About the Course

Students spend two lessons a week reviewing the parts of speech and learning how to construct a good paragraph. During the other two lessons, students begin to expand their writing skills with composition assignments from their books. Throughout the year they explore literary concepts such as point of view and experiment with multiple forms of writing, including letters, descriptions, short accounts, and poetry.

This topic is included in the following course(s): Language Study: Grade 7

Grammar/Comp: Grade 7

These lessons, combined with the writing practice students continue to gain through written narrations, reinforce concepts and build fluency with various types of written forms.

NARRATION vs. COMPOSITION

As students begin to have more formal composition assignments in addition to written narrations, it's important to consider the difference between the two. Both narrations and compositions build students' skills in writing. The focus in narrations is on building written fluency by "telling back" the reading in written/taped form (and students are free to experiment with various ways to do this or not, as interested). The focus in composition assignments is to give them accountability and structure to practice specific skills in one or more types of writing.

Sometimes this means that a composition prompt assigns a specific type of "telling back" (such as retelling a reading as a poem, which a student may or may not have already experimented with of their own accord in their narrations). Additionally, compositions move beyond narration and variations of "telling back" to assignments which ask students to direct their attention to specific ideas within or across their readings (such as comparing and contrasting characters or texts) and other types of reflection which they previously have mainly practiced discussing orally or briefly in writing after reading and narrating in their lessons. Finally, especially as students enter high school, composition assignments merge with grammar assignments to help students understand the writing process more globally and consider aspects of style, editing, revision, research, and the ethics of communication.

How To Teach Grammar

Connect

Link back to the previous lesson.

Read

Read the assigned pages and discuss new ideas. It is important for students to be able to talk about the concepts in their own words. The pictures and diagrams in the book can serve as a springboard for discussions about the grammar concepts.

Practice

Complete practice examples in the text and/or the practice book that accompany the lesson.

Observe

Observe examples of concepts in books being read and in daily life.

Term 1

WEEK 1 □ 20m Grammar/Comp: Grade 7 - Lesson 1

→ NOTE TO STUDENTS

One purpose of composition lessons is to encourage you, the student, to dig deeper, reflect on your readings, explore the different ways words work, and learn how to ask good questions of yourself and your readings. Each week, you will write two different compositions. You can work on these in the order you choose. Set your timer and use the whole time allotted for a composition assignment. If you finish an assignment with extra time, explore another perspective, ask further questions, or take a bit more time to see if any other thoughts come to mind. Alternatively, if you find yourself stuck, you may want to take a short break and return later. Growth, not frustration, is the goal.

→ □ 15M COMPOSITION ASSIGNMENT #1 - SUMMARY

Write a brief summary of a current event.

→ □ 15M COMPOSITION ASSIGNMENT #2 - LETTER

Write a letter to a family member, friend, or imaginary character about one of your favorite books so far this year. Tell them what you think the book is about and why you like it so far, and then send the letter if you like!

★ TEACHER TIP

Make sure students are practicing typing skills, and typing narrations and compositions regularly.

There are two designated lessons each week to work on the two weekly composition prompts. Both prompts will be listed in those lessons, so students will see the same lesson repeated twice each week. That way, students can choose which prompts to work on during any given lesson period.

WEEK 1 □ 20m Grammar/Comp: Grade 7 - Lesson 2

Review

□ Materials: Practice Town, Paragraph Town, and notebook/journal

→ WARM-UP

Sentence 45

Label parts of speech, parts of the sentence, phrases, and clauses. Write a comment. Check your work.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.5-19

→ PRACTICE

Study the diagram on p.18. Then, draw it from memory.

★ TEACHER TIP

If you did not complete Grammar Town in Grade 6 but are familiar with basic grammar elements, start at the beginning of Practice Town and follow the examples. Complete the four-level analysis for one sentence at the start of each lesson.

Topics

□ Materials: Practice Town & notebook/journal

→ WARM-UP

Sentence 46

→ PRACTICE

Think about a lake or river you know. Make separate lists of details in these categories:

- Things you can see under the surface
- Things you can see above the surface
- Sounds you can hear
- Conditions in summer and winter
- Any other category you think is important.

WEEK 1 □ 20m Grammar/Comp: Grade 7 - Lesson 4

→ □ 15M COMPOSITION ASSIGNMENT #1 - SUMMARY

Write a brief summary of a current event.

→ □ 15M COMPOSITION ASSIGNMENT #2 - LETTER

WEEK 2 20m Grammar/Comp: Grade 7 - Lesson 5

→ 15M COMPOSITION ASSIGNMENT #1- EXPOSITORY

How is Mansoul like a rich and beautiful land?

→ 15M COMPOSITION ASSIGNMENT #2 - DESCRIPTIVE

From your reading in Ancient History, write a page-long interview for Sulla. What questions would you ask him?

★ TEACHER TIP

Some students may find it helpful to use external supports before writing, such as index cards that can be arranged and re-ordered. You can also encourage students to talk aloud as they write or use speech-to-text and then edit.

Now that each sentence is clear, correct, and beautiful, play with ordering the note cards. You might start by making stacks of sentences that belong together and then deciding on the order of the stacks. Keep rearranging your note cards until they are in a logical order that will make sense to the reader. If you find that you need another sentence in order for things to make the most sense, go ahead and craft one on another note card.

WEEK 11 20m Grammar/Comp: Grade 7 - Lesson 43

Composition

→ PRACTICE

Copy the final version of each sentence, in the final order, from your notecards into another draft of your paragraph. Read the original and the second drafts aloud. How much of a difference is there? As you reread the second draft, do you notice things you would change? Then change them! This is what authors do to make their work the best it can be. Term 2

WEEK 1 20m Grammar/Comp: Grade 7 - Lesson 49

→ 15m COMPOSITION ASSIGNMENT #1- SHORT ACCOUNT

From your reading in Ourselves, tell how to keep Smell "in good working order."

→ 15m COMPOSITION ASSIGNMENT #2- EDITING

Editing is an important aspect of writing, especially when sharing it with others.

- Look back at one of your old composition assignments from Term 1.
- Type it up (if it isn't already).
- Read it aloud and fix any errors you hear as you read.
- Now, using what you've learned in Paragraph Town, review your sentences. Are they complete sentences? Do the subjects and verbs agree? Check your punctuation and capitalization. Fix any other errors you find!

Remember: all good writers edit their work. It's a good thing to find and fix errors! Very few people write perfect sentences the first time they put their ideas on paper (or type them).

★ TEACHER TIP

Make sure students are practicing typing skills and typing narrations regularly.

WEEK 2 20m Grammar/Comp: Grade 7 - Lesson 53

→ 15M COMPOSITION ASSIGNMENT #1- SUMMARY

Write a summary of a current event.

→ 15M COMPOSITION ASSIGNMENT #2 - PERSONIFICATION

You've seen various examples of personification in Poetry Reading, including "The Song My Paddle Sings" by Pauline Johnson. An author uses personification when s/he gives an inanimate object or abstract idea the qualities of a person. For example, even the title of the poem has an inanimate, wooden paddle singing!

Look back through the poems you have read this year to find some examples of personification.

With the remaining time, try writing a few sentences with personification of your own. See what the most outlandish comparison you can make!

★ TEACHER TIP

Some students may find it helpful to use external supports before writing, such as index cards that can be arranged and re-ordered. You can also encourage students to talk aloud as they write or use speech-to-text and then edit.

WEEK 3 20m Grammar/Comp: Grade 7 - Lesson 105

→ 15M COMPOSITION ASSIGNMENT #1 - EDITING

Pick one of your favorite comparison assignments from Term 1 or 2. Today we're going to practice what you've been learning in Paragraph Town to revise your work.

- Type it if it isn't already typed.
- Read your work aloud and fix any initial grammar or spelling mistakes you see/hear.
- Use what you've learned from grammar to check for any other errors to correct (subject/verb, sentence fragments, etc.)
- Review comparison paragraphs and the different types of paragraphs in Paragraph Town.
- Now look back at your writing and see what you can do to make it an even clearer comparison paragraph. Do you have a topic sentence or connecting words? Do you have enough sentences in your paragraph? Try rearranging the sentences in a different order (you could physically write or print them out and cut them apart and try rearranging if you like). What order do you think might give the most natural progression of thought? Feel free to add or take away words, phrases, or sentences. Now is the time to revise, and often writers only keep a little bit of their initial work when they revisit it! That doesn't mean your first work was bad; you just know more and have new thoughts on how to make it better now that you've given it some time to rest!
- If you need more time, continue this exercise during Composition assignment #2 this week.

→ 15M COMPOSITION ASSIGNMENT #2 - SUMMARY

→ INTRO

Have you ever heard of "found poetry"? Learn more with the article below.

→ WRITE

Poets have used historical texts like William Bradford's History of Plimoth Plantation, newspapers, novels, and more to create found poems. The act of rearranging words, pulling words from different places together, and thinking about key images in a text is essentially a way to think more deeply about what you have read. For this assignment, just pick one passage from one of your favorite books as your source text. Use Little Women/Sir Gibbie if there isn't another book that comes to mind.

- Decide your selected passage (keep it short - no more than 1-2 pages).
- Highlight words or phrases you particularly like and/or which seem particularly important to the passage.
- Type or write those words on a separate piece of paper and use them to write a poem.
- You may choose whether to limit yourself to ONLY words found in your text or whether you want to add some of your own words as well.

WEEK 8 20m Grammar/Comp: Grade 7 - Lesson 125

→ 15M COMPOSITION ASSIGNMENT #1 - DRAFT DESCRIPTIVE PARAGRAPH

Using what you know about descriptive paragraphs from Paragraph Town, write a descriptive paragraph about something you observed in a science lab, a nature walk, a building or house you have seen, or a scene from one of your other books. Focus today on writing as many details as possible. Next assignment, you'll have time to edit and revise. It's often hard to think about grammar and the concepts you've learned from Paragraph Town while also trying to get details down on paper, so we'll separate that process into two different steps, as many writers do.

→ 15M COMPOSITION ASSIGNMENT #2 - REVISE DESCRIPTIVE PARAGRAPH

Now, review how descriptive paragraphs work in Paragraph Town and revise your work from Comp Assignment #1.

- Type your work if you haven't already.
- Look at your paragraph and see if you can improve its structure. Does it need a topic sentence, connecting words, another sentence or two added, a sentence taken away, or moved to a different place in the paragraph? Do you have enough detail that someone can imagine what you're describing? Add more if not!
- Read your work aloud and check grammar and spelling.
