Community Read Alouds

About the Course

This course includes the following topic(s): Econ/Civics: Grade 11 (U.S.), Ethics: Part 5, Current Events: Grades 9-12, Community Read Alouds: Grades 1-12

About Econ/Civics: Grade 11 (U.S.)

This course covers a variety of citizenship topics. Students spend the first term learning the art of asking questions as a means of relationship building. The second term focuses on government as students explore the historical documents and decisions from this rotation. The year finishes with a term of economics where students learn a variety of economic theories.

About Ethics: Part 5

Students will explore characteristics shared by all Image-Bearers and learn how to guard against good servants becoming bad masters by continuing Charlotte Mason's text written directly to students. Students finish Book II in this course.

About Current Events: Grades 9-12

Students are exposed to current events by reading from a variety of sources and having conversations with teachers. Topics such as scientific discoveries, the arts, and human interest stories are generally suitable.

About Community Read Alouds: Grades 1-12

This is meant to be a read-aloud for all ages to enjoy together in the afternoon at least 1 time a week. We encourage you to choose a book that is specific to your region. However, we will offer some suggestions in the Grades 1-3 Literature lessons and Grades 4+ Citizenship lessons. The suggested book titles will be available June 1st in the lesson plans.

Placement & Combining Tips

Econ/Civics: Grade 11 (U.S.)

Lessons are occasionally integrated with composition lessons. Government lessons in Term 2 are shared with Grades 9-10, and the economics lessons finish the book begun in Term 3 of Grade 10.

Ethics: Part 5

Ourselves by Charlotte Mason is scheduled over five years. In a multi-age context, students can jump into the book wherever the class is reading. Otherwise, students should begin the book in Part 1.

Current Events: Grades 9-12

☐ Set up a Citizenship Notebook. You can do it multiple ways, but having a 3-ring binder, lined notebook paper, and about 5 tabbed dividers often works well. You can read more about how to set one up and suggestions for various sections in the Quick Links.

☐ Make a Calendar of Events for Current Events lessons by drawing a calendar grid in a notebook (or print a blank calendar from the internet).

How To Approach

Prepare

If you, the student, are learning at home, work to schedule a time with your teacher when you can complete the lessons from Ourselves or your Ethics reading together, as these lessons are much richer when shared and discussed.

Recap

Connect back to the previous lesson. (Optional for Current Events).

Introduce

For news sources: Scan the headlines first to get an overview, and then choose a story to read.

Read

Read the selection assigned or the news story chosen for the time assigned. For rich, dense, or more challenging books such as Ourselves, it is a good idea to read them aloud. Keep an eye out for quotes to put in your commonplace book or events or characters to put down in your Book of Centuries.

Narrate

Process and integrate your reading by narrating either orally or in writing. Some lesson plans will give you a suggestion of how best to narrate. To keep yourself on track, you might want to set a timer so you stop reading with enough time to narrate.

Connect

After your narration, think about how what you read connects to other subjects, other books, other things you've read or watched, or seen in the past or present. For current events, look up where events occurred on a map and ask questions together to discern the quality of the piece. (e.g., Are there sources cited? Is there an obvious bias? If so, what do other authors have to say on this subject? Are arguments supported by evidence? Is that evidence credible?) Consider reading an alternative perspective.

Citizenship Notebook

Record important ideas in your Citizenship Notebooks. Make a calendar of current events.

Teacher Note

These lessons are written directly to students, but to assist them throughout the year, please read through this section and the lesson plans so you are familiar with the instructions and flow of the lessons. You may also want to preview and choose which news sites to offer students.

Those educating at home might pick one lesson to read aloud (such as the Ethics readings on Cultural Engagement, Conscience, etc.) with their students to keep up the habit of oral narration and foster conversation and relationship and then simply give students these lesson plans and the rest of the books and check in with them throughout the term for conversation, support, and accountability.

It is valuable for those in a classroom setting to also have a mix of lessons, which students complete themselves silently, and others read aloud and narrated together. Classroom settings lend themselves well to additional discussion and sharing at the end of lessons, after everyone has narrated either together or independently in writing.

Term 1

WEEK 1

20m Ethics: Part 5 - Lesson 1

Materials: Ourselves: Book II

→ INTRO

Divide readings into 11 sections evenly over the term; try to include whole stories or episodes if applicable so that you are not stopping in the middle of a section (around 3 pages a week). Watch for examples from your readings that reflect the moral virtues or vices that embody the sections read.

→ READ & NARRATE

p.104-136, divided across the term

WEEK 1

40m Econ/Civics: Grade 11 (U.S.) - Lesson 1

Materials: The Art of Asking Better Questions, Journal or Notebook, Bible

→ READ

Intro-Ch.1, p.3-25

→ REFLECT

Think about the individuals that you interact with on a daily basis. Identify someone that asks good questions and ask that person what motivates him or her to ask good questions..

WEEK 1

20m Current Events: Grades 9-12 - Lesson 1

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

Choose an article to read from one of the recommended sites. Write a few bullet points about the event. Enter daily stories on your Calendar and locate unfamiliar places in your atlas.

WEEK 2

20m Ethics: Part 5 - Lesson 2

Materials: Ourselves: Book II

→ INTRO

Watch for examples from your readings that reflect the moral virtues or vices that embody the sections read.

→ READ & NARRATE

Materials: The Art of Asking Better Questions, Journal or Notebook, Bible

→ READ

Ch.11, p. 138-150

→ PRACTICE

Identify a family member or friend to participate in a question-asking exercise with you. On p.147, read #6 "Hold a questions-only conversation with others." Once you both understand the exercise, initiate the conversation and see how long the discussion lasts. Keep practicing until the exercise becomes more natural.

WEEK 9

20m Current Events: Grades 9-12 - Lesson 9

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

Choose an article on Science this week and discuss it with a parent/teacher.

→ RECAP

Opportunity cost = the next best alternative you forgo (p.45)

Deadweight welfare = money spent is greater than utility gained, leading to an inefficient allocation of resources (p.71)

Income effect = higher wages mean we can gain our target income through working less and enjoying more leisure time (p.93)

→ READ

p.150-157

→ DISCUSS AND/OR WRITE

• "There is no such thing as a tax cut without an opportunity cost" (p.153). If discussing these lessons with someone is not an option, write down your thoughts about the quote.

TEACHER TIP:

Discussion of these lessons adds a lot to the study of economics.

• COMPOSITION

Write an essay on the economic positions of "sweatshops." Be sure to include your position and support your answer with the text and/or other sources.

WEEK 7

40m Econ/Civics: Grade 11 (U.S.) - Lesson 31

Materials: What Would Keynes Do?, link, and notebook

• DEFINITIONS:

Libertarianism - a political philosophy that strongly values individual freedom and minimal government involvement

Welfare state - a concept of government in which the state plays a key role in the economic and social well-being of its citizens

→ RECAP

GDP = Gross Domestic Product, the national income of a country (p.78).

→ READ

p.99-102

→ DISCUSS AND/ OR WRITE

- Discuss the charts on p.101 as they relate to immigration and supply and demand for labor.

→ INTRO

Entrepreneurship is essential to the economy. Two twentieth-century economists, Joseph Schumpeter and Israel Kirzner, contribute more to the conversation. In Chapter 2, you read how Kirzner suggests that entrepreneurs (and consumers) find ways around problems (p.55), and Schumpeter talks about creative destruction (p.158) - more on that in the finance section. Innovation brings about change, and entrepreneurs are change agents.

In the non-profit sector, innovation is about supporting a mission-driven vision that provides a product or service to supply a need. Think about this in the context of social needs or religious ministry; the organizations that support these areas can be for-profit or non-profit. Non-profit organizations also have business structures. Since the lesson discusses the idea of being employed by a business vs. setting up your own business, now is a good time to take a quick look at what that might mean for an entrepreneur in the ministry sector. Let's take a look at basic finance for nonprofits by watching a short video as an introduction to accounting and business practices.

→ READ

p.104-107

→ DISCUSS AND/OR WRITE

- Discuss the idea of self-employment. Write a brief pro/con list for working for a company vs. being your own boss. What are the "trade-offs"?

→ VIEW

Watch the section on non-profit accounting. This is a short clip made for a specific software platform, but the fundamental ideas are all explained well.
