About the Course

This course includes the following topic(s): Old Testament: Grades 7-12, New Testament: Grades 7-8, Church History: Grades 7-9, Spiritual Formation: Grades 7-8

About Old Testament: Grades 7-12

From 7th grade through high school, students read through the OT chronologically. For 2026-2027 they read 2 Samuel-I Kings, 1 & 2 Chronicles, Psalms and Proverbs (selections) and Ecclesiastes. 12th grade will also read Song of Solomon. With the aid of study Bible notes and selections from study helps such as the Old Testament Today or The Bible Project, this course allows students to meditate on Scripture and engage with the historical and cultural context of the Bible when it was written, as well as the way the OT continues to be relevant as God's word today.

About New Testament: Grades 7-8

Students read through the book of Acts over the year. Additional study helps assigned in the lesson plans provide background information and context to help students begin to dive deeper into the life, ministry, and message of the early church.

About Church History: Grades 7-9

Students read about important events and influential people from Church History using biographies and narrative-driven overviews of the time period. In this course, students delve into the 19th century and learn the stories of a variety of Christians.

About Spiritual Formation: Grades 7-8

Spiritual formation courses help students think more deeply about various topics in the Christian life such as prayer, studying the Bible, and other spiritual disciplines.

Placement & Combining Tips

Old Testament: Grades 7-12

Students in Grades 7-12 read the same passages of Scripture, but the lesson plans include a variety of discussion questions and extra study helps differentiated by grade to help students engage at various depths. This makes these lessons flexible for individual students and/or a multi-age context. Younger students in Grades 5-6 can be combined with older students if they have a good general understanding of the narratives and overarching story of the OT.

New Testament: Grades 7-8

Younger students in Grades 5-6 can be combined with older students if they have a good general understanding of the gospels. Ideal for HS students who are new to studying the Bible or unused to commentaries or discussions about cultural context or interpretive issues.

Church History: Grades 7-9

Can be combined with Grades 5-6.

Spiritual Formation: Grades 7-8

Also appropriate for HS students.

How To Teach

Prepare

Read the commentary to prepare.

Recap

Connect back to the previous lesson. Ask students to give a summary of what they remember. (Full narration is not necessary.)

Introduce

Use a picture, a map, or an engaging question to prepare students to receive the story. You may talk about one or two unfamiliar words that will be crucial to understanding.

Read

Read aloud from the Bible.

Narrate

Have the students narrate.

Share

Optional: Share something interesting from your preparation that will help shed light on the story.

Discuss

Give students an opportunity to share their thoughts on the story and any connections made.

Term 1

WEEK 1 30m Old Testament: Grades 7-12 - Lesson 1

Materials: Old Testament Today, notebook

→ INTRO (FOR GRADES 7-12)

This year you will be reading 2 Samuel, 1 Kings, 1 & 2 Chronicles, selections of Psalms, Proverbs and Ecclesiastes. You will be reading the passages chronologically or in the order of the events. "The goal of studying the Bible chronologically is not to replace the time-honored canonical arrangement, but instead to honor time as a setting in which the biblical record appeared. Readers who study the Bible this way will return to their traditional Bibles better equipped to read them. Acquiring a sense of the flow of the Bible's story will put flesh and blood on its message" (from Chronological Guide to the Bible).

1. Your ESV Concise Study Bible (Grades 7-8) or Cultural Backgrounds Study Bible (Grade 9-12) will have maps, articles, and notes to help you along the way. If you have a question about a specific verse, see if there is a note about that verse below the text.
2. Use your Student Bible Atlas or atlas in your Bible to locate places as needed.
3. We will also utilize Old Testament Today and the Bible Project website as a handbook for helping us understand the background information we need in order to be informed readers.

→ VIEW

1. Throughout the year, you will watch short videos of Dr. John Walton, the co-author of OT Today. The videos were created specifically for Alveary students. We hope they help you understand the Bible better.
 2. You will be reading selections from the Psalms throughout the year. Watch this video to learn more about the Psalms.
- ∞ Video Link: Psalms

→ READ, NARRATE & RESPOND

The psalms are difficult to tie to a specific historical context. They are the worship songs of Israel and are intended to apply to the needs of all worshippers across time. Some psalms do have historical superscriptions that make it possible to associate them with specific events, but these make up only about 10% of all the psalms. Another criterion is to place the psalms ascribed to David (or Solomon or Moses) during the life of that person. A second criterion is to place psalms according to their type (from Chronological Guide to the Bible)> Psalms 79-82

Intro to Acts

Materials: ESV Concise Study Bible, Introducing the New Testament, Notebook
 Materials: Introducing the New Testament
 Materials: ESV Concise Study Bible

Note: Introducing the New Testament is a resource book that will be used over 5 years. As students get older, they will read more sections and interact with some of the more scholarly questions about the New Testament. Only small sections will be read this year, but feel free to read more.

→ INTRO

1. The book of Acts is actually "part two" of the Gospel of Luke, but it has been put in its own section in the New Testament (following the four Gospels) because it is the only book that relates the history of the early church—what happened after the events reported in the Gospels.
2. Watch this short video about Acts with the author of the book,

Term 1

Introducing the New Testament.

∞ Video Link: Acts

→ READ & NARRATE

1. p.205-206 "The book of" - "Lord Jesus Christ."
2. In the video, the author asked you to pay attention to the key motifs that are outlined in the book of Acts. A motif is a dominant idea or central theme. Read about a couple of the motifs or major themes in Acts: p.216-220 "The book of" - "is worth remembering."

3. Although Luke is the author of two books in the New Testament, he is only mentioned three times in the Bible by name. Read the following verses to meet the author of the book of Acts: Col. 4:14; 2 Timothy 4:11; Philemon 24; Luke 1:1-4; Acts 1:1-5; Luke 24:36-53

→ NOTEBOOK

You read about five of the major themes in Acts. Write down each theme on the top line of 5 different pages in your notebook. Then write a brief sentence of what that theme means. As you read through Acts this year, you will add the events that fall under the different themes.

William Wilberforce

📖 Materials: Renewal: The Church that Expands Outward

→ INTRO

1. This year, we are learning about people who lived during the 19th century (1800-1900). We will read how these Christians lived out Jesus' commands. When Jesus was asked what the greatest command was, he replied, "You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind. This is the great and first commandment. And a second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself." (Matthew 22:37-39)
2. Today, you will read about an Englishman named William Wilberforce (1759-1833) who was a member of Parliament, the lawmaking group in the government of Great Britain. Parliament consisted of two houses: the House of Lords and the House of Commons. The English had been part of the slave trade since 1662. In 1770, out of a total of one hundred thousand slaves a year from West Africa, British ships transported more than half. English considered the slave trade inseparably linked with the commerce and national security of Great Britain.

WEEK 1 30m Spiritual Formation: Grades 7-8 - Lesson 1

Materials: Transformed By Truth, notebook

→ INTRO

How would you answer someone who asks why you study the Bible? As the title indicates, the first half of Transformed by Truth will focus on the why of studying the Bible, while the second half will move into the how of Bible study. As we move through the book's second half, we will apply the lessons to a chapter from your reading in the book of Acts.

Acts 2 is considered the church's birthday. Luke shows how the Holy Spirit came upon all the believers there, and how they began speaking in other languages. This may bring to your mind the story from Genesis of the Tower of Babel. However, "[a]t the Tower of Babel, nobody could understand the languages and it drove people apart. At Pentecost, the languages could be understood and it brought people together into a unity that helped start the Church" (Bible Story Handbook).

Materials: Transformed By Truth, notebook

→ RECAP

What did you read about last time?

→ INTRO

Part of Bible study starts with basic questions, such as, "What does the Bible say about this matter?" Rather than taking an author's opinion or statement as truth when claiming the Bible supports it, verifying and reading what the Bible says on the subject is important. As you read through Transformed by Truth, look up the Scripture references that are included as time allows. Today, those verses are assigned as part of the reading.

"Robert Moffat is sometimes regarded as the patriarch of South African missions, a man who had a significant influence in that region for more than half a century. Yet even during his own lifetime, he was overshadowed by his famous son-in-law, often being referred to as 'the father-in-law of David Livingstone.' Moffat, nevertheless, was the far greater missionary of the two. He was an evangelist, a translator, an educator, a diplomat, and an explorer, and he effectively combined those roles to become one of the truly great missionaries to Africa." Hudson Taylor

→ INTRO

"Hudson Taylor was born in Yorkshire, England, in 1832. His father was a pharmacist as well as a Methodist lay preacher who instilled in his son a passion for missions. Before he had reached his fifth birthday, the child was telling visitors that he wanted to some day be a missionary, and China (through the influence of his father) was the land that intrigued him the most." "His sights were set on reaching the whole of China, all 400 million people, and to that end he labored, though not single-handedly. He had a knack for organization, and he possessed a magnetic personality that drew men and women to him and to his point of view. The China Inland Mission was his creation and was a model for future faith missions. In his own lifetime the missionary force under him grew to more than eight hundred, and in the decades following his death it continued to expand." (Ruth Tucker, From Jerusalem to Irian Jaya)

This excerpt tells about the first time Hudson Taylor changed his appearance to fit into the Chinese culture. It comes from the biography J. Hudson Taylor: God's Man in China by his son and daughter-in-law. The excerpt will mention his queue, which is a braid of hair usually worn hanging at the back of the head. It begins in the middle of a chapter when Hudson is traveling with a fellow missionary Dr. Parker, and they are looking for a place to set up a mission base. Dr. Parker gets called to minister and work at a hospital in another village, but Hudson is left alone to figure out where to go next and to find a place to rent.

- Hudson Taylor mirrored the method and motive of the Apostle Paul, who testified in 1 Corinthians 9:20: "To the Jews I became like a Jew, to win the Jews. To those under the law I became like one under the law (though I myself am not under the law), so as to win those under the law..." What do you think about his method of dressing and looking like a Chinese person in order to reach them for the gospel? What would be the benefits, and what might be some objections?

Stephen is charged with blasphemy for speaking "against the law and the temple, both of which had attained a sacred status in Judaism. To speak disrespectfully about them was considered criminal. To suggest that the temple and the law were inadequate or would pass away was heresy. It was taken as strongly as someone today undermining democracy, freedom, or human rights...Stephen's speech showed his respect for...the law, the Tabernacle, and the temple...It was important for Luke to show that Stephen was executed based on false (unsubstantiated) accusations and his association with Jesus" (Bible Story Handbook). While the reports of the church's growth are tremendously encouraging, the story of Stephen's martyrdom showed the persecution the Christians faced and the anger with which the leadership viewed these new believers.

Saul is brought back into the picture in chapter 9, with the story of his conversion. To the Jewish leaders, "the claim that Jesus is God was a major heresy and a threat to Judaism and had to be eliminated" (Bible Story Handbook). This is exactly what Saul's mission is at the opening of chapter 9. He wanted to persecute and eliminate the people of "The Way." Christians are called this a few times in the New Testament. As the author has discussed, part of studying the Bible is understanding the "Big Story" of the Bible and its metanarrative. What does it mean for the Bible to be read as literature? Instead of God giving us a bullet-point list of attributes about who he is and what he is like, he shows us his character through the stories of how he interacted with people. Just as fictional stories use different elements such as characters, setting, plot, climax, and resolution to tell a good story, the Bible uses the same elements to tell the true stories of God's people. When we understand these elements better, we can understand the Bible better. "A book needs to be read in keeping with its author's intention. We can see from the Bible itself that it is a thoroughly literary book. God superintended its authors to write a very (though not wholly) literary book. Paying adequate attention to the literary qualities of the Bible not only helps to unlock the meanings of the Bible; it is also a way of honoring the literary intentions of its authors. Surely, biblical authors regarded everything they put into their writing as important. We also need to regard those things as important." (How Bible Stories Work, p.10) This quote is from Leland Ryken, a retired professor and author. Today's reading is an article Ryken wrote about reading the Bible as literature.

News that Gentiles had also received the word of God and the Holy Spirit spread fast from Caesarea to Jerusalem. It is important to recognize that Jews familiar with their own Scriptures were not put off with the fact that the gospel was proclaimed to the Gentiles or that they shared in the promises of God...The issue that the "circumcised" believers had with Peter's encounter with the "uncircumcised" is not that they received the word of God from Peter, but the circumstances of the reception. The concern they had was that Peter went into a Gentile home and ate with them; the issue is one of purity. Of course, this was the identical problem Peter had himself before going to Cornelius's home (Dean Pinter, The Story of God Bible Commentary). The "circumcised" (a sign of the covenant) refers to the Jews, and the "uncircumcised" refers to the Gentiles.

This week in Spiritual Formation, you will begin an in-depth study of chapter 17 of Acts, which will accompany your reading in Transformed by Truth. As we continue to read Acts, we will gain a larger context for the book and the early church's growth, which helps when studying a specific verse or even a single word.

The focus switches from Peter to the Apostle Paul. It continues to follow the pattern of the key verse, Acts 1:8, as Paul and Barnabas begin a missionary journey that would take them approximately 1,400 miles between AD 46-48 (Bible Story Handbook). Having seen Barnabas' name a few times already in Acts, why do you think he would be a good choice as a missionary?

In today's lesson, we will apply the information from chapter 8 of Transformed by Truth to our study in Acts.

→ READ

Using at least two different resources, look up and read an introduction to Acts to find information about the Historical, Biblical, and Cultural context of Acts. The Ultimate Bible Atlas, The Chronological Guide to the Bible, and the ESV Concise Study Bible you use in your Bible reading all contain contextual background information. Alternatively, you could use an online site such as Bible Project or Blue Letter Bible, or ask a parent what Bible commentaries or Bible dictionaries they may have that could be used.

"After Peter declared the universal lordship of Jesus to Cornelius and his household, Luke describes how the early church in Antioch got on with this mission to "the world" by sending out Paul and Barnabas. By all accounts, this first mission journey to the Gentile world was a success. Yet its very success brought the early church to a crossroads. Today, you will read about the Jerusalem Council, which was a crucial moment in the story of the early church. The stakes were high. The decision the early church would make here would shape who they would be (identity) and how they would be together (unity). In this council, the leadership of the early church would deal with the question: What is to be the basis of the inclusion of Gentiles in the newly constituted people of God?" (The Story of the Bible Commentary).

Spurgeon placed importance on prayer and on the people who were attending his church. Their conversion was a deep desire of his heart. Paul continues to be helped in his ministry by acquaintances he meets. In Acts 18, Aquila and Priscilla help encourage Paul and minister alongside him, and later in the chapter, they kindly teach Apollos. The flow of the book of Acts shows the growth of the early church and shows how these individuals (people like Lydia, Aquila, Priscilla, Luke, etc.) were used by God to help build the church. Interestingly, Gallio mentioned here is the brother of Seneca, a (still to this day) famous Stoic philosopher. (Remember Paul's message in chapter 17 specifically included Stoicism when he preached against the Greeks and their philosophy.) Paul's third missionary journey begins in Acts 18:22 (some lists may say verse 23).

What do you recall about your reading about Spurgeon from last time?

→ INTRO

In today's reading, Spurgeon's library of 12,000 books is mentioned. Spurgeon felt it was imperative that those who were teaching the Bible be learned and readers of books. In fact, he gave two pieces of advice about books to students: 1. Buy a few, high-quality books; 2. "Master those books you have." "Read them thoroughly," he wrote. "Bathe in them until they saturate you. Read and re-read them, masticate them, and digest them. Let them go into your very self. Peruse a good book several times, and make notes and analyses of it. A student will find that his mental constitution is more affected by one book thoroughly mastered than by twenty books which he has merely skimmed, lapping at them, as the classic proverb puts it 'As the dogs drink of Nilus.'"

He is also quoted as having said, "Visit many good books, but live in the Bible." As time allows, view the extra helping link to see a tour of a library that now holds half of his collection of books, including a commentary on Psalms from 1476.

What did you read last time about the Book of Acts?

→ INTRO

Do you think of circumstances as being things that are against you—something that God cannot control? Have you ever found yourself thinking, "If the circumstances of my life were different, perhaps then I could have been somebody or could have done something great for God or could have triumphed in the particular difficulty in which I am now"? Do not think that way. Circumstances do not limit God. Circumstances are not independent of God. God creates circumstances. God is the master of circumstances (Acts: An Expository Commentary). In this chapter, we will see how God uses an interesting circumstance to save Paul from being murdered.

What do you recall about your reading about Spurgeon from last time?

→ INTRO

There are two parts to your reading today. First, read the assigned pages in the biography of Spurgeon that discuss a controversy that came up. There was a movement called Higher Criticism that moved through churches in the mid-1800s. This movement caused people to have a lower view of the Bible, which Spurgeon was highly motivated to argue against. After reading the pages in the book, read the linked sermon that Spurgeon spoke during this time. You may split the sermon reading between this week and next week to fit the time allotted.

→ INTRO

This is the story of Pandita Ramabai who was born in India in 1858. She tells the story of her childhood, her hardships, and coming to faith in Christ. She also translated the Bible into Marathi so the uneducated women of lower castes could read the Bible. She has a remarkable story of how the light of the gospel found her in the darkest places.

→ BACKGROUND

India's caste system divides Hindus into four main categories—Brahmins, Kshatriyas, Vaishyas, and the Shudras. Many believe that the groups originated from Brahma, the Hindu God of creation. At the top of the hierarchy were the Brahmins, who were mainly teachers and intellectuals and believed to have come from Brahma's head. Then came the Kshatriyas, or the warriors and rulers, supposedly from his arms. The third slot went to the Vaishyas, or the traders, who were created from his thighs. At the bottom of the heap were the Shudras, who came from Brahma's feet and did all the menial jobs. The main castes were further divided into about 3,000 castes and 25,000 sub-castes, each based on their specific occupation. Outside of this Hindu caste system were the achhoots—the Dalits or the untouchables. (from bbc.com) Pandita's family was part of the Shudra caste—the one at the bottom that did the menial jobs.

→ BACKGROUND

The doctrine of karma is the backbone of the religious and social system of Hinduism. Karma says that whatever someone has—whether physical appearance, financial status, personality, health, or sorrow—is a result of his past life. One goes through the cycle of reincarnation based on his dharma in a previous life. If someone gives himself to vice and moral degeneration, he will not be destroyed or cease to exist. Rather, he will continue in the cycle of reincarnation—as long as necessary—until his soul reaches nirvana and he becomes one with the Ultimate Reality. If someone lives a life of bad dharma, he will be reborn in a lower caste or as a lower life form in the next cycle. (from Ligonier Ministries)

→ BACKGROUND

During the Vedic Period of northern India, the cow was a symbol of wealth and prosperity, as well as one of the animals offered in ritual religious sacrifices. But over time, possibly through the influence of Buddhism and Jainism, animal sacrifices waned, and the cow emerged as a sacred symbol to Hindus. The five products of the cow—milk, curds, butter, urine, and dung—are used in purifying and healing rituals. One popular Hindu god, Krishna, spent his early life as a cowherd, further elevating the status of the cow. In some states of India, there are bans and strict regulations concerning the slaughter of cows and the eating of beef. Many rules concerning food govern a Hindu's life—when to eat, what to eat, and who can prepare food for whom. The preparation and consumption of food are central to a Hindu's notion of ritual purity and, ultimately, their liberation from rebirth. Not all Hindus are vegetarians, but vegetarianism is seen as an indicator of purity. Many high-caste Hindus are vegetarians. (from International Mission Board)
