1-1-1 Double Rule

- In a 1 syllable word ending in 1 consonant after 1 short vowel, double the final consonant before a vowel suffix.

Example: sad + est → saddest sad + ness → sadness

2-1-1 Double Rule

Syllable Types:

Vowel R

Syllable Types:

Open

Syllable Types:

Closed

Syllable Types:

C-le

A syllable is a word or part of a word with one vowel pattern and any consonants that go with it.

one

only

Consonant Digraph

A consonant digraph is two or more consonants (mouth sounds) that, together, make one sound. Examples: ch, sh, th

Consonant Blend

A consonant blend is two or three consonants, (mouth sounds) right next door to each other that each give their own sound: sm, pl, tr so that you hear two sounds.

2-1-1 Double Rule

- Use the 2-1-1 Doubling Rule for words with 2 or more syllables. If the final syllable is accented and ends with 1 consonant, after 1 short vowel, double the final consonant before adding the suffix.

Example: admit + ed → admitted

1-1-1 Double Rule

Clues for finding 1-1-1 Double Rule words:

- Is the word one-syllable?
- Is there one short vowel in the middle of the word?
- Does the word end with one consonant?
- Does the suffix begin with a vowel?
- Double the consonant before adding the suffix.

Open

An open syllable ends with a long vowel sound spelled with a single vowel; there is no consonant following it. A few words are open syllables.

Vowel R

- A vowel or vowel team followed by the letter r, resulting in a distinctive sound.
- R-controlled vowels are also known as “bossy r” words.

C-le

Consonant-le combinations are only found at the ends of words. Start at the end and count back 1, 2, 3 divide.

Closed

When the vowel of a word or syllable is short, the syllable will be closed off by one or more consonants.

The Lazy Schwa: /ə/

the most common vowel sound in English.

Drop or Keep Silent Final E

Magic E

VCe words and syllables contain long vowels spelled with a single letter, followed by a single consonant, and a silent e.

All vowels can make the schwa sound. It sounds like short u or short i. It is found in words with more than one syllable, it is in the quiet syllable.

It is too lazy to sit up!

Just Add -s

- Just add the suffix -s to make most nouns plural.
Example: boy + s → boys truck + s → trucks bird + s → birds
- Just add the suffix -s to form most singular verbs.
Example: see + s → sees make + s → makes play + s → plays

Vowel Teams

A vowel team may be two, three, or four letters; it can represent a long, short, or diphthong vowel sound.

2 Consonants, R-Controlled, Vowel Teams

- Just add a suffix to words that end with two consonants.
Examples: sing + ing → singing jump + ing → makes jumping
- Just add a suffix to words ending with r-controlled vowels.
Examples: flutter + ing → fluttering churn + ing → churning
- Just add a suffix to words with vowel digraphs (teams).
Example: boy + s → boys train + s → trains bird + s → birds

Just Add -es

- Just add the suffix -es to nouns and verbs ending with -s, -ss, -sh, -ch, -x, and -z. The -es forms another syllable. Just add the suffix -s to make most nouns plural.

Examples: bus → buses bench + es → benches pass + es → passes fox + es → foxes buzz + es → buzzes

- Drop final e when adding a suffix that begins with a vowel
Examples: bike + ing → biking hope + ed → hoped
- Keep final e if the suffix begins with a consonant or if it is needed to protect soft c or g
Example: use + ful → useful notice + able → noticeable

Just Add

- Just add when the suffix starts with a consonant.
Examples: sad + ness → sadness close + ly → makes closely
- Just add -es to most nouns and verbs ending with o after a consonant.
Example: go + es → goes hero + es → heroes potato + es → potatoes
- Exceptions are musical terms: solos, pianos, cellos.
