

Plutarch/Government

U.S.

About the Course

Students study a life by Plutarch for two terms and then spend the rest of the year exploring topics of government through historical documents and decisions from this rotation.

This topic is included in the following course(s): Citizenship: Grade 9 (U.S.)

Placement & Combining Tips

Plutarch lessons are shared with Grades 6-8, and the final term of government lessons is shared with Grades 10-11, and are also suitable for inquisitive 8th graders.

Plutarch/Government: Grade 9 (U.S.)

How To Approach

Prepare

Teachers may find it helpful to pre-read all or part of the selection from Plutarch studied and choose which news sites to offer students.

If you, the student, are learning at home, work to schedule a time with your teacher when you can complete the lessons from Ourselves and Plutarch together, as these lessons are much richer when shared and discussed.

Recap

Connect back to the previous lesson. (Optional for Current Events).

Introduce

For news sources: Scan the headlines first to get an overview, and then choose a story to read.

For Citizenship books (optional): Use a picture, a map, or an engaging question to get yourselves interested in the lesson. If necessary, you may talk about one or two unfamiliar words that will be crucial to understanding. It is not necessary to cover all unfamiliar words.

Read

Read the selection assigned or the news story chosen. For rich, dense, or more challenging books such as Ourselves and Plutarch, it is a good idea to read them aloud. Have students keep an eye out for things to add to their Citizenship Notebook, Book of Centuries, and/or Commonplace book.

Narrate

Narrate orally or in writing.

Discuss

Share your thoughts on the story and any connections made. For current events, look up where events occurred on a map and ask questions together to discern the quality of the piece. (e.g., Are there sources cited? Is there an obvious bias? If so, what do other authors have to say on this subject? Are arguments supported by evidence? Is that evidence credible?) Consider reading an alternative perspective.

Citizenship Notebook

Record important ideas in your Citizenship Notebooks. Make a calendar of current events.

Term 2

WEEK 1 30m Plutarch/Government: Grade 9 (U.S.) - Lesson 13 Week 1 / A Young Nation: American Government from 1800 to 1900

→ INTRO

Welcome back to American Government! Last year you learned about the formation of the American Government and the reasoning behind why the Constitution and Bill of Rights were drafted and negotiated as they were. This year, we move forward to the period from 1800 to 1900 and study the way in which the new government began to take action and shape the first hundred years of our country's history.

Note: One week is built in at the end of this term for "catch up" reading, in case you miss a week or a reading takes you longer than your allotted time to complete. Please do not skip ahead if you have not completed the lesson from the week before – work through the weeks chronologically and use the catch up week (Week 11) as necessary.

→ READING

- Read Week 1 of your Reading PDF.
- With any time that you have remaining, read your summary statements and skim any written narrations from the last two years of American Government. Your summary statements should cover the time periods from Rotation 1 (800 CE - 1650 CE) and Rotation 2 (1650 CE - 1800 CE).

→ REFLECT

- Talk about the summary statements you have reviewed with your teacher or classmates. What did you remember? What had you forgotten? Did anything come to mind as you were reviewing that you had not thought about before?
- Teacher Note: Optional Activity: Guide students in creating a bulleted list of key words that they noticed while reading their summary statements or during their discussion. Key words can be words that were repeated frequently, or that stood out to the student for any particular reason (there is no "right" set of key words). This activity is optional because it requires students to exercise a higher level analysis and might not be a useful reflective tool for all students.

WEEK 2 30m Plutarch/Government: Grade 9 (U.S.) - Lesson 14 Week 2 / Western Expansion and the Missouri Compromise (1820)

→ INTRO

- The United States nearly doubled in size following the purchase of the Louisiana Territory from France. As new states began to petition Congress for entry to the country, the issue of slavery began to divide the nation. In 1820, Congress passed the Missouri Compromise, defining geographical boundaries that would determine whether slavery would be legal in new states.

→ READING

- Read Week 2 in your Reading PDF.

→ REFLECT

- Narrate. Write a summary statement or short narration describing the main ideas from this week's reading.

WEEK 3 30m Plutarch/Government: Grade 9 (U.S.) - Lesson 15 Week 3 / Western Expansion and the Compromise of 1850

→ INTRO

- The Missouri Compromise remained in effect until 1850, when the acquisition of the western territory, from Texas to modern-day California, reignited the question of whether new states formed from this territory would be admitted as slave states, or free states. In order to maintain a balance of slave to free states, Congress passed the Compromise of 1850 after efforts to ban slavery entirely from the new territory failed. → READING - Read Week 3 in your Reading PDF. → REFLECT - Narrate. Write a summary statement or short narration describing the main ideas from this week's reading.

Examination

Term 1

- Tell me everything you remember about the life of Julius Caesar.
- You are a Roman citizen who lived through all of it. Caesar was on the wrong side as a young man, nearly drowned escaping, nearly starved at Pharsalus, made himself dictator for life, died in the Senate chamber, and was declared a god three days later. The city burned. The men who killed him were hunted to their deaths. Now it is quiet. Was Rome better or worse for having had him? Why?
- You are someone who admired Caesar deeply and also someone who could see clearly what he was becoming. Those two things were both true at the same time for most of the people closest to him. Think about a person in your own life, a figure in history, or a character from a story, in whom you can see greatness and destructive behavior running alongside each other. What do you do with admiration that you cannot separate from concern?
- You have followed Caesar from his early campaigns through every battle, every crisis, every triumph, and into Rome at the end. You have watched him grab sailors, swim through fire, feed horses seaweed, pardon enemies, refuse bodyguards, and finally cover his face and stop when he saw Brutus. Looking at the whole of what you witnessed: what did this man actually want, and did he ever get it?

Term 3

- Tell me everything you remember about the lives of the Gracchi.
- The brothers were nothing alike, and everything alike. Tiberius was gentle and restrained. Gaius was feisty. Think of a time when you had to choose between patience and urgency, when both paths seemed right, but for different reasons. Which did you choose? What happened? Which brother do you think you are more like, and which one do you think you should try to be?
- You have followed the Gracchi from Cornelia's house through every assembly, every law, every riot, and into the silence after. You watched Tiberius weep before his father's statue on the last morning of his life, and keep walking. You watched Gaius pull his hand quietly from his wife's grip at the door and not look back. You watched Cornelia lose both sons and go on hosting dinner parties for learned men without shedding a tear. What do you think about their behavior? Is there a right way to face grief, loss, and fear?
