

Canadian History

About the Course

Read about Canadian history from 1800-1900 through books that immerse students in the time period and allow them to see the world through the eyes of those who lived it. Through engaging narratives, biographies, history spines, primary source documents, oral histories, historical fiction, and books that show different perspectives, students come to see history as more than dates and events and develop relationships with people from the past. Viewing images, looking at maps, and working on one's Book of Centuries are also part of developing this relationship.

This topic is included in the following course(s): History: Grade 9 (Canada), History: Grade 10 (Canada)

Canadian History: Grades 9-10

How To Approach

Recap

- Take a second to recall what you read previously in the same book or topic.
- If the previous passage is difficult to remember, try looking back at any chapter/section headings or illustrations or reading the first paragraph to jog the memory.

Read

- Read the selection assigned OR read for the number of minutes allocated, leaving time for narration and mapwork. Use whichever guide (i.e., pages or minutes) works best for you. You want to read enough to be interesting, but not so much that you feel overwhelmed.
- If a book is challenging for you as a student, try stopping to narrate to yourself silently for a minute every now and then to make sure you are tracking. You might also want to read aloud to yourself. Or you might want to listen to an audiobook version of the text and read along with it.
- If a book is an easy read, enjoy the ride!
- Keep an eye out for quotes to put in your commonplace book or events or characters to put down in your Book of Centuries.

Narrate

- Process and integrate your reading by narrating either orally or in writing. Some lesson plans will give you a suggestion of how best to narrate.
- To keep yourself on track, you might want to set a timer, so you stop reading with enough time to narrate.

Connect

- After your narration, think about how what you read connects to other subjects, other books, and other things you've read, watched, or seen in the past or present.
- Share any ideas that are particularly interesting to you with your fellow classmates, teachers, parents, friends, or others. You might even want to do a bit more reading or research on something on your own time in the afternoon or evenings.

Teacher Note

These lessons are written directly to the student, but to assist them throughout the year, please read through this section and the lesson plans so you are familiar with the instructions and flow of the lessons. Accountability components are added to facilitate teacher/student discussion and growing independence.

Those educating at home might pick one or two history lessons to read aloud with their students to keep up the habit of oral narration and foster conversation and relationship, and then simply give students these lesson plans and the rest of the books and check in with them throughout the term for conversation, support, and accountability.

It is valuable for those in a classroom setting to also have a mix of lessons that students complete themselves silently and others read aloud and narrated together. Classroom settings lend themselves well to additional discussion and sharing at the end of lessons, after everyone has narrated either together or independently in writing.

Term 1

WEEK 1 40m Canadian History: Grades 9-10 - Lesson 1

Materials: Underground Railroad

→ INTRO

How do historians make discoveries about the past? The first book we will read this year - The Underground Railroad: Next Stop, Toronto! - explores what Toronto was like for African Americans seeking freedom in a new life in Canada. One aspect that makes this book so fascinating is that the authors show how they are able to learn about this period of history: there are lots of old photographs and newspaper articles from historical archives, but there was also an archaeological dig in downtown Toronto in 2015 that revealed a lot about who lived in Toronto during this period and how they lived. When we think of archaeology, we often think of discovering ruins from thousands of years ago, but archaeology also has a lot to teach us about our more recent past!

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.1-13 "The colored people" - "to live with them in Canada."

- How was Toronto involved in the larger story of the abolitionist movement?
- What did you learn about the life of Deborah Brown?

WEEK 1 30m Canadian History: Grades 9-10 - Lesson 2

Sophie's Rebellion

Materials: Sophie's Rebellion

→ RECAP

What do you remember from the last reading about the discontent and rebellions in Lower Canada (now Quebec)?

→ INTRO

Sophie's Rebellion is a fictional account of one American girl's experience of the 1837-1838 Rebellions, as she is caught up in the Battle of Beauharnois. Through Sophie's eyes, the reader is able to see multiple perspectives of this conflict and is introduced to a number of notable historical figures. The novel also provides an authentically detailed account of Upper and Lower Canada in the mid-nineteenth century.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.7-23 "The Rebellion of 1838" - "to have them."

- The book opens with a mysterious character named Luc. What do you know about him, and what questions do you still have?
- Who are the characters you meet as the novel opens? How are they related to each other? What are they like? What historical events have they been involved in, and where do their loyalties lie? You may choose to keep a character list with some notes.

→ VIEW

Look at the map below to see just how close Burlington, VT and Lake Champlain are to the Canadian border and Montreal.

Pre-Confederation Years

Materials: The Charlottetown Conference

→ INTRO

You may have heard of Canada's "Fathers of Confederation" and that Charlottetown, PEI, is sometimes called the "Birthplace of Confederation," but what really happened in the 1860s that led to Canada becoming a country? The next book we will read, The Charlottetown Conference and the Birth of Confederation, is a detailed account of the historical factors, issues, political players, and conferences that eventually led to Canada's Confederation in 1867. The book brings this historical period to life with numerous photographs, paintings, archival documents, and other primary sources, so be sure to spend some of your lesson time looking at the photos.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.1-8 "Robert Harris was several" - "wait another eight years."

→ NOTEBOOK

This book gives you an excellent chance to practice note-taking and finding information for a Century Chart or Book of Centuries. Look for important figures and significant dates and add them to a note-keeping format of your own choosing.

WEEK 1 30m Canadian History: Grades 9-10 - Lesson 26

Introduction - Vanished Beyond the Map

Materials: Vanished Beyond the Map

→ INTRO

Vanished Beyond the Map is an account of Adam Shoalts's quest to solve the mystery of what happened to Hubert Darrell, a long-forgotten explorer, trapper, guide, and mapmaker, who disappeared in the Arctic in 1910. Shoalts's narrative shows a historian at work: using archival research, historical documents, and interviews with elderly individuals who may have long-ago connections to Darrell's family, Shoalts pieces together Darrell's life and travels. But it is just as much a geographical story: Darrell immigrated from England to Manitoba, then journeyed to the Arctic following the Gold Rush. His life intersected with that of other great explorers, namely Roald Amundsen and Vilhjalmur Stefansson, and he travelled alone across vast distances in the Arctic.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

1. Vanished Beyond the Map p.1-11 "Mist hung about" - "story of what I found."

- What are your initial impressions? Do you have any early guesses about where this story might go?

2. Dictionary of Canadian Biography - Hubert Darrell

WEEK 1 40m Canadian History: Grades 9-10 - Lesson 49

Materials: Red Wolf

→ INTRO

This story takes place in Ontario in the late 1800s, in a time when Indigenous families, communities, languages, and ways of life were being threatened by government policies, settlers, logging, and residential schools. The story follows both Red Wolf, a young Anishinaabe boy, and Crooked Ear, a wolf.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

Dedication page, Requiem, Prologue, and Ch.1

- Red Wolf said, "Everything is for everyone." What did that mean in Red Wolf's world versus in the Indian agent's world? What about today?

WEEK 1 30m Canadian History: Grades 9-10 - Lesson 50

Darrell's Disappearance

Materials: Vanished Beyond the Map, Canadian Student Atlas, My Arctic Map

→ RECAP

What do you recall from the readings last time?

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.142-151 "Reconstructing Darrell's movements" - "news for a time."

- Shoalts writes that at this point in the story, "I'd come to the end of his surviving letters and journals" (142). How do you think he will proceed in trying to solve this mystery? What avenues of inquiry are still open to him in this cold case that's over a century old?
- What is your early guess about what might have happened to Darrell?

→ MAP WORK

Map Resource: Canadian Student Atlas p.32-33, My Arctic Map
Referencing the drawn map on p.144 (Vanished Beyond the Map), follow Darrell's route in the atlas. Add this route to My Arctic Map (optional).

WEEK 2 40m Canadian History: Grades 9-10 - Lesson 51

Materials: Red Wolf

→ RECAP

Remember back to what happened in the story last week.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

Ch.6-7

- At the end of chapter 6, the author says, "The day before, when Red Wolf was still a child, he would have giggled, but today there was no laughter in him." What does she mean?
- In chapter 7, Mother Hall responds to the nurse and her conclusion that the sick boy was homesick and heartsick by saying, "Indians don't have emotions like we do." Why would she say that? Where would she have gotten that idea?

WEEK 4 30m Canadian History: Grades 9-10 - Lesson 56

Anderson River Expedition

Materials: Vanished Beyond the Map, My Arctic Map

→ RECAP

What do you recall from last week regarding Shoalts's planning for his expedition?

Canadian History: Grades 9-10

Examination

Term 1

- The Underground Railroad: Describe some of the ways historians have been able to learn about what life was like for freedom seekers who settled in Toronto. Include some specific details if possible. OR Tell all you know about one of the individuals or families you learned about from this book.
- Sophie's Rebellion: The novel features French Canadian, British, American, and English Canadian characters. Describe the attitudes and interactions of some of these groups towards each other, as depicted in the novel. OR Write a letter from Sophie to her father, describing all that happened in Beauharnois.

Term 2

- The Charlottetown Conference: Describe how the Charlottetown Conference and the meetings that came after led to the founding of Canada in 1867. OR Choose one prominent figure you learned about who attended the Charlottetown Conference, and explain why their contribution to Canada's history was important.
- Vanished Beyond the Map: Imagine you are Hubert Darrell, packing for a journey, and can only take what you can pull on a sled. What do you pack? OR What does what you have learned about Darrell so far tell you about some of the challenges facing those who immigrated to the Canadian prairies in the late nineteenth century?

Term 3

- Red Wolf: Write several paragraphs about how this story affected you. What will you take with you from reading it? Also, ponder the question: How does the messenger affect the sharing of the truths of the Gospel? Write a paragraph sharing your thoughts.
- Vanished Beyond the Map: Explain why explorers like Darrell, Hanbury, and Amundsen could successfully survive in the Arctic climate while others before them (like the Franklin Expedition) failed.
