About the Course

This course includes the following topic(s): Canadian History: Grades 9-10, World History: Grades 10-12, Ancient History: Grades 10-12

About Canadian History: Grades 9-10

Read about Canadian history from 1800-1900 through books that immerse students in the time period and allow them to see the world through the eyes of those who lived it. Through engaging narratives, biographies, history spines, primary source documents, oral histories, historical fiction, and books that show different perspectives, students come to see history as more than dates and events and develop relationships with people from the past. Viewing images, looking at maps, and working on one's Book of Centuries are also part of developing this relationship.

About World History: Grades 10-12

Read about world history from 1800-1900. View images and reference atlases and maps to set the people and events in their time and place. Update History Charts and Book of Centuries.

About Ancient History: Grades 10-12

Drawing on material culture, primary sources, and wider overviews, this course delves into the time period from 100 BC to 350 AD.

Placement & Combining Tips

Ancient History: Grades 10-12

Inquisitive 9th graders could enjoy this course, but the main texts have an advanced reading level, so students would likely want to move at a slower pace.

How To Approach

Recap

- Take a second to recall what you read previously in the same book or topic.
- If the previous passage is difficult to remember, try looking back at any chapter/section headings or illustrations or reading the first paragraph to jog the memory.

Read

- Read the selection assigned OR read for the number of minutes allocated, leaving time for narration and mapwork. Use whichever guide (i.e., pages or minutes) works best for you. You want to read enough to be interesting, but not so much that you feel overwhelmed.
- If a book is challenging for you as a student, try stopping to narrate to yourself silently for a minute every now and then to make sure you are tracking. You might also want to read aloud to yourself. Or you might want to listen to an audiobook version of the text and read along with it.
- If a book is an easy read, enjoy the ride!
- Keep an eye out for quotes to put in your commonplace book or events or characters to put down in your Book of Centuries.

Narrate

- Process and integrate your reading by narrating either orally or in writing. Some lesson plans will give you a suggestion of how best to narrate.
- To keep yourself on track, you might want to set a timer, so you stop reading with enough time to narrate.

Connect

- After your narration, think about how what you read connects to other subjects, other books, and other things you've read, watched, or seen in the past or present.
- Share any ideas that are particularly interesting to you with your fellow classmates, teachers, parents, friends, or others. You might even want to do a bit more reading or research on something on your own time in the afternoon or evenings.

Teacher Note

These lessons are written directly to the student, but to assist them throughout the year, please read through this section and the lesson plans so you are familiar with the instructions and flow of the lessons. Accountability components are added to facilitate teacher/student discussion and growing independence.

Those educating at home might pick one or two history lessons to read aloud with their students to keep up the habit of oral narration and foster conversation and relationship, and then simply give students these lesson plans and the rest of the books and check in with them throughout the term for conversation, support, and accountability.

It is valuable for those in a classroom setting to also have a mix of lessons that students complete themselves silently and others read aloud and narrated together. Classroom settings lend themselves well to additional discussion and sharing at the end of lessons, after everyone has narrated either together or independently in writing.

Term 1

WEEK 1 30m World History: Grades 10-12 - Lesson 1

Materials: When America First Met China

→ INTRO

One of the most important actions taken when creating a new nation is establishing trade with other countries. As a newly founded nation, that is exactly what the United States of America set out to do. The United States traded for things like silk, gold, and tea, while other nations traded for everything from sea otter and seal pelts to sandalwood, opium, cotton, and tortoiseshell. As the United States navigated new waters—both literally and figuratively—they would come into contact with a mighty trade nation that had a lot to offer them, including the ever-important tea that had become a household essential. However, China had its own rules and regulations as well as its own system of justice that was very different from the United States.

As you read through the chapter, we invite you to ponder what it must have been like to navigate these new waters and to meet new peoples whose way of life was so different from yours. What are the things you see in the text that surprise you? What things challenged your way of thinking? You will reflect on these questions after the reading.

→ ANNOTATE

When America First Met China is a non-fiction book, which makes it a good candidate for annotation. While you are reading through the text, you may encounter an interesting point or main idea that you want to underline. You could put a question mark next to a statement you find unclear. You may place sticky notes on a page that you want to return to. Experiment with different ways to engage with the information in the book. Some students will record themselves reading or talking about the reading. Others may start a discussion with an acquaintance about the material. Try different ways and see what works and what doesn't work for you. You can discuss your findings with your teacher.

→ READ & NARRATE

Ch.6 p.146-160 "The return of peace" - "exotic name 'bêche-de-mer.'"

→ MAP WORK

Familiarize yourself with the map at the beginning of When America First Met China.

→ WRITE

Answer the following questions in 3 paragraphs: What are the things you see in the text that surprise you? What things challenged your way of thinking? What things made you uncomfortable and why?

• STUDENT TIP

Be sure to add some people, events, and drawings of artifacts to your book of centuries. Mark potential items with a Post-it note as you read so you remember to find something when you sit down to work in your book.

• STUDENT TIP

Read over this document about the various ways you can annotate.

WEEK 1 40m Canadian History: Grades 9-10 - Lesson 1

Materials: Underground Railroad

→ INTRO

How do historians make discoveries about the past? The first book we will read this year - The Underground Railroad: Next Stop, Toronto! - explores what Toronto was like for African Americans seeking freedom in a new life in Canada. One aspect that makes this book so fascinating is that the authors show how they are able to learn about this period of history: there are lots of old photographs and newspaper articles from historical archives, but there was also an archaeological dig in downtown Toronto in 2015 that revealed a lot about who lived in Toronto during this period and how they lived. When we think of archaeology, we often think of discovering ruins from thousands of years ago, but archaeology also has a lot to teach us about our more recent past!

p.1-13 "The colored people" - "to live with them in Canada."

- How was Toronto involved in the larger story of the abolitionist movement?
- What did you learn about the life of Deborah Brown?

WEEK 1 30m Ancient History: Grades 10-12 - Lesson 1

Welcome to the Empire

Materials: Ancient Empires

→ INTRO

What comes to your mind when you hear the word "empire"? Historians disagree on many things, including times and dates, translations, and terminology. One of the terms that is debated is the word "empire" and its meaning. As you read through the introduction to Ancient Empires, which definition do you agree with? Why do you agree with it? You're invited to answer these questions aloud or write them down.

→ ANNOTATE

Ancient Empires is a non-fiction book, which makes it a good candidate for annotation. While you are reading through the text, you may encounter an interesting point or main idea that you want to underline. You could put a question mark next to a statement you find unclear. You may place sticky notes on a page that you want to return to. Experiment with different ways to engage with the information in the book. Some students will record themselves reading or talking about the reading. Others may start a discussion with an acquaintance about the material. Try different ways and see what works and what doesn't work for you. You can discuss your findings with your teacher.

Sophie's Rebellion

Materials: Sophie's Rebellion

→ RECAP

What do you remember from the last reading about the discontent and rebellions in Lower Canada (now Quebec)?

→ INTRO

Sophie's Rebellion is a fictional account of one American girl's experience of the 1837-1838 Rebellions, as she is caught up in the Battle of Beauharnois. Through Sophie's eyes, the reader is able to see multiple perspectives of this conflict and is introduced to a number of notable historical figures. The novel also provides an authentically detailed account of Upper and Lower Canada in the mid-nineteenth century.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.7-23 "The Rebellion of 1838" - "to have them."

- The book opens with a mysterious character named Luc. What do you know about him, and what questions do you still have?

• EXTRA HELPING

Students who would like extra background on the Patriote Rebellion against Lower Canada Loyalists are encouraged to watch this video. While the narration is in French, the auto-translated English subtitles are very accurate.

WEEK 1

40m Ancient History: Grades 10-12 - Lesson 2

The Late Republic

📖 Materials: Ancient Empires

→ INTRO

Rome was founded in 753 BC, and it became a Republic in 509 BC. The Roman Republic had been involved in many wars. The most famous of these wars are known as the three Punic Wars. The Third Punic War was fought around 149-146 BC. During the Third Punic War, Rome would clash with a sovereign territory known as Carthage and ultimately would raze it to the ground. Rome would kill most of its male inhabitants and sell its women and children into slavery. With the defeat of Carthage, it would seem that Roman power was complete, as no other nation could stand in the way of its expansion.

However, the Roman Republic had internal issues. Its political and military leaders were corrupt, and despite its incredible growth, the Republic found itself in trouble. These political and military leaders were grasping for more power afforded them by their Republic governmental system. There were also internal struggles from people groups who refused to adapt to life under their new conquerors.

WEEK 2

30m World History: Grades 10-12 - Lesson 2

📖 Materials: When America First Met China

→ INTRO

One of the ways we connect with history is through primary sources. A primary source is any firsthand account of history. These sources can be a journal, a map, a song, a picture, and much more. A good historian will always rely heavily on primary sources when researching or writing history. Eric Jay Dolin has also relied heavily on these primary sources. As you go through the next section, pay attention to the documents Eric Jay Dolin is mentioning. You will reflect on these primary sources after the reading.

*For more about a primary source and a secondary source, view the video provided in the Extra Helpings.

WEEK 4 30m World History: Grades 10-12 - Lesson 4

Materials: When America First Met China

→ INTRO

In Chapter 7, Eric Jay Dolin will explore China through American eyes. Specifically, he will explore how the nation came to be perceived as one with rampant poverty, horrible treatment of women, odd food and drink, and a violent government system that killed innocents. But were any of these things rooted in truth? Or were they just the ramblings of one people group encountering another nation with foreign eyes? It really didn't matter in the end. These people's writings influenced the perception of the nation of China.

A historian named Ian Barrow wrote a short history of the East India Company, which operated at the end of the sixteenth century all the way through the middle of the nineteenth. In his book, he writes about the beginning of this company, saying, "Toward the end of the sixteenth century, a group of English merchants based in London realized that there was an opportunity to make money in the spice trade." The British East India Company would exist for over 200 years and end up becoming one of the largest monopolies on trade. Additionally, it was known for having its own armies. The army at times reached 260,000 soldiers strong. The British government began to see the company for the threat it was and eliminated its monopoly in 1833. From then on, trade would look very different. The parliament would appoint people to government positions, and these men would be faced with many challenges as they sought to build ties with China amid a growing conflict.

How long do you wait for your packages? Perhaps if you and your family have fast shipping, you'll only have to wait one or two days for your order to arrive at your doorstep. In the 1800s, it would take weeks for one ship to get to the other side of the world and pick up the items, and then weeks to return. So, as one can imagine, there was a need to be the fastest ship out there in order to get the items back home and sold as quickly as possible. WEEK 9 30m World History: Grades 10-12 - Lesson 9

→ INTRO

One of the horrible parts about reading through history is coming face-to-face with the reality of sinful humanity. John Fea writes, "Indeed, anyone who studies the past realizes that there are no heroes in history. While people may perform heroic acts, all humans are tainted by sin and are susceptible to acting in ways that preference themselves over others and God. Historians understand, perhaps better than most, the reality of the pain, suffering, injustice, anger, and vice brought on by sin. In other words, they understand the tragic dimensions of life."

Exploitation is just one of the many injustices taking place in the 1800s. As you read through the chapter, you are allowed to feel heartbroken, angry, and disappointed at the treatment of those who are also made in God's image. Both belief in Christ and in the depravity of humanity can help us better navigate history. As John Fea writes, "Similarly, a belief in depravity helps us to better explain the human condition—the restlessness, the search for meaning, and the prideful ambition that has defined much of the past, especially in the modern era. Augustine was quite correct when he opened his Confessions with the famous words, 'Our hearts are restless until they rest in you.'"

WEEK 1 30m World History: Grades 10-12 - Lesson 13

Materials: Erebus

→ INTRO

What happens when nations find themselves with war vessels, but no wars? For 1800s Britain, the answer was to send its ships on exploration missions. The Erebus was just one of the ships that made the transition from military vessel to a vessel used for research and exploration. The captains and crew of the vessel changed over the many years it spent on the seas.

In Erebus, you will read a book about a legendary ship. However, there is another benefit to Michael Palin's book, which makes it a helpful read as well as an enjoyable one. Erebus does not just share the story of the ship itself, but of the world in which this ship sailed. As you read through Erebus, take note of the names being mentioned in each chapter.

I also invite you to adventure with the people on Erebus and on the HMS Terror. Pay attention to the letters and journals that are being mentioned and remember that these were real people who experienced a world very unlike our own. And yet, you'll also see a world that is very familiar too.

→ ANNOTATE

Erebus is a non-fiction book, which makes it a good candidate for annotation. While you are reading through the text, you may encounter an interesting point or main idea that you want to underline. You could put a question mark next to a statement you find unclear. You may place sticky notes on a page that you want to return to. Experiment with different ways to engage with the information in the book. Some students will record themselves reading or talking about the reading. Others may start a discussion with an acquaintance about the material. Try different ways and see what works and what doesn't work for you. You can discuss your findings with your teacher.

→ INTRO

You may have heard of Canada's "Fathers of Confederation" and that Charlottetown, PEI, is sometimes called the "Birthplace of Confederation," but what really happened in the 1860s that led to Canada becoming a country? The next book we will read, The Charlottetown Conference and the Birth of Confederation, is a detailed account of the historical factors, issues, political players, and conferences that eventually led to Canada's Confederation in 1867. The book brings this historical period to life with numerous photographs, paintings, archival documents, and other primary sources, so be sure to spend some of your lesson time looking at the photos.

Introduction - Vanished Beyond the Map

Materials: Vanished Beyond the Map

→ INTRO

Vanished Beyond the Map is an account of Adam Shoalts's quest to solve the mystery of what happened to Hubert Darrell, a long-forgotten explorer, trapper, guide, and mapmaker, who disappeared in the Arctic in 1910. Shoalts's narrative shows a historian at work: using archival research, historical documents, and interviews with elderly individuals who may have long-ago connections to Darrell's family, Shoalts pieces together Darrell's life and travels. But it is just as much a geographical story: Darrell immigrated from England to Manitoba, then journeyed to the Arctic following the Gold Rush. His life intersected with that of other great explorers, namely Roald Amundsen and Vilhjalmur Stefansson, and he travelled alone across vast distances in the Arctic.

Learning from Plato and Aristotle

Materials: Christians Reading Classics

→ INTRO

Even though Plato and Aristotle lived during the time of the Greek empire, their influence on Roman culture cannot be understated. These two men have influenced both ancient world thinking and modern-day thinking about truth, virtue, the beginning of life, and other subjects. The apostles, early church fathers and mothers, and later Christian writers would all contend with Platonic and Aristotelian thought in their writings. As you read through this chapter, think about the amount of influence these two men had and why it's so important for Christians to read their works.

WEEK 4 □ 30m World History: Grades 10-12 - Lesson 16

□ Materials: Erebus

→ INTRO

Have you ever wondered what it was like to live on an exploration ship like the Erebus? This week's reading explores the lives of the many people who chose to embark on these voyages and how their lives looked day to day. As you read through the section, think about the many reasons that people chose to take up these positions and what it was like for them on a day-to-day basis. Was the legacy of exploration worth it?

Pre-Confederation Years

Materials: The Charlottetown Conference

→ RECAP

What do you recall from your last reading?

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.25-33 "On June 14, 1864" - "the situation as 'political deadlock.'"

- Who are the major figures involved in the Charlottetown Conference? Start to make a list of names and add biographical details as you read.

WEEK 4 30m Ancient History: Grades 10-12 - Lesson 31

Cicero, Caesar, and Political Rhetoric in the Roman Republic

Materials: Christians Reading Classics

→ INTRO

The political sphere of the Roman Empire is a cut-throat business. So much so that if one person is elected, their life might be immediately in danger as their opponent may plot an assassination for the winning man. Such is the case of Cicero. As you'll be able to see in the reading, these documents tell us about so much more than just an assassination attempt.

→ ANNOTATE

WEEK 9 30m Ancient History: Grades 10-12 - Lesson 41

Introducing Tacitus

Materials: Christians Reading Classics

→ INTRO

After Nero committed suicide in June of 68 AD, there began a time known as the Year of the Four Emperors, where Rome experienced a chaotic year of civil wars and crises because of a constant shift from one emperor to another. Tacitus would have been a teenager during this time, so it's understandable that he would grow up to be an orator, go into politics, and speak out against corrupt leadership. As you read through this chapter, think about how Christians should read these works.

→ INTRO

Nadya Williams writes, "In the early second century AD, shortly after the time when Tacitus ("the quiet") started writing his historical works, another man with a similar nickname—Gaius Suetonius Tranquillus ("the calm" or "the peaceful")—began a historical and literary experiment of his own." Suetonius's works would be gossipier and more tabloid-style than other popular writings of the time. And this kind of writing attracted a crowd. Marcus Aurelius

Materials: Christians Reading Classics

→ INTRO

People in the Roman Empire were asking important questions about humanity, truth, virtue, and soul. Nadya Williams writes, "What is the nature of the soul dwelling within each human body? And what is the relationship of the soul to the body? The pre-Christian Greeks and Romans thought much about these questions, even though their answers ran up against the limits of pagan theology. Nevertheless, many of them were firmly convinced that a soul—some sort of intangible spiritual portion—inhabited the physical body." North African Converts

Materials: Christians Reading Classics

→ INTRO

What can we learn from Perpetua, the Bishop of Carthage, and Augustine? Nadya Williams writes, "The stories of these three converts appear at first glance so different. Perpetua, especially, is an outlier. What does a young nursing mother have in common with two of the most famous bishops and theologians of the early church? Can we even set Perpetua and her work on the same level as the brilliant and distinguished Augustine?" North African Converts to Christianity have left many different letters behind for Christians to read and learn from. WEEK 1 30m Canadian History: Grades 9-10 - Lesson 50

Darrell's Disappearance

Materials: Vanished Beyond the Map, Canadian Student Atlas, My Arctic Map

→ RECAP

What do you recall from the readings last time?

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.142-151 "Reconstructing Darrell's movements" - "news for a time."

- Shoalts writes that at this point in the story, "I'd come to the end of his surviving letters and journals" (142). How do you think he will proceed in trying to solve this mystery? What avenues of inquiry are still open to him in this cold case that's over a century old?
- What is your early guess about what might have happened to Darrell?

→ MAP WORK

Map Resource: Canadian Student Atlas p.32-33, My Arctic Map
Referencing the drawn map on p.144 (Vanished Beyond the Map), follow Darrell's route in the atlas. Add this route to My Arctic Map (optional).

WEEK 1 40m Ancient History: Grades 10-12 - Lesson 50

The Forgotten Women of Church History

Materials: Podcast link

→ PREPARATION FOR DIFFICULT CONTENT

This term, you will be reading martyrdom accounts where Christians are killed for their faith. Please discuss these readings with your teacher/parent.

→ LISTEN

∞ Audio Link: The Forgotten Women of Church History
Listen to about ½ the podcast today, through the end of the story of Perpetua and Felicitas.

NOTE: The podcast starts with a clip, and it sounds like you missed something—keep listening. The beginning sets up the purpose of the podcasts, and the interview starts about 5 minutes in.

→ NARRATE

Begin a diary entry as if this story were happening today in your church.

• STUDENT TIP

Be sure to add some people, events, and drawings of artifacts to your Book of Centuries. Mark potential items with a Post-it note as you read so you remember where to find something when you sit down to work in your book.

Ch.2-3

- What is the difference between teaching someone and trying to remake someone?

WEEK 2 30m Ancient History: Grades 10-12 - Lesson 51

The Christian Vergil's Violent Virtues

Materials: Christians Reading Classics

→ INTRO

Nadya Williams writes, "In the early fifth century AD, at the same time as an aged Augustine was caring for his flock in North Africa's Hippo Regius and churning out sermons and treatises, a lesser-known poet across the empire in Spain was working on a new allegorical epic." As you read through this chapter, think about how Christians should read these works.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.151-162 "Back when I'd first started" - "to search for it."

WEEK 2 40m Ancient History: Grades 10-12 - Lesson 52

Boethius and Philosophy

Materials: Christians Reading Classics

→ INTRO

Nadya Williams writes, "Alone in a dark, dank dungeon during the days of the Later Roman Empire, a man pensively leans over a scroll, quill in hand, trying to make do with the meager light available to him. It feels strange to be alone having only one's own words to keep company with for days and months. But someone who has read much is never alone; so it is with this man—the statesman and philosopher Boethius." You'll learn more about Boethius in your reading this week. As you read through the chapter, think about how Christians should read these works.

Ch.4-5

- Why does Red Wolf's small treasure from home matter to him?

WEEK 3 30m Ancient History: Grades 10-12 - Lesson 53

Introduction to Early Church Writings and Clement

Materials: Early Christian Writings

→ INTRO

Imagine uncovering the writing of an Early Church Father as you sift through a monastic library in the East, or as you begin to use that writing as a wrapping paper for raw fish and seafood. That is the reality of some of these texts translated in this collection of Early Christian Writers. These texts offer the modern-day reader more than early church doctrine and theology; they also offer us insights into the issues that the early church was facing as it began to follow the teachings of Christ.

→ NOTE

The first- and second-century Christians are operating in a world wholly different than our own. They are operating in empires that have different values, virtues, and myths. Moreover, these people are trying to figure out Jesus, his relationship to God, and the connection of the Holy Spirit; and they are operating with the Septuagint (The Greek Translation of the Hebrew Bible), the Gospels, and some of the letters. Keep in mind that the canon of the Bible will not be official until the late fourth century.

As you read through these texts, take a moment to put your modern-day theological and biblical knowledge to the side. Listen to the words of

Clement's Letters and Intro to Ignatius

 Materials: Early Christian Writings

→ INTRO

There are many ways to measure the success of an emperor. One way is to measure the size of the nation that they ruled. It was under Emperor Trajan's rule that the Roman Empire reached its pinnacle in terms of territory.

But under his rule, Trajan would also persecute Christians. One such martyr would be Ignatius of Antioch, who was the third Bishop of Antioch after Peter. Ignatius would write a series of letters to cities under his leadership, guiding them with doctrinal and practical practices that would help them live out their Christian faith.

WEEK 7 30m World History: Grades 10-12 - Lesson 31

Materials: Blood and Iron

→ INTRO

Two significant things happened in 1815. First was the Battle of Waterloo, where Napoleon was finally defeated. The second was the birth of a man named Otto Von Bismarck. Katja Hoyer writes, "His childhood, just like that of most Germans growing up at the time, was heavily coloured by stories of the struggle against the French." Otto Von Bismarck would become essential to the rise of the German Empire.

As you read through this account of Germany's history, make note of names and dates that seem important to you. Also, make note of any events that are happening alongside the events in Germany. You will read two chapters this year and finish the book next year.

→ ANNOTATE

Blood and Iron is a non-fiction book, which makes it a good candidate for annotation. While you are reading through the text, you may encounter an interesting point or main idea that you want to underline. You could put a question mark next to a statement you find unclear. You may place sticky notes on a page that you want to return to. Experiment with different ways to engage with the information in the book. Some students will record themselves reading or talking about the reading. Others may start a discussion with an acquaintance about the material. Try different ways and see what works and what doesn't work for you. You can discuss your findings with your teacher.

History: Grade 10 (Canada)

Examination

Term 1

Canadian History: Grades 9-10

- The Underground Railroad: Describe some of the ways historians have been able to learn about what life was like for freedom seekers who settled in Toronto. Include some specific details if possible. OR Tell all you know about one of the individuals or families you learned about from this book.
- Sophie's Rebellion: The novel features French Canadian, British, American, and English Canadian characters. Describe the attitudes and interactions of some of these groups towards each other, as depicted in the novel. OR Write a letter from Sophie to her father, describing all that happened in Beauharnois.

Ancient History: Grades 10-12

- Ancient Empires: In what ways does the Roman Republic remind you of your own country? In what ways is it different?
- Draw two pieces of art that you remember seeing this term. Briefly say what they are and describe them. What do you think they say about the cultures that they were a part of?

World History: Grades 10-12

- When America First Met China: Why was the invention of faster ships so important?
- When America First Met China: Describe the relationships between China and other countries in several paragraphs.

Term 2

Canadian History: Grades 9-10

- The Charlottetown Conference: Describe how the Charlottetown Conference and the meetings that came after led to the founding of Canada in 1867. OR Choose one prominent figure you learned about who attended the Charlottetown Conference, and explain why their contribution to Canada's history was important.
- Vanished Beyond the Map: Imagine you are Hubert Darrell, packing for a journey, and can only take what you can pull on a sled. What do you pack? OR What does what you have learned about Darrell so far tell you about some of the challenges facing those who immigrated to the Canadian prairies in the late nineteenth century?

Ancient History: Grades 10-12

- Christians Reading Classics: Choose Cicero, Caesar, Tacitus, Perpetua, Suetonius, or Marcus Aurelius, and explore how their writings can influence the modern-day church today.
- Christians Reading Classics: How should Christians go about reading pagan classics? How can reading these classics benefit spiritual formation?

World History: Grades 10-12

- Erebus: Life on exploration was never easy. Yet, many people chose to pursue lives of exploration. What were the many reasons for people to pursue this lifestyle? Use examples from different characters to support your answer.
- Erebus: Choose one person from the narrative who fascinated you and summarize his or her story.

Term 3

Canadian History: Grades 9-10

- Red Wolf: Write several paragraphs about how this story affected you. What will you take with you from reading it? Also, ponder the question: How does the messenger affect the sharing of the truths of the Gospel? Write a paragraph sharing your thoughts.
- Vanished Beyond the Map: Explain why explorers like Darrell, Hanbury, and Amundsen could successfully survive in the Arctic climate while others before them (like the Franklin Expedition) failed.

Ancient History: Grades 10-12

- Early Christian Writings: Based on the writings of the early church fathers that you have read this term, what were some of the primary concerns of the early church? What are the most common themes? Are the concerns of the early church the same as or different than the concerns of the Christian church today?
- Early Christian Writings: Summarize one letter of your choosing. Then share how that letter gives us insight into the life of early Christians in the Roman Empire.

World History: Grades 10-12

- Blood and Iron: What were the events leading up to the establishment of the German Empire?
- Blood and Iron: Summarize Bismarck's Reich (1871-1888).
