How To Approach

Recap

- Take a second to recall what you read previously in the same book or topic.
- If the previous passage is difficult to remember, try looking back at any chapter/section headings or illustrations or reading the first paragraph to jog the memory.

Read

- Read the selection assigned OR read for the number of minutes allocated, leaving time for narration and mapwork. Use whichever guide (i.e., pages or minutes) works best for you. You want to read enough to be interesting, but not so much that you feel overwhelmed.
- If a book is challenging for you as a student, try stopping to narrate to yourself silently for a minute every now and then to make sure you are tracking. You might also want to read aloud to yourself. Or you might want to listen to an audiobook version of the text and read along with it.
- If a book is an easy read, enjoy the ride!
- Keep an eye out for quotes to put in your commonplace book or events or characters to put down in your Book of Centuries.

Narrate

- Process and integrate your reading by narrating either orally or in writing. Some lesson plans will give you a suggestion of how best to narrate.
- To keep yourself on track, you might want to set a timer, so you stop reading with enough time to narrate.

Connect

- After your narration, think about how what you read connects to other subjects, other books, and other things you've read, watched, or seen in the past or present.
- Share any ideas that are particularly interesting to you with your fellow classmates, teachers, parents, friends, or others. You might even want to do a bit more reading or research on something on your own time in the afternoon or evenings.

Teacher Note

These lessons are written directly to the student, but to assist them throughout the year, please read through this section and the lesson plans so you are familiar with the instructions and flow of the lessons. Accountability components are added to facilitate teacher/student discussion and growing independence.

Those educating at home might pick one or two history lessons to read aloud with their students to keep up the habit of oral narration and foster conversation and relationship, and then simply give students these lesson plans and the rest of the books and check in with them throughout the term for conversation, support, and accountability.

It is valuable for those in a classroom setting to also have a mix of lessons that students complete themselves silently and others read aloud and narrated together. Classroom settings lend themselves well to additional discussion and sharing at the end of lessons, after everyone has narrated either together or independently in writing.

Term 1

WEEK 1 30m World History: Grade 9 - Lesson 1

Materials: A Little Book for New Historians

→ INTRO

History is more than just a study of the "past." The purpose of our first term reading of the book A Little Book of New Historians is to help you engage with the importance of not just knowing dates and places, but also engaging with what Robert Tracy McKenzie calls "the flesh and blood on the other side of the evidence."

As you read through Dr. McKenzie's history book, be on the lookout for interesting quotes or ideas that stand out to you, and be sure to mark whatever pages you find interesting. These are places you can return to and copy down in your notebook.

→ READ, NARRATE, & WRITE

Ch.1 p.11-18

Narrate silently to yourself. If this is a new practice for you, start by quietly talking aloud to yourself about what you just read in the chapter.

- In one paragraph, share your previous expectations of history as a subject and what the reading has challenged or changed.

WEEK 1 40m U.S. History: Grades 9-12 - Lesson 1

Materials: American History: Volume 1

→ INTRO

Starting this year, we will be reading through Thomas Kidd's American History: Volume 1 & 2. We will begin in chapter seven, as this is the chapter opening up the 19th century. The United States of America has established its independence from Britain but must now recover from war and navigate the land, the laws, and find new leaders. Over the course of the next hundred years, we will walk alongside people as they navigate the formation of what would become a fifty-state nation. If you are interested and have the time, you are invited to peruse the first few chapters of the textbook for a quick review of where we have left off.

→ ANNOTATE

American History is a non-fiction book, which makes it a good candidate for annotation. While you are reading through the text, you may encounter an interesting point or main idea that you want to underline. You could put a question mark next to a statement you find unclear. You may place sticky notes on a page that you want to return to. Experiment with different ways to engage with the information in the book. Some students will record themselves reading or talking about the reading. Others may start a discussion with an acquaintance about the material. Try different ways and see what works and what doesn't work for you. You can discuss your findings with your teacher.

→ READ

Introduction p.1-2

Ch.7 p.137-148 beginning of chapter - "common (white) man."

→ NARRATE

1. Narrate silently.
2. In one paragraph, summarize the political climate in the early 1800s seen in the text. Who are the people you are encountering? What are the popular movements of the day? What themes are popping up in the reading that Kidd mentioned in his introduction?

• STUDENT TIP

Be sure to add some people, events, and drawings of artifacts to your book of centuries. Mark potential items with a Post-it note as you read so you remember to find something when you sit down to work in your book.

Term 1

WEEK 1 30m Ancient History: Grades 7-9 - Lesson 1

Meeting Sulla

Materials: A Short History of Ancient Rome, Historical Atlas of the World

→ INTRO

This year, you are learning about ancient Rome. We are not starting at the beginning with the legend of Romulus and Remus in 753 B.C. We are jumping ahead to 88 BC. The Roman Republic has become a world power. It has marched through the Greek world, razed cities like Carthage, and unseated powerful people. As Pascal Hughes says, "The march of Rome appears unstoppable."

However, what had once been a republic, which had enabled certain people to vote in their leadership, was quickly becoming more of a dictatorship, which is where one person assumes absolute power. There were a number of factors that led to Sulla becoming the first dictator in the Roman Republic. He assumed power through political violence, manipulation of land and resources, and military coups. In 88 BC, the Republic found itself in danger.

Sulla's story doesn't start at the beginning of his dictatorship.

Intro to Primary Sources

Materials: American Horizons: Volume 1

→ INTRO

Primary Sources are one of the ways that you can encounter the real lives of people in history. American Horizons is a collection of visual and written documents that show how people were thinking and feeling throughout the 1800s. There are questions at the end of each reading section, and while not all of them are assigned, you are invited to ponder them as you read through the different documents. Use this reading to place yourself in the time and place in history.

Spartacus and a Revolt

Materials: A Short History of Ancient Rome, Historical Atlas of the World

→ INTRO

Rome was built on slavery. In 73 BC, there were more than a million people enslaved in Rome's Italian lands. As Pascal Hughes says, "Some have been bought from foreign merchants, others taken by military conquest, or enslaved as a punishment for criminality. Then there are the unfortunates who were born into bondage, or who are the victims of kidnap by slavers, or who could see no other option in life than to sell themselves into servitude."

However, revolution came to Rome, and it was led by a slave named sin and are susceptible to acting in ways that preference themselves over others and God. Historians understand, perhaps better than most, the reality of the pain, suffering, injustice, anger, and vice brought on by sin. In other words, they understand the tragic dimensions of life." As you continue into this chapter, you will encounter more and more people tainted by sin. As the struggle against slavery begins in the United States of America, there will be people who inspire and people who reveal the depravity of humanity in their actions towards others. I invite you to think like a historian and enter into the pain, suffering, injustice, anger, and vice brought on by sin that you witness within the next pages. It's important to remember that while John Fea's earlier words are important and true, what he adds later is also important. John Fea writes, "A belief in the reality of sin should provide us with a healthy skepticism about movements in the past committed to utopian ends, unlimited progress, or idealistic solutions to the problems of this world. This, of course, does not mean that we should stop working toward these ends, but history certainly teaches us that we live in a broken world that will not be completely fixed on this side of eternity. Similarly, a belief in depravity helps us to better explain the human condition—the restlessness, the search for meaning, and the prideful ambition that has defined much of the past, especially in the modern era. Augustine was quite correct when he opened his Confessions with the famous words, 'Our hearts are restless until they rest in you.'"

Have you ever watched a western? Perhaps there is a favorite book you've read set in the time of cowboys and early American exploration? The chapter you are about to read concerns the American West. As you will see, the American West is more complicated than what we encounter in books, television, and movies. There are battles that change the trajectory of many people's lives, as well as political choices that fuel a later war. There is constant movement from every people-group as they hope to find a new home. I invite you to ponder a couple of questions as you read through the chapter. What are some things happening in the reading that shocked you? What was new? What has changed based on your reading? What have you learned that isn't consistent with what you already know?

As you read Chapter 10, you will encounter many topics. The first being education in America in the 1800s. From higher education like Harvard and Dartmouth College, all the way to education for young boys and girls. The second will be science and faith and the intertwining of these two social spheres. There will be many events that spark conversation about science and faith, but the most important will be the publishing of Charles Darwin's Origin of Species in 1859. As you will read, Christians and non-Christians will be in discussion over the topic of evolution and the Genesis 1 narrative. The third topic you will encounter is the Bible and slavery. This section will focus on the reaction from Christians to slavery and to the Bible. Is slavery something you find in the Bible? Yes. Does that mean slavery is acceptable? This question, along with many others, will become the topic of conversation for North and South for years and years.

WEEK 8 30m World History: Grade 9 - Lesson 8

Materials: A Little Book for New Historians

→ INTRO

Have you ever read an autobiography? How about an article or another book based on that autobiography? If the answer is yes, then you have consumed both a primary source and a secondary source. The primary source is a first-hand experience, and the secondary source is a second-hand experience. There are many different kinds of primary and secondary sources out there. A primary source can be a letter, a poem, a picture, a song, or perhaps a journal. What kind of primary sources have you run into recently?

WEEK 8 30m U.S. History: Grades 9-12 - Lesson 16

Materials: The Narrative of Lunsford Lane

→ INTRO

The fight for freedom for many slaves did not begin and end with the Civil War. There had been continuous struggles for freedom prior to 1861. Men and women escaped the horrors of slavery by many avenues. The Narrative of Lunsford Lane explores an avenue that isn't talked about often: purchasing one's freedom.

Lunsford Lane is an autobiography written and published in 1842. His story is one of bravery, perseverance, family, and struggle. He encounters the worst of humanity, but he also encounters people who will help him take on entire systems of injustice.

As Christians, we grieve as we read these stories, where those made in the image of God are dehumanized and abused. Nevertheless, hearing these stories of suffering and overcoming is essential. We pray that your heart remains soft and that you read and process these stories with a longing for justice and an empathy for those who have gone through what no man or woman should go through.

WEEK 9 30m Ancient History: Grades 7-9 - Lesson 9

Nero

Materials: A Short History of Ancient Rome, Historical Atlas of the World

→ INTRO

Emperor Nero is another famous ruler, but his notoriety comes from the evil that he did as Emperor of Rome. Nero was most known for his murder of anyone who opposed or threatened him. And as Jesus' popularity had increased and his teachings had spread, Nero picked out a new target for his ire: the Christians. Martyrdom under Nero would become infamously horrendous. It is from Nero's time that we have many stories of men and women who died for Christ.

WEEK 1 30m World History: Grade 9 - Lesson 13

Materials: Erebus

→ INTRO

What happens when nations find themselves with war vessels, but no wars? For 1800s Britain, the answer was to send its ships on exploration missions. The Erebus was just one of the ships that made the transition from military vessel to a vessel used for research and exploration. The captains and crew of the vessel changed over the many years it spent on the seas.

In Erebus, you will read a book about a legendary ship. However, there is another benefit to Michael Palin's book, which makes it a helpful read as well as an enjoyable one. Erebus does not just share the story of the ship itself, but of the world in which this ship sailed. As you read through Erebus, take note of the names being mentioned in each chapter.

I also invite you to adventure with the people on Erebus and on the HMS Terror. Pay attention to the letters and journals that are being mentioned and remember that these were real people who experienced a world very unlike our own. And yet, you'll also see a world that is very familiar too.

→ ANNOTATE

Erebus is a non-fiction book, which makes it a good candidate for annotation. While you are reading through the text, you may encounter an interesting point or main idea that you want to underline. You could put a question mark next to a statement you find unclear. You may place sticky notes on a page that you want to return to. Experiment with different ways to engage with the information in the book. Some students will record themselves reading or talking about the reading. Others may start a discussion with an acquaintance about the material. Try different ways and see what works and what doesn't work for you. You can discuss your findings with your teacher.

→ READ & NARRATE

Prologue-Ch.1 p.1-16

Write two paragraphs about the world figures and the events that you've read about in chapter one of Erebus. Who has appeared in the chapter? Why are they important? What is the historical setting of the book?

Materials: American History: Volume 1, American Horizons: Volume 1

→ INTRO

John Fea, in his book Why Study History, challenges the reader with the line, "Historians also study the past in context." In reading about the subject of history, there is a challenge in looking at the past through the eyes of someone living in the 21st century. To quote Fea again, "Any event from the past should be understood in light of the circumstances, settings, or belief systems in which it occurred." I invite you to ponder what circumstances, settings, and belief systems are being carried by those you are reading about in both American History and American Horizons. How do they differ from your own? What do you know now that they did not know at the time? And what knowledge did they have that you might be lacking?

WEEK 1 30m U.S. History: Grades 9-12 - Lesson 26

Materials: They Fought Like Demons

→ INTRO

The Civil War lasted for four years. Over those four years, there are many letters from husbands and fathers and sons to their loved ones. But if one looks deeper into the Military Archives—like Deanne Blanton and Lauren Cook did—they will find peculiar letters to family members from people like Francis Clayton and Albert Cashier. The peculiarity comes from the fact that these men did not really exist. Instead, they were aliases that women took on to be able to join the fight—on both sides. These women masqueraded as men, became spies, doctors, and nurses, and shared in the fate of their fellow soldiers. Their stories show that women were not just within the home but were actively participating and dying for their country and their beliefs.

They Fought Like Demons is a book about a war. Thus, this book has tales of violence and death. But it also tells the stories of women whose love for their families, their beliefs, and their country drove them to hide their identity and brave the battlefield.

Severus

Materials: A Short History of Ancient Rome, Historical Atlas of the World

→ INTRO

Pascal Hughes writes, "Almost fifty years earlier, in the African port city of Leptis Magna (in modern day Libya), a high-ranking family welcomes a new baby in 145. The child, Lucius Septimius Severus, reflects Rome's multicultural identity, his mother from an Italian background and his father with Punic, or Carthaginian, heritage. Severus can count consuls among his cousins, while his mother's line are the Fulvia, one of Rome's grand patrician families."

Lucius Septimius Severus would become an emperor of Rome and would be known for creating a military monarchy. As you read more about this emperor, make sure to note any questions that come up from the reading. You can either discuss these questions with someone or write them down.

WEEK 1 30m Ancient History: Grades 7-9 - Lesson 25

The Christian Revolution

Materials: The Witness of Early Christian Women: Mothers of the Church

→ INTRO

How revolutionary was Christianity in the Roman Empire? Jesus' teachings challenged a lot of different ideas that had come to be accepted as truths, such as the belief that women were inferior. Mike Aquilina writes, "Males were superior (a man would say) because women were inferior. It was obvious — so obvious that it hardly needed an argument. Fire is hot, water is wet, and women are inferior to men. This unquestioned and unquestionable truth was the basis of all human society."

So what happens when one of Christianity's most prolific writers challenges this idea in his letters? Think about Galatians 3:28, which reads, "There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither slave nor free, there is neither male nor female; for you are all one in Christ Jesus." Paul's words would have registered as an attack on Rome's family values. Paul promotes the idea that women have a place in society, a place in the Bible, and a place in the early church. As you read through this book, we encourage you to take note of anything that stands out, anything you agree with, and anything you disagree with.

WEEK 1 30m U.S. History: Grades 9-12 - Lesson 50

Materials: I Am a Man

→ INTRO

The story you are about to read is riddled with violence. I Am a Man is about the forced removal of a tribe called the Ponca. They were given a plot of land to live and cultivate, but years later, they found themselves thrown off that land. The Ponca were made to travel to a harsh climate that had none of the benefits of their previous home. The violence that you will encounter in today's reading is included to give us a better sense of the realities of these men, women, and children and to help us sympathize and empathize with their plight.

As you read through this book, you will be grieved, and we grieve with you. We grieve the poor treatment of those who are made in God's image. We grieve the loss of life because of the actions of our fellow man. We pray that your hearts will remain soft as you read these tales of loss, bravery, struggle, and injustice. As Dr. McKenzie writes in A Little Book for New Historians, "We can't study the past for long without encountering individuals who did or said or believed things that we now hold to be immoral, even evil. And when that happens, our hearts and minds will lead us down one of two paths: toward self-exaltation-'God, I thank you that I am not like other people'--or toward a deeper awareness of our need for grace-'God, have mercy on me, a sinner.'"

WEEK 7 30m World History: Grade 9 - Lesson 31

Materials: Blood and Iron

→ INTRO

Two significant things happened in 1815. First was the Battle of Waterloo, where Napoleon was finally defeated. The second was the birth of a man named Otto Von Bismarck. Katja Hoyer writes, "His childhood, just like that of most Germans growing up at the time, was heavily coloured by stories of the struggle against the French." Otto Von Bismarck would become essential to the rise of the German Empire.
As you read through this account of Germany's history, make note of names and dates that seem important to you. Also, make note of any events that are happening alongside the events in Germany.

→ ANNOTATE

Blood and Iron is a non-fiction book, which makes it a good candidate for annotation. While you are reading through the text, you may encounter an interesting point or main idea that you want to underline. You could put a question mark next to a statement you find unclear. You may place sticky notes on a page that you want to return to. Experiment with different ways to engage with the information in the book. Some students will record themselves reading or talking about the reading. Others may start a discussion with an acquaintance about the material. Try different ways and see what works and what doesn't work for you. You can discuss your findings with your teacher.

→ READ & NARRATE

Ch.1 p.15-36 beginning of chapter - "two more decades."

The Poets and Thinkers

Materials: The Witness of Early Christian Women: Mothers of the Church

→ INTRO

Mike Aquilina writes at the beginning of the chapter, "There were a few pagan women who earned fame as poets or philosophers, but they were very few. We can't say that women were commonly poets and philosophers among the Christians either, but the number seems to have been significantly higher." In the next section, you'll learn about St. Macrina, St. Marcella, St. Paula, St. Eustochium, and St. Monica. All of these women were poets and thinkers. As you read through it, what kind of questions do you have for these women?

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.89-101 "There were a few" - "to preserve it."

- How did the women in this chapter display characteristics that were unique for women at that time?
- What do you think about Macrina's argument against the atheists?

Marcella and Paula

Materials: The Witness of Early Christian Women: Mothers of the Church

→ RECAP

What did you read about last week?

→ INTRO

In this chapter Jerome, the early church father is mentioned. He is known for translating the Hebrew and Greek Scriptures into Latin, the most widely used language at that time. This translation of the Bible is called the Latin Vulgate and was a critical part of the expansion of Christianity in the early centuries. Vulgate means "common or commonly known." He was the teacher of the Marcella who you will read about today.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.101-120 "Marcella herself was" - "and my readers." (For the sake of time, 7th-8th graders can stop at top of p.116 "at obscure points.")

- Do you think the women provided persuasive arguments for Marcella to come to the Holy Lands?
- Based on Jerome's letter, what characteristics or actions of Marcella do you admire and which ones do you find a bit strange?
