit some wording in the text. Others will be fine with the content as is. We encourage all to provide an inviting space for students to ask questions and share thoughts as they process what they are reading in their books. Pages to preview: 14, 36, 40-41, 171, 198, 204, 249. There is always the option of substituting for either of the books scheduled in Grades 4-6 as well.

How To Teach

Prepare

- Read through the lesson and gather any necessary links.
- If you have not read the book, you may want to read the selected pages in advance.
- Decide which lessons/books to read together and which to have students read independently.

Recap

- Connect back to the previous lesson. Have students give a summary of what they remember. (Full narration is not necessary.)
- If the previous passage is difficult to remember, teachers may ask a leading question: "What can you tell me about..." Or students may try looking back at any chapter/section headings or illustrations or reading the first paragraph to jog the memory.

Introduce

- Use a picture, map, or engaging question to pique the student's interest in the day's lesson (often included in lesson plans).
- If necessary, talk about a few unfamiliar words that will be crucial to understanding.

Read

- Read the day's passage out loud or have the student read independently. Sometimes reading for the specified time is a better guide.
- If a book is challenging, try stopping to narrate every now and then rather than waiting until the end. It can also help to read aloud. Or you might want to use an audiobook version of the text and have students read along with it.
- Have students keep an eye out for events or characters to add to their Citizenship Notebook, Book of Centuries, or Copywork Book.

Narrate

- Have students retell the passage orally or write a narration.
- Alternatively, students might analyze a character, trace cause to consequence, outline a passage, or use one of the other methods indicated by Charlotte Mason in School Education Chapter 16, especially p.180.
- Students who enjoy writing can experiment with different types of written narrations, but this is not required.

Discuss

- Give the student an opportunity to share thoughts on the lesson and any connections made (orally or in writing).

- You could ask them what they thought about the passage or ask an open-ended question to stimulate discussion. Discussion questions are often included in the lesson plans.

Connect

- Optional: Add something to the Book of Centuries, Century Chart, Citizenship Notebook, or Commonplace book. If students would like to include pictures, these may be drawn or printed.

Term 1

WEEK 1 30m Ancient History: Grades 7-9 - Lesson 1

Meeting Sulla

Materials: A Short History of Ancient Rome, Historical Atlas of the World

→ INTRO

This year you are learning about ancient Rome. We are not starting at the beginning with the legend of Romulus and Remus in 753 B.C. We are jumping ahead to 88 BC. The Roman Republic had become a world power. It has marched through the Greek world, razed cities like Carthage and unseated powerful people. As Pascal Hughes says, "the march of Rome appears unstoppable."

However, what had once been a republic which enabled certain people to vote in their leadership was quickly becoming more of a dictatorship which is where one person assumes absolute power. There were a number of factors that led to Sulla becoming the first dictator in the Roman Republic. He assumed power through political violence, manipulation of land and resources, and military coups. In 88 BC the Republic found itself in danger. Sulla's story doesn't start at the beginning of his dictatorship. As you read through Sulla's story, make sure to note any questions that come up from the reading. You can either discuss these questions with someone or write them down.

→ READ, NARRATE & DISCUSS

Ch.6 p.89-99 - end at "political violence tamed"

→ LOCATE

Map Resource: Historical Atlas of the World, p. 14-15. Find Carthage, Rome and any other cities that pop up in your reading to familiarize yourself with the world of Ancient Rome.

→ STUDENT TIP

Be sure to add some people, events, and drawings of artifacts to your book of centuries. Mark potential items with a Post-it note as you read so you remember to find something when you sit down to work in your book?

• IMPORTANT DATES

WEEK 3 30m Ancient History: Grades 7-9 - Lesson 3

Spartacus and a Revolt

Materials: A Short History of Ancient Rome, Historical Atlas of the World

→ INTRO

Rome is built on slavery. In 73 BC, there were more than a million people enslaved in Rome's Italian lands. As Pascal Hughes says, "Some have been bought from foreign merchants, others taken by military conquest, or enslaved as a punishment for criminality. Then there are the unfortunates who were born into bondage, or who are the victims of kidnap by slavers, or who could see no other option in life than to sell themselves into servitude." However, revolution came to Rome and it was led by a slave named Spartacus. There are modern day movies that praise the bravery of this man and those who rose up with him against the powers that shackled them. Spartacus' story is fraught with bravery and peril. But it would leave him a legend in the history books. As you read through Spartacus' story, what sticks out to you? Make sure to note any questions that come up from the reading. You can either discuss these questions with someone or write them down.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

Ch.7 p.110-118 - stop at "Third Servile War"

- How did Spartacus' actions influence the Roman Empire?

WEEK 5 30m Ancient History: Grades 7-9 - Lesson 5

Introducing Caesar

Materials: A Short History of Ancient Rome, Historical Atlas of the World

→ INTRO

Around the end of the 15th century, William Shakespeare wrote a tragedy titled Julius Caesar. The story of Julius Caesar captured audiences' attention then and it still is prominent in our modern day culture. The blood, betrayal and scandal of the story is what has led to this story's permanence. But as you will read, there is more to this story. Julius Caesar becomes a famous leader for a number of reasons. As you read through the story retold by Pascal Hughes, consider the many reasons Julius Caesar's story might attract so much attention.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

Ch.8 p.128-137 - stop at "even bigger one"

WEEK 1 30m Ancient History: Grades 7-9 - Lesson 25

The Christian Revolution

Materials: The Witness of Early Christian Women: Mothers of the Church

→ INTRO

How revolutionary was Christianity in the Roman Empire? Jesus' teachings challenged a lot of different ideas that had come to be accepted as truths, such as the belief that women were inferior. Mike Aquilina writes, "Males were superior (a man would say) because women were inferior. It was obvious to men. It was so obvious -- so obvious that it hardly needed an argument. Fire is hot, water is wet, and women are inferior to men. This unquestioned and unquestionable truth was the basis of all human society." So what happens when one of Christianity's most prolific writers challenges this idea in his letters? Think about Galatians 3:28 which reads, "There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither slave nor free, there is neither male nor female; for you are all one in Christ Jesus." Paul's words would have registered as an attack on Rome's family values.

Paul promotes the idea that women have a place in the society, a place in the Bible and a place in the early church. As you read through this book, we encourage you take note of anything that stands out, anything you agree with and anything you disagree with.
