About the Course

This course covers a variety of citizenship topics. Students spend the first term learning the art of asking questions as a means of relationship building. The second term focuses on government as students explore the historical documents and decisions from this rotation. The year finishes with a term of economics where students learn a variety of economic theories.

This topic is included in the following course(s): Citizenship: Grade 11 (U.S.)

Placement & Combining Tips

Lessons are occasionally integrated with composition lessons. Government lessons in Term 2 are shared with Grades 9-10, and the economics lessons finish the book begun in Term 3 of Grade 10.

How To Approach

Prepare

If you, the student, are learning at home, work to schedule a time with your teacher when you can complete the lessons from Ourselves or your Ethics reading together, as these lessons are much richer when shared and discussed.

Recap

Connect back to the previous lesson. (Optional for Current Events).

Introduce

For news sources: Scan the headlines first to get an overview, and then choose a story to read.

Read

Read the selection assigned or the news story chosen for the time assigned. For rich, dense, or more challenging books such as Ourselves, it is a good idea to read them aloud. Keep an eye out for quotes to put in your commonplace book or events or characters to put down in your Book of Centuries.

Narrate

Process and integrate your reading by narrating either orally or in writing. Some lesson plans will give you a suggestion of how best to narrate. To keep yourself on track, you might want to set a timer so you stop reading with enough time to narrate.

Connect

After your narration, think about how what you read connects to other subjects, other books, other things you've read or watched, or seen in the past or present. For current events, look up where events occurred on a map and ask questions together to discern the quality of the piece. (e.g., Are there sources cited? Is there an obvious bias? If so, what do other authors have to say on this subject? Are arguments supported by evidence? Is that evidence credible?) Consider reading an alternative perspective.

Citizenship Notebook

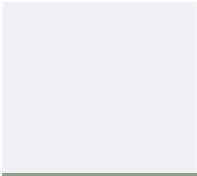

Record important ideas in your Citizenship Notebooks. Make a calendar of current events.

Teacher Note

These lessons are written directly to students, but to assist them throughout the year, please read through this section and the lesson plans so you are familiar with the instructions and flow of the lessons. You may also want to preview and choose which news sites to offer students.

Those educating at home might pick one lesson to read aloud (such as the Ethics readings on Cultural Engagement, Conscience, etc.) with their students to keep up the habit of oral narration and foster conversation and relationship and then simply give students these lesson plans and the rest of the books and check in with them throughout the term for conversation, support, and accountability.

It is valuable for those in a classroom setting to also have a mix of lessons, which students complete themselves silently, and others read aloud and narrated together. Classroom settings lend themselves well to additional discussion and sharing at the end of lessons, after everyone has narrated either together or independently in writing.

Term 1

WEEK 1 40m Econ/Civics: Grade 11 (U.S.) - Lesson 1

Materials: The Art of Asking Better Questions, Journal or Notebook, Bible

→ READ

Intro-Ch.1, p.3-25

→ NARRATE

Take a moment to narrate silently or aloud the main ideas of the reading.

→ REFLECT

Think about the individuals that you interact with daily. Identify someone who asks good questions and ask that person what motivates him or her to ask good questions.

WEEK 2 40m Econ/Civics: Grade 11 (U.S.) - Lesson 2

Materials: The Art of Asking Better Questions, Journal or Notebook, Bible

→ READ

Ch.2, p.26-39

→ NARRATE

Take a moment to narrate silently or aloud the main ideas of the reading.

→ REVIEW & LIST

Review the italicized questions throughout this chapter and list three questions in your journal or notebook that were intriguing to you. Explain why.

WEEK 3 40m Econ/Civics: Grade 11 (U.S.) - Lesson 3

Materials: The Art of Asking Better Questions, Journal or Notebook, Bible

→ READ

Ch.3, p.40-57

→ NARRATE

Take a moment to narrate silently or aloud the main ideas of the reading.

→ LISTEN & TRACK

Divide a piece of paper into four squares. Write one of the four levels of questions in each square. One day this week, listen for the four levels of questions being asked by those around you and track how many times you hear the four levels of questions throughout the day.

WEEK 4 40m Econ/Civics: Grade 11 (U.S.) - Lesson 4

Materials: The Art of Asking Better Questions, Journal or Notebook, Bible

→ READ

Ch.4, p.61-71

→ NARRATE

Take a moment to narrate silently or aloud the main ideas of the reading.

→ INTERVIEW

Identify one adult and one person your age to interview using David

Econ/Civics: Grade 11 (U.S.)

Click THIS text or scan the QR code for links.

Term 1

Brooks' questions listed on p.69. Give yourself plenty of time to interview each person. The goal is to get to know the person better, not simply to get through the questions.

WEEK 5 40m Econ/Civics: Grade 11 (U.S.) - Lesson 5

Materials: The Art of Asking Better Questions, Journal or Notebook, Bible

→ READ

Ch.5-6, p.72-92

→ NARRATE

Take a moment to narrate silently or aloud the main ideas of the reading.

→ WRITE

In your own words, list and explain the six reasons Jesus asked questions.

★ STUDENT/TEACHER NOTE

After you read ch.5-6, look at Review Resource 4: Fascinating Facts About The Questions Jesus Asked on p.181-185.

WEEK 6 40m Econ/Civics: Grade 11 (U.S.) - Lesson 6

Materials: The Art of Asking Better Questions, Journal or Notebook, Bible

→ READ

Ch.7, p.93-101

→ NARRATE

Take a moment to narrate silently or aloud the main ideas of the reading.

→ REFLECT & ASK

Reflect on the questions you have regarding God, the Bible, and faith. Ask the members of your family what questions they have regarding God, the Bible, and faith. Identify the questions that you have in common and, as a family, take steps towards answering those questions.

WEEK 7 40m Econ/Civics: Grade 11 (U.S.) - Lesson 7

Materials: The Art of Asking Better Questions, Journal or Notebook, Bible

→ READ

Ch.8-9, p.105-123

→ NARRATE

Take a moment to narrate silently or aloud the main ideas of the reading.

→ INTERVIEW

Identify a person who is responsible for leading people and schedule a time to interview that person. Identify questions from Ch. 8-9 (especially from p.111 & 116) to ask during the interview. Reflect on your own leadership influence and ask yourself the questions on p.111 & 116. If time permits, interview several leaders and compare their responses.

WEEK 8 40m Econ/Civics: Grade 11 (U.S.) - Lesson 8

Materials: The Art of Asking Better Questions, Journal or Notebook, Bible

→ READ

Ch.10, p.126-137

→ NARRATE

Take a moment to narrate silently or aloud the main ideas of the reading.

Term 1

→ PLAN & IMPLEMENT

Designate a journal to be your Questions Journal. Reflect on the nine practices from Ch.9 and organize the journal accordingly. Do not be tempted to rush this assignment. The more time you spend creating a Questions Journal, the greater the likelihood you will see a transformation in how you ask questions.

WEEK 9 40m Econ/Civics: Grade 11 (U.S.) - Lesson 9

Materials: The Art of Asking Better Questions, Journal or Notebook, Bible

→ READ

Ch.11, p.138-150

→ NARRATE

Take a moment to narrate silently or aloud the main ideas of the reading.

→ PRACTICE

Identify a family member or friend to participate in a question-asking exercise with you. On p.147, read #6 "Hold a questions-only conversation with others." Once you both understand the exercise, initiate the conversation and see how long the discussion lasts. Keep practicing until the exercise becomes more natural.

WEEK 10 40m Econ/Civics: Grade 11 (U.S.) - Lesson 10

Materials: The Art of Asking Better Questions, Journal or Notebook, Bible

→ READ

Ch.12-Conclusion, p.151-160

→ NARRATE

Take a moment to narrate silently or aloud the main ideas of the reading.

→ RECEIVE FEEDBACK

Identify two people that you interact with consistently and ask them to provide feedback on how you ask questions. Use the questions on p.152-153 to guide the conversation. The purpose of this exercise is to develop the skill of asking better questions. Do not be offended by the feedback you receive. Embrace the feedback and develop action steps that will help you further develop the ability to ask great questions.

WEEK 11 40m Econ/Civics: Grade 11 (U.S.) - Lesson 11

Materials: The Art of Asking Better Questions, Journal or Notebook, Bible

→ READ

Resource 2: Questions To Ask Ourselves, p.171-173

→ NARRATE

Take a moment to narrate silently or aloud the main ideas of the reading.

→ REFLECT & REVIEW

Review the Self-Reflection Questions on p.171-173. Which questions are the most difficult to answer? What changes do you want to make in light of these questions?

WEEK 1 40m Econ/Civics: Grade 11 (U.S.) - Lesson 13

A Young Nation: American Government from 1800 to 1900

Materials: Reading PDF Part 1

→ INTRO

Welcome back to American Government! Last year, you learned about the formation of the American Government and the reasoning behind why the Constitution and Bill of Rights were drafted and negotiated as they were. This year, we move forward to the period from 1800 to 1900 and study the way in which the new government began to take action and shape the first hundred years of our country's history.

→ READ

∞ Link: Reading PDF Part 1

Week 1

With any time that you have remaining, read your summary statements and skim any written narrations from the last two years of American Government. Your summary statements should cover the time periods from Rotation 1 (800 CE - 1650 CE) and Rotation 2 (1650 CE - 1800 CE).

→ REFLECT

Talk about the summary statements you have reviewed with your teacher or classmates. What did you remember? What had you forgotten? Did anything come to mind as you were reviewing that you had not thought about before?

★ TEACHER NOTE

One week is built in at the end of this term for "catch-up" reading, in case you miss a week or a reading takes you longer than your allotted time to complete. Please do not skip ahead if you have not completed the lesson from the week before – work through the weeks chronologically and use the catch-up week (Week 11) as necessary.

Optional Activity: Guide students in creating a bulleted list of keywords that they noticed while reading their summary statements or during their discussion. Keywords can be words that were repeated frequently, or that stood out to the student for any particular reason (there is no "right" set of keywords). This activity is optional because it requires students to exercise a higher-level analysis and might not be a useful reflective tool for all students.

WEEK 2 40m Econ/Civics: Grade 11 (U.S.) - Lesson 14

Western Expansion and the Missouri Compromise (1820)

Materials: Reading PDF Part 1

→ INTRO

The United States nearly doubled in size following the purchase of the Louisiana Territory from France. As new states began to petition Congress for entry to the country, the issue of slavery began to divide the nation. In 1820, Congress passed the Missouri Compromise, defining geographical boundaries that would determine whether slavery would be legal in new states. The Compromise would be followed by a series of legislative acts that together attempted to bind the new country together in the face of rapid land expansion and deep divides over slavery.

Term 2

Mexican-American War reignited the question of whether new states formed from this territory would be admitted as slave states or free states. To maintain a tentative balance of slave to free states across the nation, Congress passed the Compromise of 1850 after efforts to ban slavery entirely from the new territory failed.

WEEK 4 40m Econ/Civics: Grade 11 (U.S.) - Lesson 16

Western Expansion and the Kansas-Nebraska Act

📄 Materials: Reading PDF Part 1

→ INTRO

The Kansas-Nebraska Act of 1854 repealed the Missouri Compromise in its entirety and allowed the new territories of Kansas and Nebraska to decide the question of whether slavery would be allowed in the territories by popular sovereignty – by a vote of the people of the territories. Violence stemming from pro-slavery and abolitionist clashes in Kansas and in Washington, D.C., earned the nickname “Bleeding Kansas” and foreshadowed the start of the Civil War.

∞ Link: Reading PDF Part 1
Week 4

→ REFLECT

Consider the three major pieces of Congressional legislation that you have studied over the last three weeks: the Missouri Compromise, the Compromise of 1850, and the Kansas-Nebraska Act. Why do you think that Representatives and Senators in Congress increasingly decided to turn the slavery question over to popular vote? What benefits are there to a popular vote? What drawbacks or dangers might there be to a popular vote?

- Write a summary statement or short narration explaining your thoughts in response to these questions.

WEEK 5 40m Econ/Civics: Grade 11 (U.S.) - Lesson 17

Treaties and the Removal of Tribal Nations (Part I)

📄 Materials: Reading PDF Part 1

→ INTRO

Treaties are a tool that the Constitution allows the President to use in order to make formal agreements between the United States and another nation. Over the first four decades of the 19th century, the United States began to engage in treaty-making with American Indian Tribes, located in what are now the southern states of Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, and Mississippi, with the goal of removing these Tribes from the south and relocating them west of the Mississippi River.

Treaties and the Removal of Tribal Nations (Part II)

Materials: Reading PDF Part 1

→ INTRO

With the Indian Removal Act of 1830, Congress indicated its support for the removal of tribes, specifically authorizing then-President Andrew Jackson to use treaties to effect land exchanges, trading land west of the Mississippi to tribes in exchange for tribal land in the south. But was the Indian Removal Act constitutional, and were the treaties themselves enforceable? We will explore the Act and its impact further in this week's reading.

Tribal Nations before the Supreme Court

Materials: Reading PDF Part 2

→ INTRO

While President Jackson and Congress worked to remove Tribes from the South by means of treaties and federal legislation, the Cherokee Nation sought to enforce its treaty rights before the Supreme Court. Over the course of two decisions within the span of the same number of years, the Supreme Court set precedent that would define the rights and status of Tribes into the modern day, and by extension, undermined the integrity of the federal government's treaty-making with these Tribes. The Indian Appropriations Act, passed in 1871 by Congress, would end treaty-making with Tribes altogether.

Congress & Southern Secession

Materials: Reading PDF Part 2

→ INTRO

On December 20, 1860, South Carolina seceded from the United States. Over the next seven months, ten more states would follow suit. Four of these states drafted formal Declarations of Causes that set forth their justifications for secession. This week, we will explore these Declarations in more detail and consider the impact that Southern secession had on the federal Congress and the states left behind.

WEEK 9 40m Econ/Civics: Grade 11 (U.S.) - Lesson 21

Congress & the Reconstruction Acts

📄 Materials: Reading PDF Part 2

→ INTRO

Following the end of the Civil War and preliminary reconstruction efforts by President Johnson, Congress exerted control over the Reconstruction project by passing a series of acts now known as the Reconstruction Acts. These Acts, passed over a presidential veto by Johnson, established military control in southern states that had seceded and established strict standards for readmission to the Union.

"Defective from the Start": The Constitution, Slavery, & the Civil War Amendments

📄 Materials: Reading PDF Part 2

→ INTRO

In addition to taking control of Reconstruction following the close of the Civil War, Congress also proposed three amendments to the Constitution. These amendments, now known as the Civil War Amendments, banned slavery and established a series of protections and rights that are now foundational to how we think about citizenship in the United States. It would be five years before these amendments were fully ratified by the states, and it would be nearly a hundred more years until the Civil Rights Movement would take up the vision for justice and equality that these amendments had begun to advance.

→ NARRATE

Take a moment to narrate silently or aloud the main ideas of the reading.

→ DISCUSS AND/ OR WRITE

- Discuss the charts on p.101 as they relate to immigration and supply and demand for labor.

→ INTRO

Entrepreneurship is essential to the economy. Two twentieth-century economists, Joseph Schumpeter and Israel Kirzner, contribute more to the conversation. In Chapter 2, you read how Kirzner suggests that entrepreneurs (and consumers) find ways around problems (p.55), and Schumpeter talks about creative destruction (p.158) - more on that in the finance section. Innovation brings about change, and entrepreneurs are change agents.

In the non-profit sector, innovation is about supporting a mission-driven vision that provides a product or service to supply a need. Think about this in the context of social needs or religious ministry; the organizations that support these areas can be for-profit or non-profit. Non-profit organizations also have business structures. Since the lesson discusses the idea of being employed by a business vs. setting up your own business, now is a good time to take a quick look at what that might mean for an entrepreneur in the ministry sector. Let's take a look at basic
