Poetry Study: Grade 8

How To Teach

Introduce

Tell something about the poet or the kind of poem or fable to prepare students. Remember that poems are like paintings—they not only convey ideas, they create an experience with the sound of words, the way the words are arranged, and the emotions, thoughts, and images they evoke.

Read

Read the poem aloud in order to hear the sounds and meter. Have students read it aloud as well as it is helpful to hear poetry read by different voices. Try to read paying attention to the punctuation as well as the line breaks to get the sense of the poem.

Discuss

Allow students to share any thoughts or connections. What are your impressions of the poem? Talk about anything that stood out to you: the images, ideas, words, phrases, sounds, or even physical look of the poem. What kinds of things is the poem about?

Reread

Read (or have the student read) the poem again.

Connect

Students may choose to add poems to their Commonplace Book or mark them to copy later.

Term 1

WEEK 1 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 1

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ INTRO

This book will help you understand poetic strategies used by poets and other talented and powerful writers to get their point across. Did you know that Abraham Lincoln wrote poetry as a young man and used poetic techniques in his Gettysburg Address? Poetry may not be ignored; it is a primary form of expression in every society we can recall, and from the beginning of culture. It is a universal and irresistible form of human expression.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.5-14

- Read the line on p.7. Notice the metaphor comparing gravity to a field. We are so used to saying "the field of gravity" that we have forgotten how metaphorical that is. Gravity is only similar to a field in limited ways.
- On p.8, the author says, "Poetry is not just expression in words. It is also expressed in sounds. "In an article written by David Crystal for The Guardian, called "The Ugliest Words", he says, "Here's an experiment. You're in a spaceship approaching a planet. You've been told there are two races on it, one beautiful and friendly to humans, the other unfriendly, ugly, and mean-spirited. You also know that one of these groups is called the Lamonians; the other is called the Grataks. Which is which? Most people assume that the Lamonians are the nice guys. It's all a matter of sound symbolism. Words with soft sounds such as 'l,' 'm,' and 'n,' and long vowels or diphthongs, reinforced by a gentle polysyllabic rhythm, are interpreted as 'nicer' than words with hard sounds such as 'g' and 'k,' short vowels, and an abrupt rhythm."
- Have you thought about how sounds affect the ideas communicated in a poem? Can you think of other examples of how certain sounds make you feel a certain way?

→ DIAGRAM

In your notebook, make a Venn diagram comparing science and poetry.

WEEK 2 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 2

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ INTRO

We tend to think that poets get inspiration from something and start writing the first thing that comes to mind, and voila, a poem is made. It is important to remember that poems are planned. Just like an architect plans a building or a composer writes a symphony, a poet uses their mind to assemble components that permit something to be called a poem, including meter, rhyme, vowel sounds, consonant sounds, figures of speech, etc. It is not the undisciplined, spontaneous, and primarily emotional expression it is imagined to be. We will be looking at the sound patterns that make up poetry. What is the pattern? How do we appreciate it visually? Why might we appreciate it aurally (with our ears)?

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.18-20

- Find the different patterns in the poem on p.20 and talk about the rhyme scheme.

★ TEACHER TIP

Use the QR codes on the pages in A World of Poetry if you want to hear the poems read aloud.

Poetry Study: Grade 8

Term 1

→ WRITE

In your notebook, write down the names and definitions of the patterns in bold on p.18-19.

WEEK 3 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 3

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ INTRO

Do you like saying tongue twisters? A famous tongue twister is, "She sells seashells by the seashore". Tongue twisters are fun because most words start with the same sound. We will be learning about that poetic device today.

→ READ & NARRATE

p.22-23

- Go back to the poems on p.22-23 and label the patterns you learned in the previous lesson.

→ WRITE

In your notebook, add alliteration and its meaning to your list of poetic devices.

WEEK 4 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 4

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ READ & NARRATE

p.24-28

→ WRITE

1. In your notebook, add assonance and consonance and their meaning to your list of poetic devices.
2. Write a short poetic passage using alliteration with consonants and consonance as the poetic technique—no rhyme.

WEEK 5 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 5

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook, and "To an Athlete Dying Young" printout

PREP: Print out a copy of this poem.

Article Resource: "To an Athlete Dying Young"

→ READ & NARRATE

p.30-32

→ WRITE

1. In your notebook, add reversal and its meaning to your list of poetic devices.
 2. Read aloud the poem "To an Athlete Dying Young." Label the rhyme scheme and any of the following patterns you notice: end rhyme, internal rhyme, end-stopped, enjambed, alliteration, assonance, consonance, and reversal.
- ∞ Link: To an Athlete Dying Young

WEEK 6 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 6

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ INTRO

What do you notice about the words vroom, buzz, boing, or pitter-patter?

Poetry Study: Grade 8

Click THIS text or scan the QR code for links.

Term 1

These words are examples of onomatopoeia. When these words are used in context, you can almost hear what they describe.

→ READ & NARRATE

p.33

- The word onomatopoeia is unusual, but there is a reason behind it. The word onomatopoeia comes from the combination of two Greek words: onoma, meaning "name," and poiein, meaning "to make," so onomatopoeia means "to make a name (or sound)."

→ LISTEN & DISCUSS

Listen to the poem "The Bells" by Edgar Allan Poe being read aloud and find all the examples of onomatopoeia. What are the 4 different kinds of bells mentioned throughout the poem? What do you think those bells symbolize?

∞ Link: The Bells (The audio link is beneath the poem, and the reading begins at 5:30)

→ WRITE

In your notebook, add onomatopoeia and its meaning to your list of poetic devices. Look at the following list and write down at least one from each category. Can you think of any others? Most words that demonstrate onomatopoeia can be categorized into five groups of sounds:

1. Animal noises (bow-wow, oink, cock-a-doodle-doo)
 2. Collision or explosive sounds (boom, crash, clang)
 3. Musical sounds (toot, clang, pluck)
 4. Movement of water, air, or objects (puff, vroom, rustle)
 5. Human sounds (sneeze, achoo, belch, cough)
- Mark the rhyme scheme in the stanza of the poem on p.33.

WEEK 7 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 7

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.34-35

- Listen to the poem read aloud using the QR code on p.35. Every time he comes to a word with an "l," he says that word, too. This will reveal the powerful use of the "l" to make the lake in the mind. Did you find it easy to make the lake in your mind? Why?

→ WRITE

Do the activity on p.36. Write a short poem about science and the natural world using different techniques.

WEEK 8 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 8

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ INTRO

What are the repeated forms you see in the sand in the desert on p.38-39? Both nature and poetry are filled with repeated forms. We will be learning about meters, which involve repeated forms.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.38-45

- Look at the poem on p.42. Label and discuss the rhyme scheme and any patterns you notice: end rhyme, internal rhyme, end-stopped, enjambed, alliteration, assonance, consonance, reversal.

Term 1

WEEK 9 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 9

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ READ & NARRATE
p.46-48

→ WRITE

1. In your notebook, add the definitions for iambic, trochee, dactyl, and anapest.
2. Return to p.44 and put slashes between the feet to separate them. Look at p.45 to see how the first line should be marked. Remember to separate by syllables and not by words.

WEEK 10 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 10

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS
p.50-53

As you read the poems on p.50 and 51, put the slashes between the feet to separate them.

- Why is the iambic foot so common in English poetry?

→ WRITE

In your notebook, write down the term spondee and its definition.

WEEK 11 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 11

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS
p.54-57

As you read each poem, mark it as noted below. There is one line per poem already done for you. Tell why you marked each poem as you did.

- Put the slashes between the feet to separate them.
- Number the feet in each line.

→ WRITE

In your notebook, add the terms and definitions at the top of p.54.

WEEK 1 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 13

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ READ & NARRATE
p.58-61

→ WRITE

- In your notebook, add caesura and its meaning to your list of poetic devices.
- Optional: Add the terms on p.58.
- Go back to the poem on p.60. Write the rhyme scheme, and find an example of the iambic foot, pyrrhic foot, and trochee.

WEEK 2 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 14

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS
p.62
Read the text and do the activity.

WEEK 3 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 15

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ READ & NARRATE
p.64-67

Complete the first 5 lines on p.67. You will do more in the following lessons.

→ WRITE

Look at the poem "The Galaxy." Mark the patterns that are mentioned at the top of p.64.

WEEK 4 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 16

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ WARM-UP
p.67

Complete lines 6-10.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS
p.70-72

- Look at the dots on the top of p.71. Explain what they mean by the meter of the poem.

→ WRITE

1. In your notebook, add the terms from p.70 and define what they mean.
2. Go back to the poems on p.71. Write the rest of the rhyme scheme, label any patterns you see, and put the slashes between the feet.

WEEK 5 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 17

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook, two different colored pencils, and "She Dwelt Among the Untrodde Ways" printout

PREP: Print out the poem by Wordsworth.

p.67

Complete lines 11-15.

→ RECAP

What do you remember about the ballad stanza?

→ READ & DISCUSS

"She Dwelt Among the Untrodden Ways"

∞ Link: She Dwelt Among the Untrodden Ways

→ WRITE

Look at the printout of the poem. Mark the poem's meter by putting two different colored circles around the stressed and unstressed syllables, like the example on p.72. Write the rhyme scheme, label any patterns you see, and mark the names of the stanzas.

WEEK 6 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 18

📖 Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ WARM-UP

p.67

Complete lines 16-20.

→ RECAP

What do you remember about the ballad stanza?

→ READ

p.73

Read the following limericks by Edward Lear from A Book of Nonsense:

There was an Old Man with a beard,
Who said, 'It is just as I feared!
Two Owls and a Hen,
Four Larks and a Wren,
Have all built their nests in my beard!'

There was an Old Man in a tree,
Who was horribly bored by a Bee;
When they said, 'Does it buzz?'
He replied, 'Yes, it does!'
'It's a regular brute of a Bee!

There was a Young Lady whose eyes,
Were unique as to colour and size;
When she opened them wide,
People all turned aside,
And started away in surprise.

There was an Old Person of Buda,
Whose conduct grew ruder and ruder;
Till at last, with a hammer,
They silenced his clamour,
By smashing that Person of Buda.

There was an Old Man on a hill,
Who seldom, if ever, stood still;
He ran up and down,
In his Grandmother's gown,
Which adorned that Old Man on a hill.

Term 2

→ WRITE

1. In your notebook, add the term limerick and its meaning.
2. Write your limerick.

WEEK 7 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 19

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ RECAP

What do you remember about limericks?

→ READ & NARRATE

p.74-75

→ WRITE

Think of a topic and write a heroic couplet. A heroic couplet is a two-line stanza of iambic pentameter. If you have more time left, write some more.

WEEK 8 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 20

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook, and "Shall I Compare Thee to a Summer's Day?" printout

PREP: Print out the sonnet by Shakespeare.

∞ Link: "Shall I Compare Thee to a Summer's Day?"

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.77-78

Read or listen to the sonnet at least twice to become more familiar with it.

- What is the difference between a Petrarchan sonnet and a Shakespearean sonnet?

→ WRITE

Read the sonnet "Shall I Compare Thee to a Summer's Day?" by Shakespeare aloud. Mark the rhyme scheme.

∞ Link: "Shall I Compare Thee to a Summer's Day?"

WEEK 9 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 21

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ RECAP

What did you read last time about sonnets?

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.79-80

- Make sure you answer the questions in the text about the poem at the bottom of p.79.

→ READ

- Read Emma Lazarus' most famous poem inscribed on the pedestal of the Statue of Liberty:

"The New Colossus"

Not like the brazen giant of Greek fame,
With conquering limbs astride from land to land;
Here at our sea-washed, sunset gates shall stand
A mighty woman with a torch, whose flame
Is the imprisoned lightning, and her name
Mother of Exiles. From her beacon-hand

Glows world-wide welcome; her mild eyes command
The air-bridged harbor that twin cities frame.
"Keep, ancient lands, your storied pomp!" cries she
With silent lips. "Give me your tired, your poor,
Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free,
The wretched refuse of your teeming shore.
Send these, the homeless, tempest-tost to me,
I lift my lamp beside the golden door!"

→ WRITE & VIEW

Look at the poem on p.80. Mark the alliteration in the poem.

WEEK 10 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 22

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ READ & NARRATE

p.81-85

→ WRITE

In your notebook, try writing a haiku about something in nature. Go outside or look out your window to get some inspiration.

WEEK 11 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 23

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ RECAP

What do you remember about haiku?

→ INTRO

Today, we will be reading some poems by Michael Clay Thompson to serve as an example of how you can write your poems about the same topic using different kinds of stanzas. After you read the poems, you will write your own poems about the same topic using two different styles. You can finish it in the afternoons or during exam week.

→ READ & NARRATE

p.86-91

→ WRITE

In your notebook, think of a topic you want to write about. It can be about history, science, or a personal experience. Incorporate numerous techniques such as eye rhyme, internal rhyme, consonance, etc. Look at your notebook to find all the patterns you have learned about. (The back of the book also has poetic elements.) Pick two styles of stanzas from the following options: ballads, sonnets, limericks, rime royal, and haiku.

WEEK 1 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 25

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.94-101

- How much difference does it make to use the word "like" in a poem, which makes it a simile? Is the comparison likely to be stronger or weaker if it is expressed as a simile?
- What is being compared in the epic simile on p.101?

→ WRITE

In your notebook, add simile and metaphor and their meaning.

WEEK 2 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 26

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook, and "The Destruction of Sennacherib" printout

PREP: Print out the poem by Lord Byron

∞ Link: "The Destruction of Sennacherib"

→ INTRO

What is the difference between a simile and a metaphor?

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

Read the poem "The Destruction of Sennacherib" by Lord Byron.

- Mark all the similes you find and discuss their comparison.
- When you think about what these similes mean, does that help you to imagine the scene more vividly?
- Why did Byron say the stars on the sea?
- Why did he not say "the stars in the sky" and then rhyme with the noun sky?
- What difference does this idea make?

→ WRITE

- Go back and read the epic simile on p.101. Write an epic simile about yourself, a friend, or a family member. Then, read it aloud in a dramatic voice!

WEEK 3 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 27

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ READ & NARRATE

p.102-106

→ WRITE

Some metaphors are so common that people use them in everyday speech. Have you heard any of these?

She is an open book.

He is a night owl.

My sister is an early bird.

My house is a zoo.

- In the poem on p.104, William Butler Yeats used an original metaphor in line one, "Love is the crooked thing." In your notebook, write two original metaphors, unlike anything you have heard or read before. Then, explain the comparison to someone.

WEEK 4 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 28

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ READ & NARRATE
p.108-111

→ WRITE

1. In your notebook, add the meaning of personification, apostrophe, and oxymoron.
2. Using Shakespeare's "sweet sorrow" as the model, write two original oxymorons emphasizing originality.

WEEK 5 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 29

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS
p.112

- Talk about what figures of speech you notice in the poem.

→ WRITE

1. You will write a poem that uses multiple figures of speech, such as simile, metaphor, personification, and oxymoron. You can begin today and work on it next week as well.
2. You can pick any topic you would like, but perhaps think about something you are reading about in science.

WEEK 6 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 30

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ WRITE
Continue to work on your poem from last week. You may want to refer to the poem on p.112 as an example.

WEEK 7 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 31

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ READ & NARRATE
p.114

→ WRITE

In your notebook, write an extended metaphor of at least 50 words filled with detail.

WEEK 8 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 32

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook, and "God's Grandeur" printout

PREP: Print out the poem by Gerard Manley Hopkins
∞ Link: "God's Grandeur"

→ INTRO

Have you heard the phrase "poetic license"? It is the freedom to break some of the conventional language rules to be more creative. It is something poets often do, and one of the signs of creative brilliance. We will look at that more today.

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

Term 3

p.114-118

- How do poets use poetic license to break grammar rules? How does that affect their poetry?

→ WRITE

- Read the whole poem, "God's Grandeur". You can also listen to it at the link provided.
 - Look at p.137 of your book for an example of marking the poem. Or devise a way to mark it with different colors or symbols.
 - Mark the rhyme scheme and mark any of the following patterns you find. The elements you have learned can be found on p.138-140.
- ∞ Link: "God's Grandeur"

WEEK 9 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 33

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ READ & NARRATE

p.119-124

→ NOTE

The poem on p.124 uses creative grammar since the entire poem is one sentence. Note the alliteration "mystical moist." The poem has a loose cadence rather than a meter.

→ WRITE

In your notebook, write a short poem. Play with the grammar and add in other elements as you see fit.

WEEK 10 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 34

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook, and "The Bat" printout

PREP: Print out a copy of the poem.

∞ PDF Link: "The Bat" by Emily Dickinson

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.126-133

- The author says that in this book, he wanted to show points where poetry and science touch. What were some of those points?
- What were some of the new ideas that you learned about poetry this year?
- Do you see it any differently than you did before reading this book?
- What are you still wondering about?

→ NOTE

The poem on p.126 plays with words, juxtaposing the formal sound of Latin taxonomy with the informal colloquial language of the sidewalk.

→ WRITE

Look at the poem by Emily Dickinson on p.136. Do not look at the marked-up poem on p.137. Try to label the poem as best you can and then compare yours to the one on p.137. You can also use a copy that we provide if that is easier to mark. Look at the elements of poetry on p.138-140 to find the terms.

WEEK 11 20m Poetry Study: Grade 8 - Lesson 35

Materials: A World of Poetry, notebook

→ INTRO

Do you remember what an apostrophe is? We will read one today by John Keats as we finish the book.

(Addressing someone or something not present as though present)

→ READ, NARRATE, & DISCUSS

p.134-137

Here is the first section of a famous apostrophe by Percy Shelley:

"Ode to the West Wind"

O wild West Wind, thou breath of Autumn's being,
Thou, from whose unseen presence the leaves dead
Are driven, like ghosts from an enchanter fleeing,

Yellow, and black, and pale, and hectic red,
Pestilence-stricken multitudes: O thou,
Who chariotest to their dark wintry bed

The winged seeds, where they lie cold and low,
Each like a corpse within its grave, until Thine azure sister of the Spring shall blow

Her clarion o'er the dreaming earth, and fill (Driving sweet buds like flocks to feed in air)
With living hues and odours plain and hill:

Wild Spirit, which art moving everywhere;
Destroyer and preserver; hear, oh hear!

→ WRITE

Using the example of the poem on p.135, write an apostrophe about something in nature. Famous apostrophes have been about a season, the wind, or even death.

Poetry Study: Grade 8

Examination

Term 1

· A World of Poetry: Explain the different things you can do with sound to make patterns in a poem. Explain some of the terminology you learned this term and give examples.

Term 2

· A World of Poetry:

Look at the poem "Tyger, Tyger" by William Blake. Label the rhyme scheme and any of the following patterns you notice: end rhyme, internal rhyme, end-stopped, enjambed, alliteration, assonance, consonance, and reversal.

Tyger Tyger, burning bright,
In the forests of the night;
What immortal hand or eye,
Could frame thy fearful symmetry?

In what distant deeps or skies.
Burnt the fire of thine eyes?
On what wings dare he aspire?
What the hand, dare seize the fire?

And what shoulder, & what art,
Could twist the sinews of thy heart?
And when thy heart began to beat.
What dread hand? & what dread feet?

What the hammer? what the chain,
In what furnace was thy brain?
What the anvil? what dread grasp.
Dare its deadly terrors clasp?

When the stars threw down their spears
And water'd heaven with their tears:
Did he smile his work to see?
Did he who made the Lamb make thee?

Tyger Tyger burning bright,
In the forests of the night:
What immortal hand or eye,
Dare frame thy fearful symmetry?

Term 3

· A World of Poetry: Share a poem you wrote this term and explain the pattern and figures of speech you used in it.
